The trip through Oregon of President Louis W. Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, has probably occasioned a greater amount of newspaper comment in the papers of the state than has been accorded the visit of any other man during the last ten years. Mr. Hill's entrance into Central Oregon from Shaniko was somewhat arduous, as he started immediately after the hardest rain for twelve months which had resulted in making some of the roads almost impassable, but he was determined to see all there was to see, and his personal discomfort was never mentioned. In every place he had some definite and decisive to say. His visit has served as a tremendous encouragement to those interested in the development of Oregon.

The Good Roads campaign now being conducted by Judge Lionel R. Webster throughout Oregon is not only attracting an unusual amount of newspaper comment, but the Judge is convincing his large audiences that only in Multnomah County can direct taxation be depended upon for good roads through Portland's heavy tax contribution, and that long time bond issues are about the only way to get good roads during the life time of the present generation throughout the state at large. A constitutional amendment will be required to bring this about.

Never did Oregon look so clean, spick and span as at the present time. Eastern and Central Oregon have had rains at just exactly the right time. Western and Southern Oregon are intensely prosperous, and the carpenter, cabinet maker, painter, designer, landscape artist and busy housewife have had more than they could do in every section, for the disposition to clean up and paint up and put the best foot foremost was never more contagious than at the present time.

Prairie City, which will be the new terminus of the Sumpter Valley Railroad within a few weeks, has inaugurated a publicity movement, and at a rousing meeting every man present joined the Commercial Club.

The Dalles as a pattern-setter for goodfellowship sent over one hundred of its leading citizens, accompanied by a brass band, to a meeting at Mosier.

A number of new counties are going to meet up with disappointment on the ballot. It takes time and money. The first is growing short and the second always was short.

MULINO

This community was greatly shocked by the sudden death of Mrs. John Harless last Saturday. She was attending religious services at Mr. Wiltsie's when she was stricken with paralysis and died at 12 o'clock.

It is expected that Mr. Wiltsie has sold his farm at this place. We hope we will get as good neighbors in their place, and that their lot will be cast in pleasant places.

The comet and eclipse of the moon was the attraction at this place last Monday night. The people had a fine view of Halley; but it was not as brilliant as we were led to believe by the papers.

There was an exciting runaway here last week. One of the teams used in hauling lumber to Canby became frightened as they were on their way to the mill and ran away throwing the driver off and breaking loose from the hind wheels. They ran about a mile and a half when reached the turn at the Grange Hall. They were running so evenly that they didn't turn but went straight through Mr. Smith's fence into the field and circled until they came to a deep ditch when they were caught by Ernest Mallat.

Several of the Mullinottes went to Clear Creek to attend an entertainment and basket social at that place

Saturday night. They report a fine time.

The baseball game here Sunday resulted in favor of Mullino, much to the disgust of the Mackburgers, the score being 12 to 0.

The Grangers are making preparation for a good time at their picnic on June 11th at Wright's Springs. A good program is being prepared under the able leadership of Mrs. August Erickson. Everybody is invited to attend.

BAKER STOCK COMPANY.

Popular Organization Will Present Anthony Hope's Famous Play "The Prisoner of Zenda."

Nothing seen here this season will eclipse the magnificent production of the Baker Stock Company in Anthony Hope's famous romantic play, "The Prisoner of Zenda," which will open for the fourth week of the special summer season at the Baker matinee next Sunday. The book is familiar to every reader of romance of the past ten years, but the superb play has not been seen here for several seasons, and never before as it will be next week. In the role of the handsome American, Rudolph Rassendyl, who consents to assume the crown of the imaginary Kingdom of Ruritania for a while, Franklyn Underwood will have the best of the engagement here, being fitted for it in every way—with the physique, strength, manly dignity and magnetic personality required to complete our imaginary picture of Hope's ideal hero. Miss Slosson also will appear to splendid advantage as Princess Flavia, and combined with her natural grace and beauty, has that power to arouse the sympathy and emotions of her audiences to the highest pitch. Scenery and costumes are all made especially for this production, and the cast is a large one, augmented also by a great number of supers and extra people. If you have seen "The Prisoner of Zenda," before, a review now in the elegant manner it will be presented in, will afford endless delight and arouse many pleasant memories, and if you have never seen it, a rare treat is in store for you, for it is filled with the most charming surprises, richest comedy and intense scenes. The Bargain Matinees at the Baker are the theatrical events of mid-week, and there are matinees every Saturday and Sunday also.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Napier fell into a bucket of hot water on Monday morning, and received severe burns. On Sunday the first game of baseball was played on the new diamond at the Clackamas County Fair Association's fair grounds. There was a large crowd to witness the game, and over $20 were the net receipts of the game. One of the features of the game was throwing the first ball over the field by Mayor Dedman. M. J. Lee was scheduled to catch this ball, and had been practicing all week, but when the mayor threw Lee was seen to run all over the diamond trying to catch sight of it. The ball was thrown so high that it was lost for several seconds, and by the time Lee caught a glimpse of it, it had gone too far, and looked like an aeroplan in the distance. It is probable that the services of Dr. Dedman will be secured by the baseball team, as it was stated by many of the spectators that he would be valuable to the team. The game was between the Canby Canal team and the Monitor team, and before the close it was rather one-sided, the score being 12 to 2, in favor of Canby. The Canby band furnished the music during the game, and was enjoyed by all. On next Sunday the Portland Blues will play with the Canby team. The batteries for Canby were Baty and Mulky, and for Monitor were White and Long.
