

EASTHAM IS GIVEN JOLT

THE OREGON CITY ATTORNEY IS JOBBED IN RACE FOR JOINT SENATOR.

MULTNOMAH TAKES IT

Big Neighbor of Clackamas Proceeds to Recommend Its Own Man and Neglects Ordinary Courses of Politics.

The endorsement of L. G. Clarke, of Portland, for joint senator from Multnomah and Clackamas counties by the Multnomah County Assembly, was in the nature of a bombshell to the Clackamas assembly men, and particularly to O. W. Eastham, a local attorney, who has for several weeks been working for the endorsement from Clackamas, upon the supposition that the office would go to a Republican from this county. Up to eight years ago Clackamas and Multnomah counties had a joint senator, and then the state was redivided to give Multnomah and Clackamas one senator. Herbert Holman, of Portland, was elected and served four years, and he was succeeded by A. A. Bailey, also a Multnomah County man. During this period Clackamas has had one joint representative for a term of two years. For these reasons Clackamas has felt that she is entitled to the joint senatorship this year, and Mr. Eastham has been groomed by his friends for the assembly recommendation.

While Mr. Eastham has not been formally endorsed by the Clackamas delegation to the State Assembly, it is understood that a majority of the delegates are for him, and he bitterly resents the action of the Multnomah County assembly in acting upon the candidacy of Mr. Clarke without so much as consulting Clackamas.

It is considered likely that he will come before the Republican voters as the assembly candidate, assuming that Clackamas has as much right to make an independent endorsement as has Multnomah. If he should concede to take such action, it follows that the assembly men in Clackamas will support him rather than Mr. Clarke, and with Dan J. Maharkey, the anti-assembly candidate, having the support of the Republicans in Clackamas and Multnomah who are opposed to the assembly, it is entirely within the range of possibility that Clarke and Eastham will get a good deal of advertising, and that Maharkey will secure the Republican nomination.

VOTES WERE FRAUDULENT. August Kanne Protests Against Higher Grades of Harmony.

August Kanne has filed a suit against the school board of District No. 19, Harmony. Kanne claims that on June 20, 1910, a meeting alleged to have been called by the school board of the district would have the object of which being to establish the ninth and tenth grades to the school, and also attempted to levy a tax upon the property of the school district for the maintaining and conducting of those two grades. Kanne states that the meeting was not legally held, and that consequently all of the proceedings were void, as there had been no legal notice of the meeting and the establishment of the grades and levying of the proposed tax for such purpose. He states that the vote taken at the meeting was fraudulent, as men and women who were not even taxpayers voted, their votes being counted in favor of the proposition.

He claims that had a legal meeting been held that the majority of the taxpayers of the district would have voted against the tax levy and for the establishment of the grades Geo. C. Brownell and O. D. Eby are attorneys for Kanne.

Billy Sunday May Come. It is not unlikely that arrangements will be made to bring Rev. "Billy" Sunday, the famous evangelist, to Oregon City, for one Sunday during August. Rev. S. A. Haywood, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is preparing for evangelistic meetings during the month of August, and it is probable that a tabernacle will be erected on the hill near the residence of John W. Loder.

LOCATION IS VERY CHOICE

BEAUTIFUL RESIDENCE SECTION IS PLATTED IN WEST OREGON CITY.

HAS RIVER FRONTAGE

Property Includes 500 Acres Along Willamette River and Will Be Sold in Lots and in Acreage Tracts.

On the west side of the Willamette River, where it flows through Oregon City, have lain vacant for 20 years or more the 500 acres comprised in the Dan and Hugh Burns donation land claims, some of the most desirable home land in that section of Clackamas County. Nobody could buy and leases were out of the question, for the property was held by the Portland General Electric Company, afterward taken over by the Portland Railway Light and Power Company.

Price was the main obstacle to the purchase of these acres, for the electric company was holding for a value heretofore unheard of in connection with real estate in that locality.

Franklin T. Griffith, Norman R. Lang and John H. Walker saw the possibilities of this land for homes, organized the Western Improvement Company and persuaded the electric company to sell to them the 500 acres. Now it is being platted, roads are being cut through, and soon homes will dot the beautiful wooded slope rising from the river bank to the rich fruit land of the tableland behind. The front part of the purchase will be platted into building lots, making in reality an addition to Oregon City, and what is said to be the most desirable residence section of the town. Back of these lots acreage plots will be sold.

There is a mile of river frontage in this property, for it extends from the Oregon City locks downstream as far as Bolton. Back on the hill it runs, as far as a certain schoolhouse, which looms up through all that part of the country. Homes in this district can be reached easily from the business part of the city and also from the paper mills on the West side, for the west end of the suspension bridge rests upon the property.

Engineers are at work both platting the property and laying out roads, but the work being carried on now that is said to mean the most of the addition is the extension of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company's line running from the end of the suspension bridge to Willamette Falls, a little village two miles or so upstream, down the river as far as Oswego. This Oswego extension, says the Oregonians, will run through the length of the Western Improvement Company's land, making all parts of it easy of access.

The beauties of the residence section of this addition are patent at a glance. The land begins with a bluff at the edge of the river and rises, covered with trees, on benches to the high land which will begin the average. The landscape possibilities for fine architectural effects are many, and none of the natural beauty of the place will be lost in the improvement necessary for settlement.

Back on the high land the soil is said to be the best adapted to fruit-raising, and the acreage tracts will be advertised with the view of attracting fruitgrowers.

CHURCH SITE PURCHASED. Christian Scientists Buy Part of Carey Johnson Place.

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city, has purchased through the S. P. Davis Realty Company, two lots on the corner of Ninth and Center streets. This land is owned by Captain J. T. Apperson and was formerly the Carey Johnson place. This is one of the most slightly locations in the city.

PASSES AWAY IN FAR EAST. Mrs. Nettie McCord Hensley Dies in the Philippines.

Mrs. J. E. Jack, of this city, received the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. John Hensley, in Manila, P. I., which occurred at that place on June 17, from the effects of an operation for abscesses of the liver. The funeral services were held on June 19, and the interment was at Manila.

Mrs. Hensley was well known here, having been born in Oregon City. Before her marriage she was Miss Nettie McCord, and was the daughter of the late James McCord and Mrs. Olive McCord, the latter who is making her home at present in Portland. She leaves besides a husband her mother, one sister, Mrs. Blanche Mulvey, and four brothers, Archie, George, William and Melvin.

HIDDEN DANGERS. Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Oregon City Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys, and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and bright disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Oregon City proof: Frank H. Bush, Jr., Main Street, Oregon City, Or., says: "I suffered from an acute attack of kidney and bladder trouble and received no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. This preparation did its work so thoroughly that since taking the contents of two boxes, I have had no recurrence of my former complaint. Whenever an opportunity I give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McLure Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. ASSEMBLY CARRIED OUT sembly proceeded to get down to business at the afternoon session, M. J. Lee, of Canby, proposed a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee of five on resolutions. This was strenuously resisted by the anti-assembly men, who loved a fight on the floor of the convention, but the motion was carried by a vote of 103 to 71. The report of the credentials committee showed that for delegates were appointed to seats in the assembly. Chairman Gibson appointed George E. Horton, of West Oregon City; W. A. Garver, of Harmony; Ben Smith, of Killeb; Hugh S. Mount, of Oregon City; C. M. Lake, of Boring.

O. W. Eastham presented a motion which was adopted after hard fight on the floor, in which the anti-assembly men attempted to denounce the whole proceedings, and tried to intervene with a motion to adjourn, which was lost. Eastham's motion follows:

"Every precinct shall be represented in the delegation that is to be sent by this assembly to the state assembly; that the Clackamas County delegation shall be made up from the various precincts as nearly as possible in their proportion to their respective strength in this assembly; that for the purpose of arriving at this equitable distribution a committee of five be named by the chair, which said committee shall consult with each precinct delegation, and following as nearly as possible the recommendations of the several precinct delegations, shall submit to this assembly a list of 55 delegates for this assembly's consideration and acceptance or rejection."

The chair appointed O. W. Eastham, of Oregon City; M. J. Lee, of Canby; J. W. Reed, of Estacada; Dr. Townley, of Milwaukie, and William Scott, of Oak Grove. They conferred with the members of the committee on resolutions, and were clothed with authority to present a platform which was adopted.

The report of the resolutions committee follows: "The Direct Primary Law is the law of the State of Oregon and as such must be respected and obeyed—not according to strange and unreasonable construction placed upon same by individuals who would serve their selfish ends, but according to the wording and true meaning of the law itself."

"But in order for us, in the true meaning to obey the law and at the same time apply it to our needs and requirements, it is necessary for us to know the wording and intent of the said law. Section one, first part of paragraph one of the law reads as follows:

"The provisions of this law shall at all times be construed in such manner as shall make it operate as nearly as possible in accordance with the foregoing statement of the theory on which it is based."

"That, as you will readily understand, refers to the Preamble of the law and starts as follows: "Under our form of government, political parties are useful and necessary at the present time. It is necessary for the public welfare and safety that every practical guarantee shall be provided by law to assure the people generally, as well as the members of the several parties, that political parties shall be fairly, freely and honestly conducted in appearance as well as in fact. The method of naming candidates for elective public offices by political parties and voluntary political organizations, is the best plan yet found for placing before the people the names of qualified and worthy citizens from whom the electors may choose the officers of our government; but we at this time are willing to go farther and say that the direct primary law is a step forward in the right direction, if properly applied, and further believe that to properly apply the direct primary law is to get a representative body of men assembled together and after due deliberation select the men which they may deem best fitted to fill the various offices, and recommend them to the consideration of the voters at the direct primary nominating election."

We therefore recommend that this assembly adjourn, to reconvene in this hall on Saturday, July 30, 1910, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of recommending candidates for the consideration of the Republican party voters at the primary election on September 24, 1910, and we pledge our unwavering support to the Republican ticket at the general election."

The following delegates to the State Assembly were elected: Abernethy, H. S. Clyde, William Smith, Beaver Creek—William Grisenthwaite, Frank Jagger, Bull Run—James Pegies, Boring—C. M. Lake, James Roots, Canyon Creek—Oscar Holt, Canby—H. H. Eccles, M. J. Lee, A. M. Vinyard, Clackamas—John Talbert, Dover—J. W. Dixon, Cascade—W. A. Proctor, John Revonne, Eagle Creek—J. E. Burnett, Ben Jacques, Estacada—J. W. Reed, G. W. Bartlett, C. E. Dubois, Gladstone—J. C. Paddock, John Mel-drum, Harmony—J. H. Gibson, Bert Garner, Mackay—R. A. Wright, J. W. Eby, Milwaukie—J. T. Townley, Mill City—J. P. Nelson, Newberg—C. H. Miller, Oregon City—New Era—W. S. Rider, Egan Ca-hill.
