

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrap and affixed under each glass. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of various American medicinal forest plants. COUNTY DIVISION AGAIN.

Owners of automobiles, residing in Portland, are apparently attempting to saddle a portion of Clackamas County on to Multnomah for the sole purpose of having the roads to Mount Hood improved in order to make a splendid thoroughfare for their machines. This is really a laudable proposition and one that ought to meet with the approval of all taxpayers, especially the great majority who do not own automobiles because they cannot afford these luxuries. Engaged in this movement are E. Henry Wempe, president of the Portland Automobile Club and William F. Lipman, of the firm of Lipman Wolfe & Company and a heavy stockholder in the taxicab concern at the metropolis. This is the kind of dope they hand out to a ever supposedly gullible public:

Some Things Doing All the Time.

We are told that the meeting was a huge success and that Multnomah County is ready and willing, cheerfully so in fact, to assume the burden of taxation that Clackamas County is unwilling to carry for the benefit of Portland motor car owners.

During the past year or so we have been hearing a great deal of newspaper comment on the proposed division of Clackamas County. Estacada, it is said, has ambitions to be a county seat, and there has been talk of cutting off Clackamas north of the river of that name. Here is what a resident of the Estacada section has to say in the Portland Oregonian:

According to Edward Renfer, who owns a farm near Estacada, the people of that portion of Clackamas County want the opportunity to vote on annexation to Multnomah County. They desire to make the Clackamas river the dividing line between Multnomah and Clackamas counties. Mr. Renfer, who lives in Portland, said that he spent some time near Estacada Saturday and Sunday, and nearly every man he met brought up the question of annexation to Multnomah County without Mr. Renfer saying anything on the subject. Mr. Renfer says that the question is being generally agitated all through that district, and that an effort will be made to get a vote on the matter by Legislative enactment. However, this is not the first time this annexation of the territory north of Clackamas County has been agitated, but has never reached the voting point. Clackamas County is doing a lot of road work near Estacada. Mr. Renfer reports that people who went to the section three years ago and who

Mrs. Robinson and granddaughter, Mildred, visited relatives in Woodburn last week, returning home Monday.

Miss Grace Pflizer, who has been confined in the hospital at Portland, has returned home.

The Markets. The harvest season in and around Canby has been started, many have finished their task, and are helping out others. Those who have finished are pleased with their year's crop.

Many of the oldest inhabitants state that the spring was the driest for years. Among those who have finished threshing is K. Lee, who resides on the edge of Canby. On August 3rd he threshed his crop of three acres of wheat, and the result was 145 bushels, 48 1/2 bushels to the acre, and seven acres of oats. After cutting two swaths entirely around the seven-acre tract with the mow and rake for him, Mr. Mainwood's farm is about three-quarters of a mile from here, and the soil is excellent for farming purposes. The corn on his place attracts the attention of all who pass his place.

The commission merchants of this place are commencing to receive marketable potatoes, which will be shipped to Eastern and Southern points. Mr. Bair says that he is now ready for marketable potatoes at his commission house. There are more potatoes shipped from this point than any other in Clackamas county. Mr. Bair will ship several carloads about the 16th of this month. The price for the marketable potatoes is from 75 cents to 85 cents per 100 pounds.

Fresh vegetables are daily arriving in the markets, and there is already a demand for same, but the merchants can keep the potatoes up to the demand. Eggs have taken a drop in price in the last few days, and are bringing a price of 26 cents.

There is a good demand for good country butter and poultry. Corn, cucumbers and summer squashes are among the vegetables that are coming in. Corn is ranging from 15 to 20 cents per dozen.

There will be a good crop of plums this year. Logan berries are out of the market, but Lawton and Himalaya berries are in the market, and are retailing at 5 cents per box.

Miss Ada Wrolstad died at Canby. Miss Ada Wrolstad died Monday morning at the residence of James Melum, this side of Canby, where she had been visiting. Miss Wrolstad was a daughter of H. Wrolstad, of Stevens Point, Wis., and had been visiting in Oregon for several months. She was a niece of L. G. Wrolstad, and a sister of Mrs. James Eckerson of Barlow. Her death was caused by peritonitis. The body was brought to this city and taken to Holman & Myers undertaking establishment where it was prepared for shipment to Stevens Point, Wis., for burial.

Rev. A. Davenport and family will leave this week for the beach, where they will spend a few weeks before leaving for Nebraska. Rev. Davenport, who resides at Barlow, but who has been holding services in the Christian church in this city for some time, preached his farewell sermon Sunday evening. Many attended the services.

C. L. Rogers, of Hood River, who recently purchased a large tract of land in Canby, was here on Friday superintending some of the work that is being done on the place. About 49 acres of the tract has been slashed and will be cleared. Mr. Rogers is preparing to build a beautiful home here, and will bring his family as soon as it is completed. He is one of the prominent fruit raisers of Hood River county, and says that apples can be raised in Canby to compare with those of the Hood River apples, providing the trees are cared for in the manner those are in Hood River.

George Penman, who formerly resided here, will leave this month for Berkeley, California, where he will be doing on the place. About 49 acres of the tract has been slashed and will be cleared. Mr. Rogers is preparing to build a beautiful home here, and will bring his family as soon as it is completed. He is one of the prominent fruit raisers of Hood River county, and says that apples can be raised in Canby to compare with those of the Hood River apples, providing the trees are cared for in the manner those are in Hood River.

man will be in California for several months. He is at present in Idaho. J. J. Sandness was a Barlow visitor Wednesday evening, having attended the services conducted by Rev. White, of Silverton.

Services will be conducted at the M. E. church both morning and evening, Rev. W. J. Weber officiating. H. D. Maxum, an old-time resident of French Prairie, was in Canby on Tuesday visiting among his old friends. Mr. Maxum has been away from here for 35 years, and was glad to be back among his old friends at Oregon City he visited W. W. H. Bamsen, who performed his marriage ceremony. Mr. Maxum is residing at Bremerton, Wash., where he is employed in the navy yard.

E. L. Chase has sold his place in Canby to E. Fingerson, of Hillsboro. Mr. Fingerson is an old friend of Mr. Alsted, who recently bought the William Vorpahl place, and who came here from North Dakota.

The city is building a new sidewalk along the street fronting the Bradt property. The city council takes an active interest in the appearance of its city, and the sidewalks that are in need of repair are attended to at once either by the property owners or the city.

Mrs. Charles Bates and Mrs. George Bates and son were among the Portland visitors the latter part of the week.

William Mainwood has moved into his new residence, which is one of the most attractive buildings that have gone up in Canby this summer.

Band Boys Buy Piano. The Canby Band, which recently purchased a Pease piano, will give a dancing party at the city hall on Saturday evening, August 21. Garrett's orchestra, of Aurora will furnish the music for the occasion. The band is under the leadership of Dr. A. F. DeLespinasse, who has taken an active interest in the organization, and is now one of the best musical organizations in the county. Meetings are held regularly each week. There are about 22 members present, composed of many of the leading business men of the city. It is the intention of the band to give concerts and dancing parties to help defray the expense of the piano. Before coming to Canby Dr. DeLespinasse had several years of experience as a leader of an organization of this kind, and he is a musician who can master almost any kind of musical instrument. The band boys are to be congratulated in securing his services. Many of the people of Canby have kindly donated towards the cause, and those who wish to contribute can hand their contribution to any of the band boys which will be gratefully received. The list of those who have already given is as follows:

Spiritualist Association Elects Officers. The Spiritualist Campmeeting closed its meeting at New Era on Sunday. There was a large attendance this year, and many good speakers were on the grounds. It has been decided by the association to have only four weeks next year, and more attractions. The election of officers took place at New Era on Saturday, and are as follows: President, F. E. Dunton; vice-president, Mrs. Lydia Irwin; secretary, E. Kirbyson; treasurer, J. Burroyne.

J. J. Sandness Says There is no Place Like Oregon. J. J. Sandness, who recently returned to his home in this county from Minnesota, where he had been looking after property interests, is glad to return to Oregon, and is speaking of his trip gives a very interesting account of his travels. Mr. Sandness left here on May 18 on the Spokane-Portland Row line for Western Alberta, Canada, and on the 17th encountered a severe snow storm. The storm reached all through the western part of Alberta, and was unusually cold. He reached Minneapolis on the 28th of May, where he visited among some of his old-time friends, who are connected with the Russell House, Grading & Manufacturing Company, and of the Elieison, Stockland & Wolf

Company. He also visited with friends in Fillmore county, Minnesota, for three days. He then visited his farm consisting of 220 acres. The man in charge was just finishing planting his corn. It is the first of May at that place. They had snow storms, but after the first of May everything grew like magic, and as the trees came out in bud and the grass commenced to come up it presented a very beautiful sight. Mr. Sandness remained for three days at his farm, and from there went to Fillmore County, near Rushford, his former home when a boy. It was just 24 years on the 22nd of May that he reached that place from his native county, Norway. Here he visited his half sister, Miss Christina Sandness, who died shortly after his arrival. He also visited two of his brothers and another sister, besides old school mates. He visited Lauenberg with his brother-in-law, a hardware man, and returned to Minneapolis on June 26, and here was some of the hottest weather that he has ever experienced. He spent some time at St. Paul. He then departed for his farm at Anika, where he remained for three days. At this place the weather was cool, but many electrical storms occurred while he was there. At Fillmore the crops looked well. Mr. Sandness left Minneapolis July 9 for Finley, North Dakota, where he also visited with friends, where he remained until July 20. The crops at that place also looked fine. Many of the farmers in that place using the automobile instead of buggy. The grain at place was the finest looking that he had seen on his trip. Among other places visited were Mayville and Portland, N. D. Many of the people at these places knew very little of Oregon, but the people whom he met had visited Portland, Or., but had not visited any of Clackamas county, and many of the people think that Oregon is a wilderness. People whom he met and who had visited the Pacific coast state that Portland was one of the most beautiful cities they had ever seen. Mr. Sandness gave those who have not visited the West a good description of the country, and has induced several to come and see for themselves. Mr. Sandness was better pleased with Oregon than ever upon his return, and says that he is going to always reside here.

Large Shipment of Poles from Canby. During the past few months a large shipment of logs have been sent from this city to many parts of the United States to be used for railroads, mines and other purposes. Joe Sutherland, of this place, has contracted for many hundreds of poles, which were recently shipped. The poles were fir, and are of second growth. About 23 men have been employed during the peeling season preparing this timber for use. The peeling season is in March when the sap is up, and during that time the logs of Portland are prepared for shipment. The timber was taken off of the logged-off lands in the Canby country, and since this new industry here much of the Portland timber has been bought up by Portland firms.

Temperance Picnic at Canby. The first annual picnic of the W. C. T. U. and L. T. L. was held at the camp ground Wednesday, August 11. By the time the chief cook beat the tin pan to call the people to the festive board, there were close to 150 people on the grounds. The dinner was a big one and a good one, and was enjoyed by young and old alike. The children occupied much of their time in athletic contests. At 2:15 P. M. a program consisting of recitations, songs, readings and dialogues was rendered. All agreed that the picnic was a splendid success.

Miss M. S. Barlow Returns. William Tull, of Barlow, left Tuesday for Riddle in Southern Oregon, where he is to meet his aunt, Miss Mollie Barlow, who is just returning from Oakland, California. Miss Barlow has extensive timber holdings in the sugar pine belt of this state and will take steps to place the product on the market as soon as possible. She has been absent for several months during which time she has visited Mexico, Arizona, and several other places of interest.

Starting a Business For Yourself

It is unreasonable for a young man to think that he can set himself up in business without some capital to invest in the enterprise. Perhaps this lack of capital has been the cause of your working for some one else instead of yourself these many years. If so, it is high time that you began to accumulate a fund for the purpose of establishing yourself in some good paying business. An account with this bank will afford you a convenient, safe and an ideal method of putting your surplus sums where they will grow into a fund, that in time, may make possible your business success.
