Whitlock. executor of the estate of Mrs. Honor Marks Whitlock, and the appeal from the decision of the County Court which sustained a demurrer to a petition to sell property to pay legacies made by the late Mrs. Whitlock, who died relatives in this vicinity. about 14 years ago.

The American Home Missionary Society was devised $200 and the Sun day School Publishing Society $100 by Society originally filed a petition in the County Court asking for an order of the sale of the real property, purchased by the Bank of Oregon City, to satisfy the claim of the Society. This petition was dismissed and then the executor, William T. Whitlock, presented a petition for the sale of the Bank's property to pay the legacies. The Bank filed a demurrer, through its attorney, State Senator Hedges, and this demurrer was sustained by Judge Dimick, who held that the statute of limitations had run against the proceedings and the legacles and that the petition was in-

Court and about the same time a suit tain to be more than pleased with in equity was instituted against the prompt' relief which it affords. An appeal was taken to the Circuit executor and the Bank of Oregon City, asking that the legacies be made a upon the property, and also asking that the property be sold to pay the legacies. Both cases were taken under advisement and decided Tues-day by Judge Campbell, who held that while the estate is still in the County Court, that the Circuit Court has not jurisdiction to interfere while the remedy in the County Court has not been exhausted. The Court disdefendant: missed the suit in equity. He ruled that the order of the County Court is not an appeal order or a final decision and he therefore dismissed the
