WIFE CAUSED HIM SORROW

PHILIP STREIB, JR. SON OF MILWAUKEE MAYOR, SUES FOR DIVORCE.

MARRIED AT VANCOUVER

Charges Wife With Calling Him "Dirty Dog and Cur" and "Would Not Even Spit on Him."

Declaring that his wife caused him great sorrow and humiliation by uttering falsehoods on the witness stand in her divorce suit for $25,000 against his parents, Philip Streib, Jr., son of the Mayor of Milwaukee, Thursday afternoon filed a suit for divorce against Mrs. Virginia U. Streib, to whom he was married at Vancouver, Wash., June 16, 1907. George C. Brownell is his attorney.

Reports have been current here for some time that young Streib intended to ask for legal separation and the rumor that his wife intended to leave the state has hastened the filing of the action. It is charged that Mrs. Streib called her husband a "dirty dog and cur" and said she would not even spit on him. "all of which made him unhappy and miserable and destroyed his peace of mind. She is said to have frequently held him up to contempt in the community of Milwaukee, and has refused to treat him better and in a kind and proper way when he has implored her to do so, giving as a reason that she would not have anything to do with him unless he would prassal upon Mayor Streib to invite her into his home and allow her to live there, which the young man says he was unable to do.

While young Mrs. Streib's divorce suit against her father-in-law for the alienation of her husband's affections was pending, she is said to have declined to live with her husband unless he would consent to go on the witness stand and give evidence against his parents in the suit, whereupon she recovered $4000. He refused to give such evidence and she immediately ordered him out of the house and refused to have anything further to do with him.

Young Mrs. Streib is also charged with abusing her husband on March 20, last, at Milwaukee in the presence of Arthur Havill. Her husband accuses her of testifying that she had met his mother at his home and the latter had been introduced by one Emma Wetzel, which was untrue. He also says she is under the complete control of her mother, Mrs. George Hyde, and that her only purpose in living with her husband is to extract money from his parents, who are wealthy.

MILL BURNS TO GROUND

Shannon Bros. Plant at Beaver Creek Destroyed

Shannon Brothers' sawmill at Beaver Creek, and leased by Bert Cummings, was burned to the ground Wednesday morning at 1:30 o'clock. The origin is not known. The mill was in operation Tuesday and at 9 o'clock the fire was extinguished by the crew. The fire originated over the engine room, and as the whistle blew while the mill was a fire, it is presumed that falling timbers had struck the whistle, causing it to blow, and which was the means of the alarm. The crew living near the mill and residing in the section worked heroically to save the building and lumber. A bucket brigade was formed, and the water carried from the nearby stream. About 65,000 feet of lumber was on the ground at the time of the fire, and this was saved except about 15,000 feet. The machinery was slightly damaged.

BODY FOUND NEAR TRACK

Unknown Cripple Falls From Train and is Drowned.

The body of an unidentified man was found early Friday morning in a pool of water alongside the Southern Pacific Tracks just north of Clackamas Station. The discovery was made by some hoboes, who notified J. H. Roadarmel, of Clackamas, and he telephoned Coroner Holman. The body was brought to the morgue. The man was a cripple, both legs being off above the knees. One crutch was found near the body, the other being missing. There were no marks of violence on the body and it is supposed he was stealing a ride on a freight train and fell off. In a pocket was a bottle of whiskey. Coroner Holman found that the man had been at Clackamas the day before.

All progressive nations have made progress because their citizens were loyal. The Declaration of Independence was made to stand, and an evidence of the strength of character brought to America from Great Britain by our forefathers. The practice season for the Oregon National Guard opened Sunday, and a number of members of company G, of this city went to the rifle range at Clackamas station, four miles north of here, for early practice. Companies C and E of Portland were also represented at the range, there being in all about 25 guardsmen present. The firing was limited mostly to the 300 and 500 yard ranges, although some of the best shots in the three companies fired from the 500 yard range. Good scores at all of these ranges were averaged by all three of the companies, and the commanding officers hope to develop some good shots before the season closes. ## ONE PRECINCT MISSED

Effort Will Be Made By Commercial Club to Secure Full Count in Clackamas—Supervisor Holds Conference.

Hendricks, census supervisor for the first congressional district. Mr. Hendricks came down from Salem yesterday afternoon and held a conference with Enumerators Brown, Beard and Greaves, and officers and members of the Commercial Club. It has been reported by William G. Kleinsmith, of Multnomah, that between 800 and 1000 people in Mill Creek precinct and adjacent territory have not been enumerated at all. Just how the omission in Multnomah came to be made is not known, but an investigation will be made and if the report is correct an enumerator will be sent there. The call issued by Secretary Sawyer, of the publicity department, has been productive of good results. The close limits of Oregon City will bring the returns here close to the 6000 mark.

RESTORATION NEARING END

WORKMEN REMODELING INTERIOR OF HISTORIC HOME OF DR. McLOUGHLIN.

TRY TO OBTAIN RELICS

House Will Ultimately Be Made Storehouse For Historical Articles of Value and Interest.

The restoration of the interior of the historic McLoughlin home will be completed in time for the annual meeting of the Oregon Pioneer Association at Portland during the latter part of June. Brick masons are now at work constructing the fire places and chimneys in their original position and the doors are being hung. When the work is done, the directors of the McLoughlin Memorial Association will undertake to secure as many articles of furniture as possible that were in the old home when Dr. McLoughlin lived there. In the possession of Dr. J. W. Hill, of Hill Military Academy, of Portland, is a large four post mahogany bed, and Mrs. M. L. Myrick and Mrs. Theodore Wygant, of Portland, have many relics of historical value. There are also a number of articles in the museum of the Oregon Historical Society at the city hall in Portland. While it will probably not be possible to recover all of these articles, doubtless some of them will be turned over to the association. E. G. Causefield, president of the McLoughlin Memorial Association, yesterday received a photograph of Nathaniel Wyeth, who was a close friend and staunch adherent of Dr. McLoughlin in his hardy struggles. The picture was sent by a descendant of Nathaniel Wyeth, namely, Dr. John A. Wyeth, of the well known firm of chemists bearing that name. It is planned to make the McLoughlin Home ultimately a storehouse for historical relics, which will be placed in charge of an attendant and will be on exhibition to the public.

FISHERMAN CATCH BEAR

Bruin Brought Home Sunday by Disciples of Piscator.

George Buchegger and Will Adams, employees of the O. W. P., went on a fishing trip up the Clackamas Sunday morning, and instead of bringing home a line of speckled beauties, they brought with them a cub about three months old, tied to the fish line. The cub at first showed fight after being captured by the young men, but it has come to the conclusion to make the best of it and now seems perfectly contented with its new home, and is enjoying the sugar and other sweets that his masters are feeding it. After the animal was caught by Mr. Buchegger and Mr. Adams, their fishing trip was completely forgotten until they reached home, when their appetites for fish had returned, but they had the bear, and were satisfied.

KNOWLES SAYS WIFE SKINNED HIM PROPER

BRINGS SUIT FOR VALUE OF IMPROVEMENTS THAT HE PLACED ON LAND

The suit of Thomas F. Knowles against his wife, Missouri A. T. Van Buskirk Knowles, was on trial Monday before Circuit Judge Campbell, who took the case under advisement. Mrs. Mary C. Burton, a daughter of Mrs. Knowles, is made a party defendant to the suit. Knowles says after their marriage he worked on his wife's place at Oak Grove, where she owns 20 lots. During the 18 months he labored there he is said to have made improvements to the value of $150. Mrs. Knowles told her husband that she was in danger of losing her property through some litigation and she obtained his consent to deed the land to Mrs. Burton. Following this action the husband and wife had a family jar, with the result that he was ejected from the place. He asks that Mrs. Burton be declared a trustee for the value of the improvements. There is also a divorce suit pending between the ill starred pair, in which Mr. Knowles is the plaintiff. Livy Stipp and Walter A. Dimick represent Knowles.

PLANNING SUNDAY CONCERT

Deutscher Verein Expects to Have Musical Festival at Shively's.

The monthly meeting of the Deutscher Verein took place in Knapp's Hall Sunday afternoon and an attractive programme was rendered. There was music by a choir and a number of vocal solos by the members, an especially pleasing number being rendered by Henry Henningsen. A drill by the children and several declamations concluded the programme. The next meeting will be the second Sunday in June at Schnoor's Park near Willamette. The Verein named a committee to confer with the Turn Verein Singing Society, of Portland with the object of having a concert at the Shively Theatre on a Sunday afternoon during the latter part of May. This society is composed of 50 singers, 40 men and 40 women and their music is a pleasing feature.
