Pioneer Returns to Clackamas County to Spend Summer.

David Robeson, one of the early pioneers of Oregon, who has been spending the winter with his daughter, Mrs. W. R. Garret, at Butte, Jackson County, is in Oregon City visiting with his son, Charles Robeson, the real estate man. Mr. Robeson is on his way to Molalla where he will remain for the summer on his 80-acre farm with his daughter, Mrs. Jessie Winslow.

Mr. Robeson celebrated his 79th birthday anniversary Wednesday, and is still hale and hearty. Although well along in years, he still enjoys hunting and fishing, and today took on a fishing license, and expects to enjoy this sport this summer.

Mr. Robeson states that the crops are encouraging at Jackson County, all of the fruit trees being laden with blossoms.

THE GRANGE

Conducted by J. W. DARROW, Chatham, N. Y. Press Correspondent New York State Grange

BAY STATE ACTIVITY.

There Are 26,782 Patrons in Massachusetts.

Great Interest Shown in the Literary Work of the Grange by the Fact That Over 17,000 Members Took Part in the Discussions the Past Year. Over Forty Granges Held Grange Fairs.

The Massachusetts state grange held its annual session at Springfield, Mass., with a large attendance. State Master Richardson in his annual address urged, among other things, a more rigid enforcement of the seed and feed inspection law. In the matter of improving the highways he believed that the cost of maintenance should be equalized in proportion to the number of inhabitants served. He emphasized the importance of farmers co-operating in fighting insect pests. He looked upon the apathy of many as most serious.

State Lecturer C. M. Gardner said that during the twelve months ended Oct. 1, 1909, 1,854 discussions were held and participated in by 17,402 patrons. 1,047 papers had been read and discussed by over 2,200 members. 1,380 speakers had addressed granges on different topics, as entertainment features nearly 6,800 vocal and nearly 5,000 instrumental selections had been rendered and readings to the number of 6,117. The total attendance on subordinate grange meetings during the year was 270,265. In 180 granges some phase of town improvement had been considered, and 291 had devoted an evening to patriotic themes, and the children had been remembered in 194 grange meetings all their own. Over forty granges had held fairs of their own, and sixty-five have assisted in agricultural fairs in their vicinity. The secretary reported the total number of granges in the state at 232 and the total membership 26,782, a net gain of nearly 2,200.

The secretary of the Mutual Fire Insurance company, in which the grange is interested, reported 3,085 policies in force, carrying $3,046,410 in risks. The Patrons' Co-operative association organized a year ago, did a business of over $150,000 and shows a saving to patrons of $30,000 on 15,000 tons of agricultural chemicals, 20,000 tons of grain and feed, 4,000 barrels of flour and other things used on the farm. The stock is held by 514 people. Worthy Lecturer Charles M. Gardner was elected to the office of master. The lecturers' conference was attended by 242 lecturers. The question of abolishing the milk standard set by law was up before the grange, and it was recommended to the legislature that the present standard be abolished. F. W. Rane, state forester, said that the state had lost $30,000 by forest fires, a large number of which could have been prevented had there been proper fire apparatus. He suggested that the legislature appropriate a sufficient amount for the purchase of fire equipment. Two hundred and ninety-six candidates took the sixth degree. Worcester, Mass., will be the place of meeting for 1910.

VERMONT STATE GRANGE.

Interest in the Patrons Growing and Membership Increasing.

Vermont state grange held its thirty-eighth annual meeting in Burlington. The delegates numbered over 300, the largest number present in the history of the grange. There were also several hundred members in attendance. The financial report showed the permanent fund, including interest to July 1, 1909, to be $23,351. The treasurer received during the year, including funds on hand at the close of last year's account, $13,355.46. He had paid out $14,035.81. The report of secretary A. A. Priest showed that since the last meeting twenty-six granges had been instituted. The granges in good standing numbered 166, with a total membership of 18,491. The total number of Pomona granges is twenty-four, with a membership of 6,408. State Master C. F. Smith of Morrisville in his annual address advised co-operation in the matter of buying certain commodities in car lots, asked for annual training in public schools, remedial taxation measures, state support of pomers, reduced court expenses, another liquor law referendum, good roads, cow testing association, reforestation and an effort to prevent the repeal of the Grout bill in congress.

The committee on education reported in favor of a liberal policy of education and a general improvement and extension in the methods of agricultural training by increasing the facilities for the same. The committee on agriculture advocated scientific methods of farming and the abolishment of old, primitive methods. The committee also recommended that the program of the lecturer contain more agricultural topics.

Resolutions were passed favoring a referendum on the liquor question, a good roads movement, equal taxation, a parcels post, at least one agricultural high school, industrial education in schools and composing congressional ship subsidy.

GRANGE WORK IN OHIO.

Co-operative Buying Popular—Educational Program Outlined.

The Ohio state grange held its meeting in December, and it was a notable success. Fifty-six granges had been organized or reorganized during the year. Receipts for the year were $11,000.40, and the total resources of the state grange are $26,516.42. The sixth degree was conferred upon a class of 112 candidates. It was voted to offer two scholarships to the agricultural college next year, valued at $65 each, among the resolutions adopted were the usual ones about parcels post, postal savings banks, United States senator, ship subsidy, pure food law; also the following: Opposing central bank scheme, opposing the re-enactment of the Longworth law, favoring placing of quail on the list of song birds, favoring hunters' licenses, favoring women's institutes in conjunction with the farmers' institutes, asking the attorney general for analysis of fertilizers and asking a law to prohibit the sale of cigarettes and cigarette paper.

On the subject of education the grange urged: First, schoolroom instruction in home economics and agriculture; second, enlargement of the powers of school boards and free uniform text books; third, making the little girl fractures arm.

Ruth Elliott, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Elliott, fell from a "teeter" while playing in the square of the Eastman school and sustained a fracture of the left forearm. The little one was attended by Dr. H. S. Mount, who reduced the fracture.

Producers and Consumers' Exchange in Maine—Insurance in Kansas.

A producers and consumers' exchange has been recently formed in Brunswick, Me., among the grangers for the benefit of farmers in marketing crops and buying supplies. The above name was chosen as the official name of the company. It was decided to fix the capital at $10,000, divided into 10,000 shares at $1 each, no originally suggested. It was thought that this would be better than to raise the price. It was also voted that the stockholders or members of the company should be confined to members of the Patrons of Husbandry, excepting those who had already subscribed for stock or did so before Nov. 10 last. Bylaws were adopted which fully protect the stockholders. The following were elected directors: Mandeville E. Hall of Turner Center, C. S. Stetson, master of Maine state grange; C. H. Blackwell, Skowhegan, master of Wessonssett grange; Walter L. Warren of West Baldwin and E. G. Tilley of Ashland.

Eugene H. Libby, state grange secretary, was elected clerk. B. L. Stevens of Cushing treasurer and E. C. Patten, assistant steward of the state grange, auditor. At a directors' meeting later Mandeville E. Hall was elected president and C. S. Stetson vice president.

KEYSTONE GRANGE.

State Master Talks on Good Roads. Law Changes Demanded.

The Pennsylvania state grange held its thirty-seventh annual session in the state college. There were over 2,000 delegates and visiting members present. The sessions were held in the auditorium of the college. The public session program included an address by State Master Crenay, J. L. Holmes, representing the college; Secretary J. T. Altman, Dr. Edward Sparks of the college and J. H. McSparran of the legislative committee of the grange. The tour through the institution, made the next day, was full of interest and benefits to the visitors. The sixth degree was conferred on a class of 400 candidates. The executive committee in its report vigorously denounced the highway department as being incompetent and demanded a reorganization of it. The grange also asked for an equitable revision of the tax laws of the state and an amendment to the banking law to permit the encouragement of national banks to loan capital on real estate and mortgages. The grange denounced the Aldrich tariff bill, the central banking scheme and ship subsidy. The grange demanded proportional representation in the national grange. It favors a representative vote for ordinary questions, the state vote to be used only when demanded. The keynote of the session was that through legislation the farmers of Pennsylvania will come into their own. State Master Crenay in his annual address urged patrons to make an effort to have men nominated for governor and for other public offices that would give them a "square deal." He urged all to attend the primaries. Commenting on good roads and road legislation, Mr. Crenay said:

"I believe that the workings of this township road law, with the full amount of $20 or $25 per mile appropriation, will make some good roads in ten years that the department can build in thirty years. We are anxious to have the state build as many roads as possible, but we believe some additional knowledge is necessary before good roads can be built with any lasting qualities. The cost of these state roads makes it impossible for many sections to receive any benefit from them. Then, again, the annual cost of repairing these state roads is anywhere from $400 to $1,500 per mile. Some townships cannot afford this because their roads must be kept in a passable condition. Dirt roads cost on an average at least $40 per mile per year. It is impossible to use all taxes collected for building a piece of good road and neglect the balance."

"The grange position on the road question is that since all use the roads all interests should contribute toward their maintenance and repair. A tax of 1 mill on corporate and personal property would make good road fund that is fair, and we should stand by this grange plan."

SPECIAL DECENNIAL NUMBER OF MINDANAO HERALD FULL OF INFORMATION.

CREDIT TO NEWSPAPER

Tells of Possibilities in Hemp, Tapioca, Cocoa, Rubber, Coffee and Other Products That Grow in the Tropics.

One of the most interesting special editions that has ever reached the desk of the Enterprise office came this week from Zamboanga, Mindanao, P. I. This was the decennial edition of the Mindanao Herald and it contains a wealth of information about that part of the Philippines. Through the courtesy of the secretary of the publicity department of the Oregon City Commercial Club the Enterprise was able to obtain a copy and publish this week a letter from R. M. Corwine, chief of the industrial office and Secretary Sawyer's reply:

Permit me to thank you for the copies I have received, which I shall place in the hands of those who will do "the cause" the most good. As a practical newspaperman myself, I am amazed at the production and consider it more than equal to many more pretentious establishments in the United States. It is a veritable encyclopedia and reflects great credit upon the publishers.

Again assuring you of my sincere appreciation, I am,

Yours faithfully,

BEAUTIFYING THE PARKS.

Grounds at McLoughlin Home and S. P. Depot Are Improved.

The Civic Improvement Committee of the Women's Club has been busy engaged in supervising the planting of the shrubbery and plants at the Southern Pacific Depot and at McLoughlin park. Julius Broetje, of Oak Grove, has given the club for McLoughlin park 25 bushes including shade trees and flowering plants. The city has two men employed this week preparing the ground for these bushes, and it is also planned to have either walks of the crushed rock or of Grants Pass gravel. The committee in charge of the planting is Mrs. J. W. Norris, Mrs. C. G. Miller, Mrs. Clarence Farr and Mrs. E. T. Fields. Other donations of flower seeds and bulbs have been given by the local merchants. W. J. Wilson, of the Elk Horn Livestock Stable, brought the plants from the Broetje greenhouse free of charge.

Pays Part of State Taxes.

County Treasurer Paddock has paid to State Treasurer Steel $28,496.16, which is more than one-half of Clackamas County's state tax. The balance due to the state is exactly $29,000.
