TAFT AND THE ORGANIZATION.

Disappointment because of the failure of the Republican leaders in the Senate to make such reductions in the duties as many believed the party was pledged to and which the con-sumers rightly expected, has led to some severe critism of President Taft because he has not undertaken by the exertion of Executive influence to disrupt the party organization and overthrow the Aldrich regime. While sharing sincerely in the disappointment over the failure of Congress more completely to revise the tariff we cannot share in the critism of the of the situation which has confronted Mr. Taft will, we believe, convince reasonable men that under trying circumstances his course has been the wisest that he could have adopted in the interest of the party, the consumer, and the prosperity of the country. HEYLMAN TICKET MEETS WITH DECISIVE DEFEAT AT ESTACADA TUESDAY.

New Administration Will Handle The Reins of Troubled Town During the Ensuing Two Years,

Reed is in, Heylman is out. This is the result of the biennial municipal election that was held Tuesday at Estacada.

The whole Reed ticket was elected. Heylman receiving 18 votes and Reed Only 64 votes were cast and four of these are doubtful. The reason for the light vote is the action of the judges of election in declining to permit voters to cast their ballot unless they had paid a poll tax. Challenges were frequent and added spice to the hard fought battle. Sheriff Beatle and special deputy, W. S. Eddy, were on the ground prepared for any trouble that might ensue, and they were kept busy. It is charged that the polltax collector was a Heylman man and collected the tax from all the members of his faction and then went into hiding. The Reed voters wanted to pay their polltax it is asserted, so they could vote, but could not find any one to pay it to. This advantage was followed up by the Heylman workers in challenging their opponents but failed to stem the tide for the Reed

Just what will be done about the liquor question is problematical, some of the Heylman supporters freely asserting that the incoming administration pro-poses to license saloons. This is denied by the Reed people, however Estacada has been dry since las restoring him to office.

The trouble which culminated Tuesday in the overthrow of the Heyl-man faction dates back originally to water works system for Estacada by to this plan on the ground that the issue would place the town beyond the limit of its authority to create indebtedness. #### MANUFACTURERS BUILDING.

On the eastern side of Geyser Basin, at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, the handsome Manufacturers Building looks across the restless waters of the Cascades and the flashing foam of "Old Faithful," the reproduction of its namesake in Yellowstone National Park.

Its location is the most central of any of the exposition buildings, and its architectural design is especially fitting for the position it has been given. It was one of the first great exhibition palaces to be completed, and before the end of last year was ready for the reception of its vast collection of exhibits. It will house a magnificent assortment of the highest examples of man's ingenuity and invention, and within its walls will be gathered specimens of manufactured articles from the workshops of every nation of importance in the world.

It overlooks the finest of the formal gardens of the exposition, and its splendid line of pergolas, with their vine-covered columns and blossoming flowers, complete a restful and pleasing view. At no part of the grounds can be seen a more beautiful illuminating effect than is presented from the open pergolas during the late evening and early night. A million sparkling electric bulbs flash their white lights through the waters and, scattered throughout the greenery, hundreds of electroliers mingle their many hues with the riot of colors. Looking down the gentle slope of Rainier Avenue the floating craft of two takes is brought into vision and adds the delights of a broad, light-sprinkled stretch of forest-enclosed waters to the whole effect.

LOOKING DOWN YUKON AVENUE.

One of the most traveled highways of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition will be the street to which has been given the name of Yukon Avenue. Yukon Avenue makes its way across the exposition grounds from west to east, and the ends are represented by Klondike Circle near the entrance, and Nome Circle on which fronts the classic Forestry building. It crosses the roaring Cascades on oriental bridges of handsome design, and from its central part the buildings of Hawaii and Alaska, backed by the enormous federal structure, are directly to the north-

Just to the west of Klondike Circle the Pay Streak winds in a general direction from north to south, and at the eastern end the land gives way precipitously to the shores of Lake Washington. It is on this beautiful shore of the lake the natural ampitheatre is located, and nature has so quaintly formed this delightful spot, that small effort has been required of man to transform it into as perfect an exhibition place as is possible. Its curving, sloping sides complete a semi-circle, and from its tiers of towering seats 30,000 speciators may witness the entertainments with no possibilities of occupying a single undesirable seat.

A wonderful variety of architectural display is shown by the many buildings through which Yukon Avenue passes, and during its course the visitor passes from man-made monuments through parts of magnificent forests whose grandeur has never been marred by the destructive craft of Mammon's disciples. From every side the line of horizon is defined by mountains whose lines are delineated in perpetual snow, and stretching away as far as the eye can travel rest the waters of Puget Sound.

ORIENTAL PALACE AND MANUFACTURERS BUILDING.

The Palace of Oriental Exhibits and Manufacturers Building have a frontage on Cascade Court and Geyser Basin and look across at Foreign Exhibits and Agricultural Palaces; Yukon Avenue separates these magnificent display buildings, and in the back ground the state buildings of Oregon and California are located.

Construction work on these buildings was completed last year and exhibits are being received and placed in position. The Oriental Palace will house the most valuable collection of Far Eastern art that has ever been sent from the Orient, and will present displays from Japan, China. India, Ceylon, Straits Settlements, French Indo China, Borneo, Java and all the eastern countries of Asia.

The Manufacturers building encloses a vast amount of exhibit space and every foot of this has been engaged for display purposes by domestic and foreign manufacturers. The interest manifested in this department of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition is world-wide and competitive displays will be general and comprehensive. Exhibits are being daily received and the heavy work of installation is rapidly being accomplished
