WANTS INSTANT ACTION

Board of Governors Believes That Delegation Should Get Busy Regardless of Water In Locks.

The Board of Governors of the Commercial Club Monday night went on record as demanding the insertion in the river and harbor bill of a separate appropriation for the removal of the Clackamas rapids, notwithstanding the detailed telegram received last week from United States Senator Bearne relative to the project, Sen-ator Bourne stated in his wire that success was doubtful at this session of congress and that work on the rapids would lower the water in locks. The board of Governors lieves that the work on the rapids should proceed, regardless of the effect on the locks, and that the Portland Railway, Light & Power Com-pany should bear an yexpense which may be incurred by repairs to the locks through the removal of the

PLANS OUTLINED FOR RESTORING BUILDING

INTERIOR OF McLOUGHLIN TO BE PLACED IN ORIGINAL CONDITION.

Plans for restoring the interior of the historic home of Dr. John Mc-Loughlin were outlined Monday night at a meeting of the directors of the MeLoughlin Memorial Association, Edward E. Brodie was elected a director to succeed Miss Henrietta Failing, of Portland, whose resignation was received. It is the purpose of the association to fully restore the interior of the historic structure that was moved last year from its original site on South Main street to a sightly prominence on the bluff overlooking the city and the Willamette River. The exterior of the building has been fully restored through the efforts of the local Association and Portland people and a permanent foundation has been laid for the complete res-toration and control of the building where Dr. McLoughlin lived for many years and where he entertained the notable people who came out to see the Oregon country.

BOUNDARIES ARE SETTLED

PORTION OF CLACKAMAS PRO-POSED TO BE ANNEXED IS DETERMINED.

Runs Up Clackamas to Cazadero and Then East-Oswego and Bolton Are to Be Embraced.

Boundaries of the territory in Northern Clackamas County proposed to be annexed to Multnomah County through the initiative in the November election, were finally determined at a meeting of the Clackamas-Multnomah annexation committee, at the rooms of the Portland Commercial Club Monday night.

The district includes that part of Clackamas County east of the Willa-mette River and north of the Clack-amas River, including a line drawn asterly from Cazadero to the county ine. On the west side of the Willamette River the boundaries include that part of Clackamas County north of a line drawn westerly from the mouth of the Clackamas River to the Washington County line. This will include the town of Oswego and land laying south of that town for a distance of nearly three miles.

The committee in charge of the finances reported that about one-third of the funds necessary to conduct the campaign proposed had been raised.
The next detail to be taken up will be the circulation of initiative petitions by which the proposed annexaion question will be submitted to the voters next November. This task will e started as soon as the petition can be prepared.

BIG BOOSTER DAY SATURDAY, APRIL 9

STOCK DISPLAY IS PROMISED AND OTHER FEATURES ARE BEING ARRANGED.

Booster Day has been postponed un til Saturday, April 2. It was the original intention of the Commercial Club to invite the people of Clackamas County to come to Oregon City on Saturday, March 12, but it is impossible to arrange the programme by that date so a postponement was agreed upon at a meeting of the chair. men of the several committees. This will give plenty of time to arrange a programme for the entertainment of the thousands of visitors who are expected to come to Oregon City at that time. Many prominent horsemen will be able to come to Oregon City April 9 and there will be a stock display that will be especially attractive. Other features will be arranged by the committees and will be announced

There were a few rhetorical fireworks and the ordinance was passed with only two dissenting votes. Mayor Carll has attached his signature and are now assured, thanks to the as the ordinance carries the emergenerous and kind hearted friends, clause it goes into effect at once.

The council passed to its second reading an ordinance providing that the number of saloons shall not be increased until a ratio of one saloon to every 500 inhabitants can be main-tained. With 17 saloons in Oregon City, this simply means that there is now enough on the basis of this rate for $500 people, and that Oregon City must have a population of 9000 before another license can be granted. WARM SPRING WEATHER CAUSES HENS TO BECOME MORE INDUSTRIOUS.

HAY PRICES ARE FIRM

Heavy Shipments Received From California Keep Prices Down-Ranch Butter Is Now Quite Scarce.

A gradual strengthening in the hay market, and a drop of two or more cents in the price of eggs are about the most notable features in this week's changes in the markets. Hay has taken on a great deal of strength, but heavy shipments from California have prevented the prices from adopting aeroplane tactics. The warm wea-ther of the past few days has started the hens to laying and the price has changed to 20 to 23 cents per dozen. Should the weather continue warm, the price will go still further down, and the market will be flooded.
