F. A. ROSENKRANS IN AUTO ACCIDENT

CANBY MERCHANT HAS SEVERE
INJURY WHICH MAY PROVE FATAL.

Hurled from his motor car after the auto had turned over twice in rolling down a steep incline near Boring Monday evening, Fred A. Rosenkrans, of 325 East Twenty-first street North, vice president of the Rober Machinery Company, 195 Burnside street, and a business man of Canby, lies at death's door as the result of one of the most extraordinary accidents on record. Rosenkrans, who was brought to Portland Tuesday morning in Holman's auto ambulance, is suffering from a fracture of the pelvis and probable internal injuries, and Dr. A. S. Nichols, the attending surgeon, regards his patient's condition as precarious.

It was shortly after 6 P. M. that Rosenkrans, at the wheel of his touring car, in which he rode with his wife and three children—Cora, 17, Raymond, 4 and Norman, 2—was on a curve on the plank road near Boring. The momentum of the auto, which was running at a high rate of speed, was so great that the car dashed off the roadway and landed in a ditch on the right side of the highway. Fortunately the vehicle did not turtle and the occupants escaped injury.

After assisting his family from the machine, Rosenkrans climbed into the machine and throwing in the low speed clutch, succeeded in forcing the frontwheels of the car on the road. There was not sufficient power, however, to drive the car ahead, and Rosenkrans opened wide the throttle.

Like a flash the machine shot across the road and before the luckless motorist could apply the emergency brakes, the heavy car turned completely over twice. As the vehicle struck the bottom of the incline, Rosenkrans was thrown out, thereby escaping being crushed beneath the car.

Powerless to render any aid, Mrs. Rosenkrans and her children, terror-stricken, watched the machine crash down the declivity, expecting that the husband and father could not escape certain death. Upon rushing to the side of Rosenkrans, his family found that he was still alive, and assistance was secured from a nearby farm house. The unconscious man was placed in a farm wagon and a telephone message sent to Dr. A. S. Nichols, to meet the improvised hospital conveyance, with an ambulance.

Rosenkrans was transferred to the auto ambulance about 15 miles from Portland and arrived in Portland at 2:30 A. M. He was at once taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital, where he now lies in a critical condition.

SPRAY NEARLY ALL THE TIME.

R. S. Coe, of Canby, Issues Advice to Fruit Growers.

CANBY, Or., July 29.—(Editor of the Enterprise)—As a member of the Clackamas County Horticultural Society it behooves me not only to say something but do something and after that let it be known what I am doing for the good of horticulture and I will say spray for the moth all the time or pretty near all the time. If my brother apple growers remember, our county fruit inspector, A. J. Lewis, set his foot down hard last season and said he wouldn't let the wormy apples be marketed in Oregon City and he did get an agreement from the merchants that they would not handle wormy apples. So, you see, there is no alternative. We must raise good apples. I will say that I have sprayed for the scale and am spraying the second time for the moth, and calculate to spray every mouth until my apples are matured, and it is my experience when an apple is ripe the sooner it is gathered the better. You will notice at this time where there is a cluster of apples that some of them have a worm hole in, and if you take the trouble to cut the apple open you will find that the worm has it penetrated more than a half an inch and is gone. This will heal over in the late varieties if you keep up the spraying, and I might say your apples will be more salable if you will thin them and you will stand a better show to get apples next year on the same trees. "In the interest of better fruit."

R. S. COE,
Pres. Clackamas Horticultural Society.

CANBY.

The streets of this place were deserted Sunday, most of the people going to New Era attending the camp-meeting. There was a large crowd at New Era Sunday, and those attending from this city report a very successful meeting is being held and several good mediums are attending.

E. I. Sias, of Portland, formerly a well known resident of this city, was in Canby on Tuesday on a business trip.

Mrs. Cassie Evans and Mr. and Mrs. James Evans were among the Canby people who attended the camp-meeting Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer went to New Era on Sunday, where they spent the day at the camp grounds. After boarding the evening train for home they were greatly surprised to find that Mr. Spencer's sister, Mrs. Jean Vall, of Elk River, Minn., was aboard the train on her way to this city to visit for a week with her brother and sister-in-law. This is Mrs. Vall's first trip to Oregon and she is very much impressed with its scenery and climate, and it is probable that she will make her future home in the West.

After visiting in Canby for a week she will go to Seattle, where she will visit the A. Y. P. Fair, and from there she will go to Alberta, Canada.

J. J. Sandness who has been in Minnesota for several months, has returned to Canby.

S. T. Fisher has received a letter from his son, Corvan, who is in active service in the Philippine Islands, and states that he is now ready to retire from this life. He has been in service for the past 14 years.

G. W. Seramlin, of Mackburg, was in Canby Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Seramlin has disposed of the Seramlin Telephone system to Mr. Waterbury, of Woodburn for $6000, who will operate the system hereafter.

W. B. Moore, president of the Canby Canal Company, and party composed of Ralph Hoyt, Walter Cooke, Robert Moore and Ham Campbell, who started in two large touring cars for California, have reached their destination. The party had a most enjoyable trip and did not meet with any mishaps. Upon their return they will come by steamer, shipping their cars in that manner.

The construction work on the Canby Canal will be pushed rapidly along now. The construction on the dams at Meadowbrook will be commenced soon. The dams will be constructed of concrete, rock and the timbers of the same have already been gotten out. The machinery and generator, the latter weighing six tons, have been purchased for the power plant that is to be built in Canby, and this will arrive the latter part of August.

On next Sunday, August 1, there will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Clackamas County Fair Association on the grounds, when the grounds and improvements that have been going on there, will be viewed. The large exhibit building has been given a coat of white paint with green trimmings, and has made a wonderful change in its appearance. It is probable that the other buildings on the ground will be painted to correspond with the exhibit building, as the public sentiment is in favor of this. It was at first suggested that the cattle stables be painted dark brown.

Secretary Lee recently visited the Butteville, Aurora and Needy countries, and the people of these sections are very enthusiastic over the coming fair, and all are planning to show what their part of the county can raise.

O. E. Freytag, of Oregon City, has charge of the agricultural department and he is meeting with success with promises in exhibits. Milwaukee Grange will have an exhibit this year. This grange was awarded third prize last year, but the members of that grange are to make a special effort this year to win first prize. Warner

Grange was awarded first prize last year and will exhibit again at the coming fair.

Fine Samples of Grain on Exhibit. One of the leading forage crops of the Canby country are oats and vetch sown together, a sample of which the William Cantwell, the Canby real estate man has on exhibition in his office which was grown on the Astor farm on the Willamette river near Canby. This bundle of oats and vetch stands a little over six feet high, which shows what a productive soil Clackamas County can proudly boast of.

Now is the time to clean up your strawberry beds. Don't let the weeds go to seed, as they seed the ground for the coming year. Don't try to raise plants on the same plants that you expect to raise fruit on next season. A word to the wise should be sufficient.
