This will also be one of the modern homes of this city. Several buildings are undergoing repairs.

The Canby citizens will do well to attend the Chautauqua at Oregon City this year, July 6 to 18. While there they will see flash light stars—like William Bryan, etc., the talent really is above that class. Dr. Frank Smith has been there before and all know he is good. In Alton Packard, fun lovers have the greatest article ever offered to the Chautauqua. He beats Sam Jones or any other of the great lecturers for making fun and is the equal of many of them in the message he gives through "Rare Fun Well Done" is one of his purposes. Rev. Weber has heard him twice and has sold him a number of times while working for a Lyceum Bureau in the East. He says Packard is one of the most standard attractions in the United States and always makes good. His lectures are witty, spicy, racy, cutting, chummy and illustrative, all combined. He, alone, is worth the whole cost of Chautauqua. Equally as good in another line is Monteville Flowers, who far exceeds Knox or any other great reader and recitator in America. He is a great star on the lyceum platform. Then there is Dr. Matt S. Hughes, one of the solid, greatest Methodist preachers in the country. His messages are burning coals of fire and will be the best treats of the season. Sylvester Long also is a most excellent lecturer. Many other men and women including several quartettes and a number of soloists will be at Chautauqua.

While all should avail themselves of season tickets which, if purchased in a block, will cost only $2.00 each, other wise $2.50. Yet should any wish to go only a few times, Rev. Weber suggests the following days: Wednesday, July 7, afternoon and evening; "Song"; Saturday, July 10, Packard and Flowers; Thursday, July 15, Knickerbocker Quartette and Hughes; Friday, July 16, Hughes and Y. M. C. A.

FARM RESIDENCE OF A. R. CUMMINGS.

A. R. Cummings, who is one of the prominent farmers of the state, and residing at Canby, on last week had installed on his fine farm an irrigating plant. The Canby Canal Company installed this plant as a demonstration as to what results can be obtained by irrigating. The gasoline engine belonging to W. H. Bair has been brought into service, and promises to give entire satisfaction. The engine, which is 10-horse power, raises the water 70 feet from the Molalla river. The capacity of the engine is 200 gallons per minute. One acre per day is irrigated. On Saturday Mr. Cummings irrigated three acres, and proved to be very successful. The soil of the 25-acre farm of Mr. Cummings is well adapted to the raising of all kinds of garden truck, and a visit to this farm is an object lesson to what can be done with

The soil of Canby. There is not a weed in long rows of vegetables that are now attaining their growth. In the manner Mr. Cummings keeps his farm land he finds that this industry is profitable.

One and one-half acres of ground has been planted to rhubarb, and between these rhubarb plants are the cabbage plants, so that no ground is wasted. Mr. Cummings last year sold 19 tons of rhubarb from this one and one-half acre of ground, the price of which averaged 45¢ per ton. This year the crop is short, and was only nine tons. Mr. Cummings' rhubarb always brings the highest market prices in Portland. Four acres have been planted to corn, three acres to melons, one acre to strawberries, five acres to burk and Early King potatoes and the remainder of the ground is planted to other marketable vegetables.

Mr. Cummings says that he will commence to irrigate the whole of his land by July, and as soon as the Canal Company installs its irrigation plant in Canby he will irrigate the farm in this manner. The Cummings farm is a part of the Pendleton D. L. C. and the owner states that it is worth $10,000. The above residence was erected last year at a cost of $2,000, and is modern throughout. The water is pumped from the Molalla river to the house by means of a gasoline engine.

Instant Relief From Dread Catarrh.

Why don't you get rid of that nasty, humiliating disease catarrh? You can do it if you really want to. But you can't cure catarrh in a few days, that's an utter impossibility, because there is no remedy known that will kill the catarrh germs in that short time.

But you can cure catarrh if you will have a little patience and breathe in Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mei) three or four times a day.

Hyomei cures catarrh by killing the germs and it kills the germs because it gets where the germs are.

Hyomei is a powerful antiseptic and germ killing air; it is made from the fluid extracted from the eucalyptus trees of Australia where catarrh is unknown.

It gives relief instantly, stops hawking in a few days and is guaranteed by Huntley Bros. Drug Co. to cure catarrh, asthma, croup and bronchitis or money back. A complete outfit, including inhaler costs $1.00 and extra bottles of Hyomei cost 50 cents.

"Hyomei certainly saved my life and I accord it the credit which it deserves and merits. There is nothing too strong for me to say regard ing Hyomei."—Mrs. Ada Hopkins, 8 Cutter Ave., Coldwater, Mich., Aug. 22, 1908.
