HOP MARKET SHOWS STEADY ADVANCE

ROYAL ANNE CHERRIES ARE SCARCE AND BRING GOOD PRICE.

Arthur Heller, son of Adolf Heller, of Prague, Bohemia, one of the best-known hop merchants of Europe, who was in the city yesterday, believes the hop market this season will show a steady and healthy advance if it is not inflated at the start. Mr. Heller said: "The brewers of Europe have allowed their stocks to run lower than ever before and even with a good-sized crop will be heavy buyers and surely use up all the 1910 crop."

PASTOR RESIGNS CHURCH.

Rev. J. R. Landsborough, for the last five years pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Oregon City, has resigned, requesting his congregation to concur in his application for the dissolution of his relations to the Presbytery, but the members of the church have declined. They are anxious to retain Mr. Landsborough, and have granted him a two months' vacation. Mr. Landsborough's health has been none too good for several months and he decided a change of climate would be of benefit to him. The matter will probably be definitely determined this week.
