

FIERCE FIRE AT PORTLAND

FLAMES CONSUME EXPOSITION BUILDING, MULTNOMAH CLUB AND GRANDSTAND.

FRED PRICE IS BURNED

Oregon City Man Was Sleeping in Fashion Stables—Property Worth $1,000,000 Is Destroyed.

Frederick R. Price, of this city, was burned in a fire that wiped out seven blocks at Portland yesterday morning.

The old exposition building, Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club-house, grandstand and bleachers were destroyed. Price is a brother of Milton and Calvin Price, of Oregon City, and had been working at Portland for the last four years.

The center of the Exposition building was occupied by the Exposition Skating Rink. The Brush Automobile company had recently acquired quarters in this renovated part and had placed therein one dozen new automobiles.

Across the street, on Washington, three apartment houses were wrapped in flames within 10 minutes after the fire started. A bakery, florist establishment and tailor shop were also destroyed in a few moments.

The cause of the fire is unknown. The Fashion stables keep open all night, and it is believed that an oil lamp may have exploded, though it is rumored at 1:30 o'clock that an explosion from a Brush automobile, which burned up the machine, started the conflagration.

Within 10 minutes after the flames shot up from the Exposition building, fire was seen to issue from the tower of the Bishop Scott Academy, three blocks to the north.

The Nob Hill Kennels, which occupied a portion of the Exposition building, were also destroyed with several valuable animals.

HEAVY CAR KILLS MAN

LOUIS JAGGAR IS FATALLY INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

LOSES CONTROL OF CAR

Prominent Commission Merchant Is Bringing His Family Home From Mountains When the Tragedy Occurs.

Louis Jaggar, for many years a resident of Oregon City, where his mother still resides, was killed in an automobile accident at Portland last Monday. The tragedy was the result of an automobile's wild swerve down an embankment and against a board fence on the Powell Valley Road, three and one-half miles from Portland.

Jaggar, a prominent commission man, was at the wheel of the car and himself turned it from its course to avoid a collision with another automobile, and it is his son-in-law, Clifford Fones, whose injuries are believed fatal, Mrs. Louis Jaggar, widow of the victim, and her daughter, Mrs. Clifford Fones, were the women who were hurt. Their own injuries were comparatively slight.

Master Robert Fones and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Shreve, of 965 East Salmon street, who were also in the auto, escaped with hardly a scratch. It was a peculiar accident. Jaggar in his car had been running at moderate speed along the road, and behind him in another automobile came Mr. and Mrs. Murhaid, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Siger.

For some time the two machines kept their relative position, but finally it is said, the second car came alongside the Jaggar machine. They were running almost abreast when they came to a dangerous turn in the road. A collision seemed inevitable. In trying to avert it and save the other auto, Jaggar swerved his car to one side of the road. The twist he gave the steering wheel sent the heavy car over the slight embankment at the side of the road, and as it plunged to the bottom, it crashed against a board fence built at the roadside.

In the unexpectedness of the disaster and pinned between his steering wheel and the seat, Jaggar could not lift a hand to save himself. As the big machine crashed against the obstruction, his head struck a heavy board, and he was killed. The blow fractured his skull and tore away part of his scalp.

At his side sat Fones. Before he could try to jump from the car, a long jagged section of the splintered fence struck him in the left side of the chest. It penetrated nearly a foot and then was snapped off, leaving a ragged wound.

The car dashed another hundred yards forward before it finally brought up in a wheat field.

In the meantime Mrs. Murhaid became bewildered when she saw Jaggar's car plunge from the roadway and she drove her own machine to the opposite side of the road. Her car landed at the road's edge in such a manner as to save its occupants from injury, but three of its wheels were smashed.

The Murhaid party hurried to respond to the cries of those injured in the other car out in the wheat field. Jaggar was found unconscious and Fones was suffering almost unbearable pain from his injury. They were carried to a farmhouse nearby and messengers were sent for physicians.

The Jaggar and Murhaid parties were returning to the city from a week-end sojourn at the base of Mount Hood. Jaggar and his party had spent Sunday fishing at Marsh's home and had risen early and begun their homeward journey two hours before the accident. The Murhaid party spent several days at Welch's Camp and had also started for the city early in the morning. They came upon each other just a few moments before the double turn in the road was met.

that of last year, and it is probable that the prices will be low before the close of the season.

Many of the farmers of the county are busily engaged in haying, and a rain would be serious to them, although many of the gardens are badly in need of moisture.

Julius Wolf, of Silverton, hop dealer and grower, returned yesterday from a month's visit to New York and other Eastern cities. Mr. Wolf saw a large number of brewers and dealers on his trip and without exception they complained to him of the poor manner in which Oregon hops were packed last year. Mr. Wolf said:

"The Eastern people gave me plainly to understand that unless Oregon hops are picked cleaner this year there will be no market for them. They are going to discriminate against the slovenly packages of leaves and stems which some of the Oregon growers put up as hops. Salesmen that I met told me that as soon as they mentioned Oregon hops there was nothing doing, yet they found no trouble in interesting the brewers in California or Washington hops. The time has certainly come this year when the Oregon hop growers must pay attention to this matter, for with another dry crop like that of last year's put on the market, Oregon's reputation for hops will be entirely gone."

Crop conditions the world over are in the main favorable. In Oregon the yards could scarcely look better than they do today, and in the other coast districts the prospects are generally good. The New York crop does not appear to have suffered from the hot wave, according to advices received yesterday. Cables from London were to the effect that the weather in England and on the Continent has again become favorable.

There was some inquiry in the local market yesterday for 1909 hops, and several lots were reported to have changed hands, but the particulars were not made public. The demand for contracts was slow.

Berries are rapidly passing out of season and in a few days the fruit market will be confined to peaches, apples, pears, apricots and plums, cherries, too, are on the down grade, although quite a few Lamberts should arrive before the close of the season is recorded.

The small quantities of Logan berries and raspberries on hand is not in the very best condition. The hot weather of the past three days has had a telling effect on the fruit. It is said, too, that the scorching heat will have a serious effect on the blackberry crop. A big percentage of the berries, it is feared, will be found to have been damaged by the burning sun.

Valuable Prizes Given Away

TO POPULAR LADIES IN THE ENTERPRISE'S GREAT CIRCULATION CONTEST

CONDITIONS AND GENERAL INFORMATION.

Any respectable young lady residing in Oregon City or Clackamas County is eligible to enter this contest. The contest manager reserves the right to reject any nominations, and all candidates must abide by the rules of the contest. Votes will be issued on renewals and paid-in-advance subscriptions. A coupon and nomination blank will also be published in The Enterprise, which will count for the number of votes specified thereon. The first thing to do is to enter your name as a candidate. Then either call, write or phone The Enterprise office for a receipt book with which to secure subscriptions. Then let all your friends know you are in the contest, and request them to save their votes for you. Candidates may nominate themselves or may be nominated by their friends. All "Reserve Ballots" issued on subscriptions are good until the end of the contest, and they may be voted at the discretion of the contestant or the subscriber. Votes will be allowed on subscriptions secured anywhere in the world. Subscribers may vote for contestants in any district, and contestants may work in both districts or outside of them. Votes not transferable. The final count will be by a committee of prominent citizens. A square deal will be given every contestant in every way from beginning to end. In case of a tie the prize will be divided between the contestants. Any questions which may arise will be settled by The Enterprise, and its decisions will be absolute and final. Candidates must reside in the district from which they are nominated.

SEND IN YOUR NOMINATION.

You will find a nomination blank below. It is good for 1,000 votes, which gives you a fine start. Then enlist the aid of your friends and neighbors. Use your telephone. Let everyone know that you are a candidate before they promise their help to a more enterprising contestant. Be ambitious and determined to win. If you have friends you can not see at once, write them. You can get votes and subscriptions from either district and anywhere in the world. Votes will be given on both new and old subscription payments. Call or send to The Enterprise office for a receipt book. The Contest Manager will be glad to have you call so that he can explain details and give you helpful plans. Telephone or write if you can not call and a representative will give you full details. Secure every coupon and nomination blank you can, as they all count. But work for the Reserve Ballots, for they count the most.

CONTEST OPENS JULY 5 1910

- 1 Magnificent $425.00 Eiler Piano.
- 2 $50 Merchandise Certificates.
- 2 Piano or Business Scholarships.
- 2 Handsome Gold Watches.

CONTEST CLOSES AUG. 20 1910

The Oregon City Enterprise offers one of the fairest and most liberal Circulation Contests ever conducted in the state. The grand prize is a magnificent $425.00 Eiler Piano, which would be worthy of any home in Clackamas county. The person winning this Piano will never regret a little work. Any lady, young or old, in this county may enter. Anyone paying for year's subscription to the Enterprise may vote for any contestant. The winners of these prizes will be the women of greatest energy and pluck, most extensive acquaintance, the best organizing and hustling abilities, the brightest and most popular. Enter at once by sending in your name and address. Costs you absolutely nothing. Thousands of people work years to save what you can win in a few weeks time. The sooner you enter the greater your chance of success.

ASK YOUR FRIENDS TO HELP YOU

If you belong to a society, church or any organization, let your fellow members know that you expect their help. It will be freely given if you only ask before it is given to some other contestant. Don't forget that children can do the most effective work in collecting coupons and nomination blanks, as well as secure you many subscriptions. Should your father, mother, brother, sister or friend belong to any organization, get them to secure the votes and assistance of the members. Do not let a day pass by without securing some subscriptions and votes. The steady, persistent daily work is what will win you the piano. Keeping everlastingly at it is what brings success. Anyone, anywhere, can vote for any candidate. Candidates can secure votes anywhere. These valuable prizes will be won by someone. Why not by you? To equalize competition and give every contestant an equal chance to win a prize, the territory has been divided into two districts. It is easier to ask questions than to correct mistakes. Don't hesitate to ask questions. The Contest Manager is at The Enterprise office to help you. Telephone Main 2 or Home 110.

YOU CAN EASILY WIN A PRIZE.

Do not get discouraged. Once nominated, do not drop out. You can win. These valuable prizes will be won by someone. Why not by you?

YOUR FRIENDS WILL HELP YOU.

Hundreds of people will have no personal friends in the contest. You can secure their friendship and subscriptions if you only ask them. They will also secure votes for you from their friends.

INCREASE YOUR VOTE EACH DAY.

Don't lose a single day. Get some subscriptions each day. That is the way to win out. Get a receipt book and start at once.

$10.00 IN GOLD

Ten Dollars in Gold will be given to the first person that nominates the lady that wins the grand prize in The Enterprise Big Circulation Contest, and a two-year's subscription will be given to each of the two persons naming the winners of the first prizes in the two districts. In case of a tie the gold or the subscriptions will be divided between the contestants. Of course you want to nominate a lady you are sure will make good. Make as many nominations as you wish.

Division of Territory

To equalize competition and give every contestant an equal chance to win a prize, the territory has been divided into two districts:
District No. 1—Oregon City.
District No. 2—All territory outside corporate limits of Oregon City.
