School Credit for the Performance of Home Duties

L. R. ALDERMAN

That civilization is founded on the home, all will agree. The school should be a real helper of the home. How can the school help the home? How can it help the home establish habits in the children of systematic performance of home duties, so that they will be efficient and joyful home helpers? One way is for the school to take into account home industrial work and honor it. It is my conviction, based upon careful and continuous observation, that the school can greatly increase the interest in the home by making it a subject of consideration at school. A teacher talked of sewing, and the girls sewed. She talked of ironing, and they wanted to learn to iron neatly. She talked of working with tools, and both girls and boys made bird-houses, kites, and other things of interest. A school garden was planned in a city, and one of the boys was employed to plow the land. Seventy-five children were watching for him to come with the team. At last he came driving around the corner. He could manage a team. He drove into the lot and a hundred and fifty eyes looked with admiration at the boy who could unhitch from the sled and hitch on to the plow, and then as he "man fashon" lines over one shoulder and under one arm—drove the big team around the field, all could feel the children's admiration for the boy who could do some thing worth while. I have seen a girl who could make good bread or set a table nicely get the real admiration of her schoolmates.

The school can help make better home builders. It can help by industrial work done in the school, but as that is already receiving consideration by the press and in a few schools I shall not in this short article treat of it.

The plan I have in mind will cost no money, will take but little school time, and can be put into operation in every part of the state at once. It will create a demand for expert instruction later on. It is to give school credit for industrial work done at home. The mother and father are to be recognized as teachers, and the schoolteacher put into the position of one who cares about the habits and tastes of the whole child. Then the teacher and the parents will have much in common. Every home has the equipment for industrial work and for somebody who uses it with more or less skill.

The school has made so many demands on the home that the parents have, in some cases, felt that all the time of the child must be given to the school. But an important thing that the child needs along with school work is established habits of home-making, and these habits can come only from real home-making. What one does depends as much upon habit as upon knowledge. The criticism that is most often made upon industrial work at school is that it is so different from the work done at home that it does not put the child into that sympathetic relation with the home, which after all is for him and the home the most opportune thing in the world. Juvenile institutions find that they must be careful not to institutionalize the child to the extent that he may not be contented in a real home. In my opinion it will be a great thing for the child to want to help his parents do the task that needs to be done and to want to do it in the best possible way. The reason that so many country boys are now the leading men of affairs is because in early life they had the responsibility of home thrust upon them. I am sure that the motto: "Everybody Helps," is a good one.

But one says, "How can it be brought about?" This may be accomplished by printed slips asking the home to take account of the work that the child does at home under the instruction of the home, and explaining that credit will be given this work on the school record. These slips must be prepared for children according to age so that the child will not be asked to do too much, for it must be clearly recognized that children must have time for real play. The required tasks must not be too arduous, yet they must be real tasks. They must not be tasks that will put work on parents except in the matter of instruction and observation. They may well call for the care of animals and should include garden work for both boys and girls. Credit in school for home industrial work (with the parents' consent) should count as much as any one study in school.

To add interest to the work, exhibitions should be given at stated times so that all may learn from each other and the best to be the model for all. The school falls in with this. Parents, Lanes, Wascos and Crooks Counties, together with the school and home industrial work done at home, have convinced me most thoroughly that these plans are practicable, and that school work and home work, school play and home play, and love for parents and respect for teacher and fellow pupils can best be fostered by a more complete co-operation between school and home, so that the whole child is taken into account at all times.

Ends Winter's Troubles.

To many, winter is a season of trouble. The frost bitten toes and fingers, chapped lips and hands, chilblains, cold sores, red rough skins, prove this. Arnica Salve. A trial convinces. Greatest healer of burns, boils, piles, cuts, sores, eczema and sprains. Only 25c at Jones Drug Co.

Humphrey Trembath Goes to Europe.

Humphrey Trembath, who has been in the open air sanitarium at Milwaukee for more than a year, and who was much improved in health, went fishing for a couple of weeks, which caused him to grow worse, and he will leave Sunday night, under the advice of his physician, for Europe, where he will try to regain his health. He will be absent several months, and will sail June 25 from New York City on the American line steamer St. Paul.

Baseball for July 4.

At the request of both the ball teams playing on the Fourth of July, it has been decided to hold the game at Gladstone Park instead of at Canemah Park. This change has been made on account of the much better grounds for playing and the better grandstand facilities for the guests. Special cars will be run from Oregon City direct to the game.

Quite a number of new attractions have been added to the already long list and July 4, 1910, will long be remembered in the minds of Clackamas County persons.

JENNINGS LODGE.

Despite the inclement weather of last Friday a jolly party, numbering one dozen, took supper at the Oaks and made merry for a few hours with the varied entertainments as given at this popular resort. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Edson Downing, Mr. and Mrs. P. George, Mr. and Mrs. Noble, Misses Rynearson, Morse, Messrs. Richard Berg of Seattle, Noble and Helms.

George Easton, of Buckley, Wash., was a visitor with the Ira Hart family on Friday. Mr. Easton and Mr. Hart were former Iowa friends.

Our streets were fairly deserted last week, as most every family attended the Rose Show in Portland. Many going down and remaining during the week.

One of the most beautiful rose gardens is one at the H. H. Emmons home on the Willamette. Mrs. Emmons is an enthusiastic rose culturist as well as expert judge of roses, and her garden contains many varieties. Some of the most beautiful ones of the Bridesmaid varieties are grown at the Morse residence, where Mrs. Morse has several dozen of the roses that have been admired by many who have been entertained each week at this home.

Mrs. John Jennings also has beautiful rose gardens, most every choice variety shown in her well kept yard.

H. C. Tozier left for Seaside, Ore., on Monday to commence work on a summer cottage for John Riley. He was accompanied by Fred Tozier, of Eugene, and Will Suldow, of Oregon City.

Mrs. H. H. Emmons was the guest of honor at a very prettily appointed luncheon at the home of Mrs. Harvey at Rose City Park on Tuesday.

Mr. Hirsch, of Portland, Sunday at the Downing home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Scripture, of Oregon City, spent Sunday evening with Lodge friends.

Miss May Orr, after spending some weeks at the home of Mr. Redmond, left for her home at Marcola, Ore., on Saturday last.

Dr. Geo. R. Pratt, the well known optometrist of Portland, will speak at the Grace chapel on the temperance question on Sunday evening, June 19, at 8:30 P. M. All are invited.

Miss Jewel Tozier, of Eugene, spent Sunday with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tozier, at the Lodge on Will Jennings' place. She will spend a week and a half in Portland with one of her school teachers.

The Ladies' Aid will meet at the Grace chapel on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Work will be furnished.

Charles Smith, who recently came from St. Paul, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. J. P. Starin.

Mrs. Morrison Peterson, of Tacoma, visited at the Emmons home last week.

Miss Bronie Jennings spent the week with Portland friends taking in the Rose Show, previous to her departure to Southern Oregon, where she will spend her vacation with her grandparents.

Miss Burdette, of Spokane, who has been visiting at the Morse home, will leave on June 23 for Ocean Park, Wash.

L. A. Johnson is having a well drilled artesian well on the county road.

Mr. Broadhurst, of Peninsula station, made a trip to the Lodge last week for the purpose of obtaining H. C. Pinton's drilling machine to drill a number of wells in his locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooke, of Woodlawn, will remove their cottage at this place on Wednesday.

Mr. Hicks and his force of men are busily engaged in lathing and plastering the Walter Beckner home.

J. A. Soesbe returned last week from Newport and while absent spent a few days on his ranch on the Salmon River.

Mrs. Waashburn and Miss Besse Washburn, of Los Angeles, Cal., were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beckner.

Mrs. Bohman and son, of California, are making an extended visit with their sister, Mrs. Charles Redmond.

Mrs. T. C. Rice entertained a few friends at luncheon Tuesday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Davenport, of Park Place, called on Mr. and Mrs. Spooner Monday.

Strawberry picking is almost a thing of the past.

Mrs. Elmer Clarke's sister and family, from North Dakota, are here visiting with relatives.

Arleigh Millard is here from Seattle visiting with relatives and friends.

Prof. V. A. Davis is busy these days working for Baker Millard.

Mrs. E. O. Squire and daughter, from Wapato, Wash., after visiting relatives and taking in the Rose Festival, have returned home.

Last Thursday afternoon, June 9, occurred the wedding of Miss Edna Atwood and Alfred Hurst.

Last Sunday night a great many attended services at Clackamas.

Misses Ossie and Gladys Davis, Hilda Kanne, Messrs. Jack Hunter, Clyde Davis and Arleigh Millard attended services at Wichita, last Sunday night.

For skin troubles, sores, ulcers, eczema, chaps, black heads, pimples and all eruptions. Use Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve and you get the best. We guarantee it. 25 cents a box everywhere. Sold by Jones Drug Co.

OAK GROVE.

Westley McArthur and wife, of Ridgefield, Wash., spent the week with his brother, D. McArthur, and family, and also visiting the Rose Carnival in Portland.

Mrs. A. Wetzler was a Sellwood visitor Tuesday.

Charles Riley was in Portland on business Tuesday.

Mrs. Wm. Holt was a city visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Sarah Glenn returned home Saturday, after several weeks' visit in Prineville, looking after her property.

J. Noble and family left Monday morning in their auto for their home in Prineville, after a trip over the mountain and visiting the Rose Carnival in Portland with relatives.
