INSURGENTS WILL FIGHT.

Advices from Washington are to the effect that the so-called insurgents are moving on the National Capital with the determination of continuing their fight against the Republican organization in both branches of Congress. This information would be disquieting to President Taft were it not for the fact that some of his most notable achievements have been in the role of peace maker. In the present situation the President is confronted by a problem which is more difficult to solve than any of the other quarrels in which he has acted as mediator. It will be necessary for Mr. Taft to exercise exceptional diplomacy and great diligence to bring the warring elements together. Bitter language has been used since Congress adjourned, by partisans of the two factions and neither side is in a mood to make concessions. The President realizes that, with a divided party in Congress, it will be impossible for him to carry through the programme of legislative reforms which he will recommend in his message. He is particularly anxious to effect certain important changes in the government's control of interstate common carriers. Some of the old-line Republicans fear that an opening up of the railroad question may lead to radical legislation, and accordingly they are not enthusiastic for this feature of the President's programme. On the other hand certain of the Insurgents are fearful that if the transportation laws are amended the result will be an emancipation of the Hepburn act by which the common carriers will profit either through a relaxed or a divided government regulation. The country will await with interest President Taft's handling of this situation.

RESENT ATTACKS ON BALLINGER.

Business men of the Northwest resent the attacks on Secretary Richard A. Ballinger, of the Interior Department, by an Eastern periodical. An emphatic endorsement of his administration has already been adopted by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce. While commercial organizations in the other large centers of the Northwest are preparing to express their indignation at these continued assaults, President Taft having carefully investigated the charges found not the slightest grounds against his cabinet adviser and therefore the attack is an indirect one on the administration. The friends of Mr. Ballinger do not feel that it is fair for Eastern interests to attempt the slaughter of an innocent man, when the real object is to raise to let the whole country know that the faith of the Northwest in its representative in the presidential family, stands unshattered.

Carry No Money On Your Person

It is not necessary, beside it is unsafe and dangerous. Deposit your money in this bank subject to check, then when you wish to pay any person, write out a check for the amount. This method of paying bills is more convenient than employing the cash. No need to make change. You can pay by check wherever you are, at home, in the store or out in the country. The check account commends itself to every person for its convenience alone, to say nothing about the safety it affords. Why not make use of the check system? There is absolutely no cost to you. Come in and talk to us about it.

WINTER AT RACE TRACK

Who says that Chicago is the windiest city? Anyone would think that Canby was on Tuesday with the wind blowing—well a person had to go some to keep track of the wind.

Some of the finest turkeys that were raised for the markets in Clackamas County, were found in the Canby markets on Tuesday and Wednesday, resulting at 21 cents a pound. Many family dinners were enjoyed in Canby on Thanksgiving.

O. A. Cheney, an insurance man of Oregon City, was transacting business in this city Tuesday.

Andrew Koehler made a business trip to Portland and Oregon City on Monday.

For all kinds of nursery stock and shrubbery plants, call on Charles J. Roth, Canby, Ore. Prices reasonable.

C. W. Fellows, editor of the Canby Tribune, went to Oregon City on Tuesday afternoon's train and after transacting business in that city went to Portland, returning on Wednesday evening's train.

Peter Howe, representing the Russell & Gilbert Candy Company, of Portland, was in Canby on business, Tuesday.

C. H. Frear, field manager of the Corvallis Creamery Company, was in Canby this week.

J. T. Belts is doing some repair work on the motor recently purchased by Harry Bair, the commission man. Mr. Bair will soon have it installed in his commission house and will be used in the operation of his elevator. Many potatoes have arrived at the Bair commission house, and Mr. Bair is filling his contracts and getting the potatoes ready for shipment.

Mrs. H. Burgoyne, after a few days' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Evans, left for New Era Monday afternoon, where she will visit with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burgoyne. Mrs. Burgoyne left for her home in Portland Tuesday evening.

Miss Lorena Barbur, of Oregon City, who is visiting with her aunt, Mrs. O. M. Gurley, left on Tuesday for New Era, where she will visit for a few days with her sister.

The Odd Fellows' Lodge reports a very interesting meeting Friday night with initiation and a general good time.

Warren Kendle has been making some much needed repairs on the new building of Carlton & Rosenkrans Company.

Mrs. O. R. Mack returned home Wednesday from McMinnville, where she had been visiting with her brother, Geo. Martin. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Martin, who is visiting with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Wetzel.

Dan Summerfield went to Salem on Monday, where he attended the funeral of Peter Munn, who died of typhoid fever. Mr. Munn was a brother of Mrs. Otto Vorpal.

Mrs. Andrew Koehler, of this city, is the one having the finest hen for laying in this city. She has three full blooded chickens, and four eggs are gathered daily. With eggs ranging from 40 to 50 cents per dozen and chickens like these, it looks as though there would be money in raising chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ryan, of Portland, were the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. J. Wilkinson, Sunday.

Miss Mable Ken Knicker was the guest of Miss Elma Eckerson Thursday evening.

J. McCormick made a business trip to Portland last week.

E. J. Sias, a former resident of this city, but now of Portland, was in Canby on business Tuesday.

M. J. Lee was a Portland visitor Wednesday.

Grant White went to Aurora Tuesday, where he attended the turkey shoot, and was among the lucky one who captured turkeys.

A number of Canby people attended the dance at Aurora Wednesday evening.

O. K. Mack has purchased the post card business from Carl Damm and will add same to his already large stock of post cards, jewelry, watches, etc.

Carl Damm has sold his half interest in the mill at Macksburg to W. H. Stewart.

Little Kenneth, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Mack, is again very ill. Dr. Dedman is in attendance and reports some improvement.

Amos Keen, Well-Known Horseman Arrives in Canby.

There will be more horses and horsemen winter at the Clackamas County fair grounds this year than any other race track in the state. One of the latest arrivals at the grounds is the eminent and popular young horseman, Amos Keen, of Portland.

Mr. Keen brings with him his band of fine bred brood mares, and his great young racing prospect and future sire. This colt is a product of the great Brook Nook stock-ranch in Montana, of which Mr. Keen has spoken so highly for a number of years. When asked his opinion of Canby as a future training quarters for the light harness horse, Mr. Keen said: "In all my broad experience and travels, I have never seen a place so suitable for winter training as Canby." He further said "As long as I am connected with the trotters and pacers, Canby will be my home." We all hope for Mrs. Keen has made many friends the short time he has been here.

WINTER AT RACE TRACK

BLOODED RACERS TO TRAIN AT THE CLACKAMAS COUNTY FAIR GROUNDS.

L. B. LINDSEY HAS NINE

Horsemen Expect to Have Race Meet Next May and Many Notable Entries Are Expected.

L. B. Lindsey, of Canby, who is one of the most prominent horsemen in the state, was in this city on Thursday.

Mr. Lindsey, who has been on the track for 56 years, and is well posted on good race horses, states that there are many fine horses at Canby, where they will be wintered on the half-mile race track of the Clackamas County Fair Association, which is considered to be one of the best half-mile tracks in the Pacific Northwest. There are now over 40 head of horses on the grounds, and before the close of the winter there will be many more to come. Sam Casto, a horseman of Salem, brought about 15 head of horses to the fair grounds this week. He states that the track here is better in winter than the Salem track, owing to the condition of the sandy soil at Canby. Mr. Lindsey and his son, Sam Lindsey, have nine horses to train. Lord Lovelace, the winner of the $3000 purse at Salem this year during the fair, is among the horses. At the time the horse won this purse it was owned by Steve Lacey. Other horses that will be in their charge are Satin Royal, trotter, also a purse winner, and Florence V., a pacer, both owned by Stonewall Vaughan; Hay, W., pacer, belonging to Williams Brothers, of this city. This being only a colt its trainers are the late Col. Mack and the condition of the colt makes it probable that it will be sold to E. R. Case, of Parkplace; Padasha, trotter, owned by Henry Tillman, of Portland trotters owned by George Speight and Portland parties are other horses that will be trained by the Lindsey, Ambush, owned by Robert Pettit, of California, has been brought to the race track for the winter, and will be in charge of Carl Derriaz, an experienced horseman.

It is probable that a race meet will be held at the fair grounds earlier in the coming year than that of last year, and there is talk of having it in May. The race meet of last year was the first that was ever held in the county, and was one of the most successful held in the state, drawing a large crowd.

The large stables that were constructed this summer on the fair grounds near the race track are nearly all filled with blooded horses. Workmen have been busy engaged in constructing other barns on the grounds for the accommodation of the racers that are arriving. Those that were built this week are near the rear end of the grounds. These are the accommodations for the horses this winter than last.

Dance Given by Young People.

The dancing party given by the young people on Saturday evening was well attended and a most enjoyable time was had. Excellent music was furnished by the Bradt and Kendall orchestra.

Oscar Anderson's Eye Injured.

Oscar Anderson, who is suffering from injuries to an eye, caused by the careless shooting of a hunter near New Era, has arrived from Portland, where he has been undergoing treatment under a skilled oculist. It is feared that Mr. Anderson will lose the sight of his eye.

New Creamery Now in Full Operation.

J. C. Kaupisch arrived in Canby on Monday evening from Lebanon, where he has been for the past two months, in charge of the station of the Corvallis Creamery Company. Mr. Kaupisch comes to this city to relieve Ralph Allingham, who has been in charge of the creamery since its installation in the Bernoser building on Main street. Mr. Allingham has gone to Lebanon, where he will have charge of the company's station.

Kaupisch is well-known in Clackamas County, having been a resident near Oregon City for many years, and was the owner of the "Clover Hill Farm." This, he sold about three months ago. Mr. Kaupisch is an experienced man in the manufacturing of butter, having been in the business for about 41 years.

The creamery butter is finding a ready market, and already several of the Oregon City merchants are contracting for the butter. Last week over 1400 pounds of butter were manufactured and shipped to Portland markets.

Mr. Kaupisch was accompanied to this city by his daughter, Miss Minnie, and his wife and son will arrive the latter part of the week from Corvallis, and will make their future home here.

Montana Man Buys in Canby.

The farm of J. W. Lesler, which was purchased by Andrew Koehler last week, has been sold to John R. Newton by Millard J. Lee. Mr. Newton recently purchased the Jack stock farm on the Molalla. Mr. Newton is a resident of Twin Falls, Montana, and will arrive here with his family in a few weeks. Mr. Koehler has not decided where he will reside, but Mr. Lesler and family will soon take possession of the home that Mr. Koehler sold him, which is one of the most attractive places in this city.

Molalla River Raging Torrent.

The Molalla river is a raging torrent, and many people of this city viewed the high waters. The headgates and home of the Canby Canal Co. at Meadowbrook, and also the headgates at Canby are withstanding the flood. The river has made a cut below the headgates into the canal, but has not disturbed the headgates. Mr. Lee says that about $500 will cover the loss of the company. The Molalla river is a treacherous river at high water stage, and it might be possible that those living on bottom land will have to move to higher land. The family of Bud Hilton was taken out in row boats on Monday evening as the waters were nearing their home, and it was feared that the waters would reach there before morning.

Miss Jobe Entertains.

A few friends of Miss Blanche Jobe called at the Cottage on Saturday evening, and spent the evening in instrumental and vocal music and in whist. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. Grant White and Ralph Allingham. During the evening Mrs. Cassie Evans served a delicious luncheon, and a most delightful time was had. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Paddock, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Grant White, Mr. and Mrs. Miss, Mrs. Cassie Evans, Miss Jobe, Ralph Allingham and William Locke.

Ladies' Aid Will Give Bazaar.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will hold a bazaar in the city hall on Wednesday, December 8. A programme will be given, and all kinds of fancy articles will be on sale. A supper will be served. It is probable that the Canby band will furnish the music. John Adams, one of the merchants of Oregon City, with headquarters in the Masonic building, has donated some beautiful and useful articles for which the ladies feel very grateful.

Communion services were held at the Lutheran Scandinavian Church on Sunday, which were witnessed by a large congregation. There were seven young people who partook of the impressive ceremonies. Miss Tillie Mahlum, one of those confirmed, was the recipient of a handsome gold watch presented her by her father, Rev. Rossing, had charge of the services.

Joseph Rudyard Hoff Will Marry a Portland Girl.

Mrs. Mary Hougham and family have received invitation to the marriage of Miss Anna Belle, daughter of Mrs. Harriet L. Crawford, of Portland, to Joseph Rudyard Hoff, formerly of this city, but now of Portland. The marriage will take place Wednesday, December 8. Mr. Hoff has a cottage all furnished awaiting his bride. He is the owner of a farm about two miles from this city, where he formerly resided. Mr. Hoff is the secretary of the Portland Trunk Works, and he and his wife will be at home to their friends after January 1, the residence address being 636 Harold St., Portland.

Mrs. Fellersen Surprised.

Mrs. Fellersen, who will soon leave for California with her family, where she will make her future home, was taken by surprise at her home by a few of her friends. The ladies came with well laden baskets, filled with good things to eat, and the afternoon was spent in a social time. Those attending were Mrs. Geo. Koehler, Mrs. Charles Bates, Mrs. Lizzie Vorpal, Mrs. Kate Spulak, Mrs. Fred Phillippe, Mrs. J. Wilson, Mrs. Mary Hougham, Mrs. Persons, Mrs. Fellersen, Mrs. A. Zee and Miss Rockwell.
