SANDY. W. A. Proctor, while coming from Boring with a load of sawmill material, tried to cross a cable of the donkey engine being moved by Jonsrud Bros. from Boring to their sawmill site, and had his team upset by the engineer putting the power on the wire, throwing one of the horses and almost upsetting his wagon. Mr. Proctor then started to have an explanation from the engineer for his conduct. Just then the side hold of the cable broke and the immense power and weight of the big cable struck him just below his hips and threw him through the air 40 feet against a fence knocking him senseless. A doctor was called and Proctor was taken home, where he regained consciousness. He is in a critical condition. A drummer and his wife, of Portland, while passing Jonsrud Bros' field near the road, had a misfortune to have their horse become frightened and started to run away, when the woman jumped from the buggy and broke her leg. Sandy will soon have a drug store and also a doctor. The drug store will be a first class store, and will open up in the McElroy building. Sandy citizens are seriously considering incorporating the town, which would be a step in the right direction. H. Miller, the carpenter, is very busy with carpenter work. He is building the Allison residence, also putting in the store fixtures in the I. O. O. F. building. Work is progressing rapidly on the big new mill of Strauss Lumber Co., which will start sawing in a week. Many home seekers are coming out to Sandy, showing Sandy is in the public eye. S. H. Parrott is making preparations to build a new blacksmith shop. Fishermen—thicker than the flies around honey—are out every Saturday to fish and fish, but many only have a fisherman's luck. Autos and motor cycles are getting so plentiful out from Portland that the country citizens must soon take steps to regulate recklessness and speed to protect life and property. Ed. F. Bruns lectured to a large and interesting audience at Kelso hall on his travels through Europe. DODGE. Miss Mabel Francis' school in Dodge will close Friday, May 7. Every body is satisfied with her school. We hope to get her for our next term. There were two land buyers in Dodge Saturday. They were railroad men looking for a farm, as they were young and intend to quit work on the train, one a freeman. Mrs. Francis of Oregon City, was a visitor at Dodge this week. She came out to see her daughter, Miss Mabel Francis, who is teaching the Dodge school. James Park and Bert Park are cutting wood for J. Reed, of Springwater. Roy Boley has moved down to their saw mill so as to be close to their work. John Scott, of Elwood, was in Dodge one day last week, driving out some of his cattle, and drove out some of his neighbor's stock there by cause.

STAFFORD.

Farmers are beginning to cry for rain, but such people should remember there was never a lack of anything in Oregon, and rain is sure to come. County Superintendent Gary visited the school one day last week. Miss Grace, who has consented to teach another month, will take in the 5th grade. William Schatz had a raising Saturday. He is building a barn about 46x50 with all the modern improvements. He has quite a herd of cows and carries on dairying with improved methods, and sends his cream to Portland. He is also supervisor of roads. People are hustling to get in their gardens this fine weather. Mr. Powell was taken to Portland last Friday to consult another doctor, who decided he was suffering from strychnine poisoning, but had hopes of saving the hand if the disease yielded to treatment. He was taken three weeks ago with a pain in his left thumb which soon extended to the hand and forearm, and he has suffered severe pain with it, and it did not seem to get any better, and was swollen like inflammatory rheumatism. All hope he will soon be restored to health. It is proposed to meet at the two cemeteries on Saturday before Decoration day, as the 30th falls on Sunday this year, and bring our dimes and work from 10 till 4, and try to clean up the grounds a little. Bring scythes, hoes, shovels and axes and take an interest in the whole plot, and try to bring order out of chaos. Both yards need it badly. Mr. Waehle is still confined to his bed and room. Dr. Vincent was called by telephone to see him on Saturday. His son Fred, was home last week to see him, also Miss Clara, his daughter. Mrs. Mays scalded her arm quite severely Saturday. Mr. Aerni is getting more for eggs, and less for butter these days. He goes to Portland every Wednesday with a load of produce, and his own and neighbors' butter and eggs.

SUNNYSIDE AND ROCK CREEK.

We are still enjoying fine weather, but it might rain in a week or so. Adolph Stoll sold his buggy horse last week and got one for his wife to drive. Miss Emma Stoll was visiting at Rock Creek Saturday and Sunday. Roy Johnson's chickens and ducks are doing fine. He has nearly 450 all together. Mrs. Adolph Stoll, Mrs. P. A. Hunter and Mrs. E. L. Hunter, spent a day in Portland buying new hats last week. Mrs. Osterback and Mrs. George Johnson called on Mrs. J. E. Deardorf Tuesday. Frank Stoll is having quite a time with his goats. One kid got lost and he took it to his sister-in-law, who feeds it on the bottle. Poor little kid. It does lots of crying sometimes. Dick Hunter has a new dog. A Osterback was doing some clearing Monday for a potato patch. J. E. Deardorf's brother from Salem, spent a few days with him recently. Mr. and Mrs. Edd Ott had company from Portland last Saturday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Steinmetz and some of their friends. All had a very pleasant time. Charles Hunter's sister, husband and family from Pennsylvania, are visiting at Mr. Hunter's. They intend to settle in this part of the country. Mr. Peterson is again visiting at Soderberg's. Miss Lizzie Koch, daughter of Mrs. Koch, of Sunnyside, who has been suffering with consumption, died Wednesday morning.
