

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unduly for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well.

Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this famous remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of opium or injurious drugs. It is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

Milwaukee and Northwestern Clackamas

Those who have news for the Milwaukee department of the Enterprise should either mail it to the Milwaukee Editor of the Enterprise at Oregon City or leave it at the real estate and insurance office of A. H. Dowling in Milwaukee, or with Justice of the Peace Kelo.

Let Dowling sell your property. MILWAUKEE.

At the regular annual election of December 6 voters of this town will vote on several important amendments to the city charter. The Milwaukee Commercial Club sent delegates to the special meeting of the city council Monday night to ask for the privilege of voting on the amendments and it was granted.

The amendments are as follows: Enabling the city to issue bonds to a greater amount than $100,000, as is now provided for, to enable the city to bond their property for street improvements and for construction of sewers; to make an ordinance effective immediately on its being signed by the mayor, instead of waiting ten days; enlarging the municipal territory by adding Lewelling Addition north from the schoolhouse.

It was ordered that these amendments be placed on the official ballot at the regular city election December 6, making it the most important election held in Milwaukee since the town was incorporated. One purpose of the amendments is to enable the city to inaugurate a general system of street improvements and sewers which will cost about $75,000. This year only two Councilmen, City Auditor, City Marshal and Treasurer will be elected. The Mayor and two Councilmen holding office will be re-elected.

Every one who possibly could avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing President Taft in Portland on Saturday, October 2, where he was the state's guest. The greeting of the head of the nation by the 20,000 school children of the Portland schools was very impressive and many attended these exercises at the Multnomah field.

A number attended the dedicatory services of the laying of the corner stone at the Universalist church in Portland and heard the chief executive speak. And some who were unable to go to Portland went to Oregon City on Saturday evening to see the President as the train stopped for five minutes.

A few of our people of the Lodge attended the Oak Grove fair, which was a decided success and the people of that thriving little town and surrounding vicinity are to be congratulated for the fine exhibit which included a variety of fruits and vegetables. We noticed in the list of prizes that our popular letter carrier A. C. Arnold received the head prize for a box of apples and the best box of fall butter pears and a second prize for white carrots. These wide-awake people have decided to premises. Near his collection was a box of apples and pears for the visitors, presented by him to the visitors.

W. B. Stafford, of Oregon City had a display of potatoes that brought him premiums. The potatoes were unusually large in size and quality. There were seven varieties including the Burbank, Early Rose, Late Free, and several others. Mr. Stafford's prize was for white carrots, Miller's Prize and Early Rose.

William Gardner, the onion grower of New Era, had some of his dried onions on exhibit, and received a premium. Mr. Gardner was awarded first premium on his onions at the fair of 1908.

From all over the county were farm products in this part of the building, and many red and blue ribbons were in evidence.

Among the poultry exhibits were the following: Windle Bros. M. J. Meyers, L. D. Elliott, W. D. Kelly, S. E. Smith, Mrs. Ella Plank, N. J. Steem, Mrs. J. R. Robins, Mrs. J. T. Caldwell, R. S. Coe, Herb Johnson, Frances L. Town, Dennis Norton, C. W. Swallow.

Carving set given by the Poultry Superintendent. A golden hen in show, won by M. J. Meyers on Barred Rocks; Five dollar hanging lamp given by J. J. Sandness for the best general exhibit of poultry, won by Windle Bros. on Orpingtons, Rocks and Wyandottes; Package of International Poultry Food given by C. W. Swallow.

Rosenkrantz and his best particular bird in show, won by M. J. Meyers on Barred Rock hen; Clock given by J. J. Sandness for the best solid colored bird in show, won by Windle Bros. on Buff Orpington hen; China fruit bowl given by Mrs. L. S. Batten for best solid colored American class, won by Windle Bros.

One dollar given by Canby Bank & Trust Co. for largest exhibit by a lady won by Mrs. J. R. Robins.

Business Houses and Manufacturing Plants.

The business houses and manufacturing plants of this city that were represented and had displays were Mellin & Company, Wilson & Cooke, C. G. Miller, Burmeister & Andersen, Gernslee & Shannon and The Oregon City Enterprise.

Mellin & Company occupied more space than any other firm in the building and the fine line of pianos, machines, ranges and fireless cookers made a fine showing. Waldo Caulfield, of this city, gave daily concerts on the piano, which pleased the young as well as the old folks disposed of at the fair. Mrs. C. R. Smith, of Portland, who has been in the employ of the Slinger Sewing Machine Company for the past 23 years gave demonstrations on the machines.

Mrs. Smith makes a specialty of fancy work, including buttoning, silk embroidery and drum work. The booth was in charge of W. H. Miller, and was made cozy by the rugs and lounging chairs. An archway was made of handsome oil paintings. The colors were predominant in the decorations were red and green. Opposite the booth was that of Andrew Koehner, the implement dealer of Canby. The display was set off by the artistic festoons of bunting and the large posts were literally covered with bunches of Chinese asters, geraniums and trailing clematis. In this booth were C. A. Stahl, representing the DeLaval Dairy Supply Company, manufacturers and dealers in creamery, dairy

The Oregon City Commercial Club, who distributed literature pertaining to the advantages of Clackamas county, by the County Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Clackamas, residents of the county, eager to have their Eastern relatives and friends learn of the soil and climate of one of the best counties in the state.

One of the most attractive exhibits in the building, and which drew crowds of visitors, was that of the Corvallis Creamery Company in charge of H. Frazer, field manager. The company, manufacturers of butter, ice and cream, had on exhibit 90 rolls of some of the finest creamery butter ever exhibited at any fair. The butter was encased in cartons of two styles, and these made to form a pyramid. The booth was artistically decorated with the O. C. and the company's colors, orange and black.

The creamery company was established eight years ago on pretentious quarters, and has enjoyed a gradual growth, increasing the capacity each year until at the present time when it has the largest turning plant in the Pacific Northwest. The company's butter enjoys a wide reputation, the company making weekly shipments to Manhattan Gold fields in Nevada, and also to Valdez, Cordova, Alaska, as well as to the Conner Alaska mines. The increasing demand for creamery butter than can be made from the cream obtained in the upper valley, therefore the company finds it necessary to establish a branch in Canby. This was fully equipped creamery, having the latest churns, cream ripeners and pasteurizers, with a capacity of 6000 pounds of butter daily, being nearly the capacity of the large Portland creameries. By the establishment of this creamery Canby has much benefited, as a trading post, as much of the cream heretofore sent to Portland will be sent to Canby. The plant, which will be located in the Berners building on Main street, will be in charge of J. C. Kaupisch, as soon as in proper working order. The machinery is being installed by Ralph Allinger, the company's builder and utility man. Over routes will be organized and plans of working laid out by Mr. Frazer.

J. J. Sandness, the Canby hardware dealer, had one of the largest displays on the main floor. His exhibit consisted of ranges, the Universal and Superior, two Bridge Beach heating stoves, washing machines, lamps, Gonasco Smooth Surface roofing, clocks and cutlery. The booth, which was entirely made of the stars and stripes, was in charge of Miss Sandness. This display was the main attraction, and was admired by all for its artistic design.

Garmire & Shannon had one of their POST CARD ALBUMS
The Largest Assortment in the City, From 5 cents to $3.50.
Just Received Another Assortment of Artistic Postals, Beauties at Canby's ART STUDIO.

Little giant cement brick machines on exhibition, both of these new machines strutting to the large throng that gathered during the fair. Before their return to this city they sold six machines, and have contracts for more. The machines have given entire satisfaction to those who have used them and the men handling them are doing well.

The Oregon City Enterprise had a very artistic booth, which was visited by hundreds of people, who registered to get a sample copy of the leading paper in the county. The back ground was of dark green and on this were hung the samples of job work. The other samples, which were under glass, consisted of cards, books, programmes, stationery, etc., the production of the Enterprise office. The booth was of asparagus ferns, and with the bright colored berries, made a very pretty offer. Large hanging baskets filled with ferns added to the decorations. Many of the people who visited this booth, who were not subscribers to the Enterprise, took advantage of this opportunity and secured handsome souvenirs. The booth was in charge of Miss Nan Cochran.

At every booth souvenirs were distributed, which were eagerly sought for by the merry throng.

(Concluded next week.)

RAILROADS MAKE LAND VALUE.

In Idaho and Oregon within the last two years ten conventions and representative gatherings have met to consider the construction of railroad by districts, the money to be secured by bonding the land benefited. Railroads make land more valuable. They add from $20 to $50 an acre to agricultural land, especially in the state of Oregon, where they make fruit shipments possible. In California irrigation canals costing many millions have been constructed in this manner. The construction of railroads by bonding the lands benefited and keeping a low amount of interest thus created in the hands of the people owning the land instead of in the hands of Wall street speculators may seem a little startling, but if the people are willing to let any railroad district try it perhaps it may be a way out of the present conditions of water stock or doing without transportation. It is up to the people.

Weston, Or., has better schools and more business, says the Leader, since the normal school closed than before. Many a town in Oregon is waiting and scheming its energies away trying to obtain or retain some public money. The property in and around any city is easily able to take care of needed public improvements or institutions. All such values are left in the land in the end.

Any sparsely settled road district in Oregon can get good roads now by simply voting in December on the initiative of ten per cent of its citizens such funds as may be required. The cash can come from the land and land speculators and the residents can get their money back in warrants for work. The roads will raise land values permanently, and the idle tracts can be made to pay their share by a little acting together.

REFORESTING BARREN SLOPES.

One ton of Douglas fir seeds, capable of making 80,000,000 big fir trees, will be planted within the coming fortnight by the national forest service in this state. Fully one-third of this will be planted in the Bull Run national forest.

Reforestation in the Bull Run reserve is undertaken with a view to increasing the flow of Bull Run river, the source of Portland's water supply. Reseeding of the slopes along the river is expected to conserve the moisture and practically double the flow. The present water supply of the stream is sufficient for Portland; it is estimated, for the next 50 years, but with double the volume of water now secured from Bull Run, it is thought the stream will supply Portland for the next 300 years.

Reforestation will experiment in forest reserves of the state in reforesting barren slopes. Officials have been handicapped in the work because of lack of seed. There are but two people in the West who are gathering Douglas fir seed for sale. The crop gathered by these two is purchased by the forest service, yet it is inadequate by far. From $1.50 to $2.50 per pound is paid for the seed and instructions to homesteaders and others who care to gather it will readily be furnished by the forest service.

President Taft's visit to Portland during the week was of course the big event of the Fall that had been looked forward to with no little anticipation for months. The president was well entertained while here, he was heard and seen by thousands of Oregon citizens and Oregonians are satisfied that he will have a better knowledge of the Coast and its needs than before starting out on his extended trip through the country.

Carry No Money On Your Person

It is not necessary, beside it is unsafe and dangerous. Deposit your money in this bank subject to check, then when you wish to pay any person, write out a check for the amount.

This method of paying bills is more convenient than employing the cash. No need to make change. You can pay by check wherever you are, at home, in the store or out in the country.

The check account commends itself to every person for its convenience alone, to say nothing about the
