HOP BUYERS ON MARKET

RECENT HEAVY BUYING CAUSES SLIGHT ADVANCE—OFF GRADES TAKEN.

TURKEYS TAKE RAISE

Prime Dressed Birds Now Selling at Fancy Prices—Will Advance More—Rain Checks Farming—Local Quotations.

A better tone has been assumed in the hop market this week. Not only has the decline been checked by recent heavy buying, but a slight advance has been recorded on the last crop of Oregon's Klaber, Wolf & Netter are heavy buyers beside several agents of London firms, who are in the field. Several of the large holders of the state remain at the same high point reached last week, while butler is practically stationary.

Turkeys Steadily Advance.
In conformity to the natural law of supply and demand, the price of fancy grade dressed turkeys are steadily advancing and dealers are finding difficulty already in filling orders. Seattle merchants are paying as high as 25 cents per pound for fancy stuff. It is predicted that as high as 30 cents will be paid before the close of the season. Eggs remain at the same high point reached last week, while butler is practically stationary.

Slight Advance in Hogs.
The Portland markets this week show a slight advance in prime block hogs, to $10.10, while choice to prime went for $7.35 to $8.00. While this is only a very slight improvement in former conditions, still it is a good indication of the general firm condition of the wholesale market. Other livestock is quoted at last week's figures and growers are having some difficulty of disposing of their shipments. The best of the week arrivals are from Idaho and Eastern Oregon points.

Too Wet to Harvest Spuds.
Recent heavy rains have caused the potato digging to be delayed to no inconsiderable degree. Lowland crops, fortunately, as a rule are not so much affected by the weather conditions, but the late planting on the higher ground is still to be harvested in many parts of the county. Some little demand for fancy stuff for the holiday trade has opened up lately, but it is more of a temporary character, calling for small shipments. The first of the year will hardly see any material change in the tone of the market, but a month later will probably open up the market with some advance. About 10 car lots from local points were sent this week to different markets. Colorado potatoes, of an especially good grade, are being offered freely in all the Northwestern and Southern cities, at figures slightly lower than the best Oregon stuff.

Heavy Orders for Lumber.
During the past few weeks several heavy orders for lumber and ties for the Middle West have been booked by local mill men. Orders for some time ahead are placed with the Oregon City Lumber & Manufacturing Co., while reports from other manufacturers in the country show an increase in the demand for building material, as well as mining timbers, piling, etc.

As yet no advance over the prices of the past few weeks is reported, but an advance on ties and bridge timbers is looked for soon.

HAWLEY IS ENTERTAINED

CONGRESSMAN PROMISES TO MAKE EFFORT FOR REMOVAL OF CLACKAMAS RAPIDS.

ADVOCATES NEW LOCKS

Representative Agrees With Many Speakers That Oregon City Should Have Federal Building Soon.

Business man of Oregon City, through the Commercial Club, Saturday afternoon demanded of Congressman W. C. Hawley the removal of the rapids at the mouth of the Clackamas River, the construction of new locks at Willamette Falls and the appropriation for the erection of a federal building at Oregon City. Mr. Hawley was entertained here at luncheon by the members of the Commercial Club and speeches were made by State Senator Hedges, Circuit Judge Campbell, County Judge Dimick, Thomas P. Ryan, W. S. O'Keefe, W. C. Hawley, C. D. Latourette, John W. Moffatt, Frank Busch, Postmaster Randall, and Drake C. O'Kelly, of Portland. All of them voiced the sentiment of residents of this city and the upper Willamette Valley in urging the removal of the obstruction in the Willamette River below Oregon City and the construction of new locks. At the conclusion of the meeting, Congressman Hawley definitely promised to bring about the desired relief through the co-operation with the other members of the Oregon delegation at Washington. He admitted that Oregon City is one of the freight districts that is entitled to a federal building by reason of its postoffice receipts. He favored the construction of new locks by the government on the East Side of the river and announced his opposition to the purchase of the present locks. He suggested that the removal of the Clackamas Rapids be made an independent project, entirely disconnected from the usual appropriation for the improvement of the Willamette River above Portland. He will be provided with the necessary facts and figures by a committee of the Commercial Club.

Free speech was the order Saturday afternoon. Several speakers declared that the Southern Pacific Company, the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company are in collusion as far as the maintenance of freight rates is concerned. Frank Busch, a prominent furniture dealer, recited that he had paid 15 cents per hundred on a shipment from Seattle to Portland and 20 cents per hundred on the same shipment from Portland to Oregon City. He insisted that freight could haul from the metropolis to this city by ex train cheaper than he could obtain it under the present schedules. State Senator Hedges told of his opposition to the legislative measure providing for the purchase of Oregon City locks, the state having agreed to pay $200,000 if the federal government would contribute a like sum. "The locks are not worth even $200,000," said Mr. Hedges, "and the state never should buy them. We should have new locks."

"I am a member of the Board of Water Commissioners," went on the Senator, turning his attention to the question of freight rates, "and some time ago we procured a carload of material from Chicago. The freight rate to Portland was 75 cents per hundred and from Portland to Oregon City it was 10 cents per hundred. If we had been charged the same rate from Chicago to Portland as from Portland to Oregon City there would not be money enough in Clackamas County to pay the freight."

Saturday's meeting held in Oregon City within the last three weeks, Senator Bourne having been here to hear the needs of this section. Those present at the luncheon were:

C. D. Latourette, W. P. Hawley, J. W. Moffatt, Grant H. Dimick, James U. Campbell, L. V. Stipp, John E. Clark, George Randall, W. A. Shawman, Jr., Walter A. Dimick, Clyde Mount, E. A. Sommer, L. L. Holman, H. S. Moody, William B. Howell, George M. Lazelle, M. D. Phillips, Percy Campbell, Tom P. Randall, William Beard, O. D. Eby, J. E. Jack, O. W. Eastham, W. A. Huntley, E. E. Brodie, George A. Harding, C. G. Huntley, Frank Jaggar, Frank Busch, E. T. Fields, W. S. Root, C. H. Devo, J. E. Hedges, W. S. O'Keefe, John W. Moffatt, T. J. Gary, A. D. Beale, J. L. Pickens, E. H. Cooper.

Enumerating School Children.
Miss Anita McCarver has charge of the school census for the year 1910, and is at present obtaining the number of children in the city school district between the ages of 4 and 20 years. It is to be hoped that all parents and guardians will aid in this work by informing Miss McCarver of all children of this age, as each child draws $4 state money for our public schools.

Woman's Club Well Satisfied.
The Woman's Club committee for the market last Saturday are very well satisfied with the financial returns for their effort. They cleared up the tidy sum of $20 for the rest room fund. The club is rapidly adding to its membership the bright progressive women of the community and a greater things may be expected than have yet been accomplished by the

TROUBLE IN WHITTIER FAMILY.

Woman Says Her Husband Was Morose and Failed to Support Her.

A divorce suit has been filed by Anna B. Whittier against Fred V. Whittier, with Dimick & Dimick as her attorneys.

The Whittiers were married at Salem, Oregon, in August, 1882. There are three children, Charlotte Prudence, aged 9 years, Donald A. and Douglas R. both 3 years of age. Mrs. Whittier states her husband is unfit to care for them, and that she is and willing to support them. Mrs. Whittier states that Whittier has been personally indignant upon her, and that she has been the victim of a sudden disposition, and has refused to speak to her. She also states that he is lazy and indolent and refuses to work and earn money for the support of herself and children. He is a first-class painter, and is able to make good wages if he wishes. He has practically done no work during the year of 1909 for the support of his children, and that she has had to work in factories in Portland to support her children. He has also refused to pay the doctor bills, and Mrs. Whittier has had to sell eggs, butter and vegetables to pay these bills. The Whittiers are the owners of lot 11, block 28, in the Oregon Iron & Steel Company's First Addition to Oswego, but the record in this is in the name of Georgia Whittier, a sister of Fred Whittier. Miss Whittier holds the record title of the real estate as trustee for Whittier and his wife. Mrs. Whittier has worked, economized, saved and advanced money, which she had earned in order to pay for the property, and states that she is the true and actual owner.

DID NOT SEE HAWLEY.

Woman Finds Luncheon to Congressman Was for Men Only

Miss Anna Louise Strong, Ph. D. of Seattle, Wash., was in Oregon City on Saturday, the guest of Hon. and Mrs. C. H. Dye. Miss Strong came here for the purpose of seeing Mr. W. C. Hawley, who was to deliver a luncheon at the Commercial Club rooms, but as the affair was attended by men only, Miss Strong was not there. Dr. Strong recently attended the Civic Institute at Portland and she will be one of the drawing attractions at the Forum of Chautauqua at Gladstone next summer. This gifted woman will probably have charge of a class at the session.

Dr. Strong's parents were schoolmates of Mr. and Mrs. Dye at Oberlin, and Dr. Strong herself was a classmate of the two Dye boys, Emory and Trafon, graduating from the institution at the same time in 1905.

TAX ORDINANCE PASSED.

Members of City Council Investigate Lighting Conditions.

The council held a special meeting Monday night and passed the ordinance determining the amount of the annual tax levy, which will be about eight mills. This is the same as last year. Five mills will be devoted for general purposes and a three mill levy has been made for the permanent street improvement fund. At the conclusion of the meeting the councilmen made a tour of the hill section of the city to investigate the electric light situation. There will probably be additional lamps installed. One is badly needed on Twelfth street above Washington.

CONGRESSMAN W. C. HAWLEY, Who Promises to use His Influence to Secure Federal Building at Oregon City.

PAPER MILLS AND LOCKS ARE CLOSED

HIGH WATER PARALYZES BIG INDUSTRIES ON WEST SIDE OF RIVER.

The water is still coming up here in both the upper and lower Willamette and at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning the gauge at the upper river registered 123 ft., and the lower river 34 ft. The lower river has come up three feet in the last 12 hours and the Clackamas rose rapidly during the night. Tuesday night at Albany there was a raise of 11 feet and there is every likelihood that the river will reach a stage of 18 feet here, and within 24 hours there will be an increase of four or five feet. Two paper mills in Mill C. of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company were closed Tuesday night and every wheel in the plant was shut down at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The water from the lower river is nearly up to the basement of Mill D. and is expected there will be a further raise of four or five feet in the lower river. Every department is closed in the mills of the Crown-Columbia Pulp & Paper Company. Mill A. of the Hawley Pulp & Paper Company is shut down, but all other departments are in operation on the East side of the river.

SPECIAL COURSES AT CORVALLIS COLLEGE

UNUSUAL VALUE TO PRACTICAL FARMERS, STOCKMEN AND AGRICULTURALISTS.

CORVALLIS, Or., Nov. 23 (Special).—Special short courses that are bound to be of great interest to many throughout the state are offered during the winter by the Oregon Agricultural College. These courses will commence January 4 and continue for a period of six weeks. There will also be a special short course covering a period of five days commencing Monday, February 11, offered particularly for those who are unable to take the longer course. These short courses are of special value to practical farmers, horticulturists and stockmen throughout the state.

Every department of the agricultural college will take part in these courses. Lectures and demonstrations will be given in the subjects of general agriculture, dairying, horticulture, mechanical arts, domestic science, forestry and commerce. Taught as these subjects will be by experts, with many object lessons of what is accomplished on the college farms, those who take the courses cannot fail to receive great benefit.

Valuable co-operation will be lent the college staff by practical men largely responsible for the success of large farm, orchards, dairies and stock ranches of the state. Exhibits in all these lines will be made, and the railroads have to carry the exhibits without charge. There are no entrance examinations required for these short courses. The only expenses will be for board and room, which will cost from $2.50 to $4.50 per week, and laboratory and registration fees that will amount to not more than $3 in any one course. There will be no fees connected with the five days' course.

CLACKAMAS.

The heavy rains are giving farmers plenty of time for rest. Not much chance for digging potatoes, plowing or any other sort of outdoor labor. Irving Wilson, who recently returned from South America, has accepted a position at the Tillamook hatchery. Mr. Wilson went to Tillamook last week, but expects to return for his family in about ten days.

Will Caps and family passed through town recently on their way to Idaho. Rev. Dr. Frank Ferris, of Sheridan, has been holding a series of revival meetings in the Clackamas Congregational church. Dr. Ferris is an interesting, forceful speaker and his sermons are a very clear, convincing statement of gospel truth.

The School and Home Club will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Some matters of business will come before the club, and a programme, musical and literary, will be rendered.

The Ladies' Aid of the Congregational Church will hold the annual bazaar on Friday, December 3, at the Grange hall. Useful and fancy articles will be on sale. The Junior Elderly Society will have a booth for the sale of sandwiches, cake and coffee. Hot oyster stews will be served by the ladies from 5 till 8 o'clock.

A new depot, better train service, and a motor line, these only are needed to make Clackamas an ideal suburban town.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT W. P. & P. CO. MILLS

BRADLEY CALIFF FALLS FROM SCAFFOLDING AND DEATH IS INSTANTANEOUS.

Bradley Califf, son of Edward Califf, of this city, was killed Thursday afternoon about 4:45, while working on a construction crew at the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company's mill on the West Side. Young Califf was standing on a scaffolding and was in the act of tightening a nut with a wrench and losing his balance fell on the concrete below, a distance of 15 feet, striking full force on his head.

Dr. Meisner was telephoned for and arrived on the scene shortly after the accident had happened, and after working hard to bring the unfortunate youth to consciousness found that he was beyond medical aid. His spine was injured when he fell and it is probable that his death was instantaneous. The body was brought to the Holman & Myers' undertaking parlors, where they prepared him for burial.

The young man had been an employee of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company for the past three years, and has always been considered a careful workman, and no blame has been attached to anyone for his death. He was about 21 years of age, and has resided in this city most of his life. He leaves a father, a well-known stone mason of this city, two brothers, Carl and Gilbert, and two sisters, Effie and Ida, who reside in the John Quincy Adams street between Eighth and Ninth streets. Califf, who was well liked among his fellow workmen, was the grandson of Mrs. S. B. Califf, a well-known resident of this city and of the late S. B. Califf. His mother died in this city several years ago from consumption.

The deceased was a member of the Foresters, and of the Woodmen of the World, being a member of the degree team of the latter.

Coroner Holman held an inquest over the remains. The jury was composed of F. C. Burke, Captain J. M. Graham, T. F. Randall, George Randall, W. W. Meyers and A. Simmons. The verdict of the jury was "That the deceased came to his death by accident."

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Presbyterian church, Rev. J. R. Landsborough officiating. At the grave the Woodmen had charge of the services, and were assisted by the Foresters and Hook & Ladder Company, the deceased being a member of those orders.

AMENDMENT TO CHARTER

PLAN IS PROPOSED TO CHANGE MANNER OF IMPROVING CITY STREETS.

OWNERS WILL PAY COST

New Scheme Will Permit City to Improve Streets Whenever Petitions are Filed With the Council.

Important changes in the manner of improving streets in Oregon City are planned by the city council, assisted by Senator Hedges and Rudolph Koerner, the latter for many years being chairman of the committee on streets and public property. In order to attain the end desired there will be presented to the city for adoption at the general election December 6, next, an amendment to the city charter that is calculated to give the city more improved streets without additional cost to the taxpayers, except those who are especially benefited by the improvement.

Details of the proposed amendment were given out by Councilman William Anderson. Under the plan the city pays one-third of the cost of all improvements, and as a result people living in the outskirts of the city have been compelled to provide funds directly for the improvement of any and all streets. On the other hand these same property owners will, probably be compelled to wait for years before their property is improved, as the tendency is always to improve the streets that are nearer the centers of population.

With a tax levy of three mills for the permanent street improvement fund, and a consequent revenue of from $5000 to $6000, it is only possible for the city to improve about one street each year, and so long as the city pays one-third of the cost, not more than $18,000 can be expended. It follows that many streets are really deserving of improvement but will have to remain in a rough condition for possibly many years. Last year residents of Eleventh, Twelfth, Washington, Taylor and High streets petitioned for improvement and even if every property owner on all these streets had been in favor of the improvement, it would have been manifestly impossible for the council to comply with their wishes. Many owners of property on Sixth and Ninth streets expected to ask for the improvement of those thoroughfares, but they were advised that it would be useless to make such an attempt.

It is not the purpose, however, of the city to completely eliminate the permanent street improvement fund, but it will be retained. While the fund will be materially reduced, there will be sufficient provision made to take care of any damages that may be assessed against property. When damages were claimed under the present system the property owner had to pay the full amount of the assessment in cash, together with about $20 for attorney and committee fees, but under the plan proposed the plaintiff will meet with a committee from the council and such damages as may be awarded will be paid from the permanent street improvement fund, instead of the general fund, and the property owner will be allowed to pay the balance of his assessment in ten years under the Bancroft Act. The new plan limits the assessment of any property to 50 per cent. of the actual value of the property. This is designed to prevent a confiscatory assessment, such as were made on property of D. C. Latourette and Mack Howell on the Madison street improvement. The present fight for an injunction against the improvement of Eleventh street made by Captain J. T. Apperson will hardly be possible under the plan proposed.

No change is made relative to the territory that will bear the cost of improvement, and property on both sides of the street to be improved will be assessed a distance of 100 feet from the street. Two-thirds of the property will be necessary to prevent any improvement through a remonstrance. The present basis is one-half.
