EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR

CLACKAMAS SEIZES OPPORTUNITY TO DO SOME EFFECTIVE ADVERTISING.

UNITED EFFORT SOUGHT

Fruit, Grain, Grasses, Vegetables, Seeds and Other Products of Farm Should Be Saved for Big Display.

Clackamas County has at last seized the opportunity to do some effective advertising by making an exhibit at the State Fair. The resources of this county are more varied than those of any other county in the State. Clackamas has everything from the figs and peaches of the semi-tropical climate to the products of the far north, yet people have never exerted themselves to show to the world through the medium of the State Fair what we have.

Success in this as in most enterprises will come through united effort. If every person in the county who has a truly meritorious product would prepare it for exhibition, Clackamas would have an exhibit that would be the talk of the whole Pacific Northwest. Will you do your part? If you have fruit, grains, grasses, vegetables, seeds, or any other product of the farm that has especial merit, save it and send it to the committee or notify the committee and it will be sent for.

To aid in making selections, a suggestive list of products is given:

Every exhibit should include at least—

Barley—Not less than two varieties.

Beans—Not less than four varieties.

Beets—One-half bushel.

Broomcorn Seed—One peck.

Buckwheat—One peck.

Cabbages, Cauliflower, Celery, Kale, Egg Plant—Six samples each variety.

Carrots—One-half bushel each variety.

Clover Seed—Not less than two varieties.

Corn in Ear—12 ears each variety of Dent; 12 ears each variety of Sweet; 12 ears each variety of Popcorn. Not less than 10 varieties in all.

Flax Seed—One peck.

Grass Seed—Not less than three varieties.

Hemp Seed—One peck.

Irish Potatoes—Not less than six varieties.

Oats—Not less than three varieties.

Onions—One-half bushel each variety.

Peas—Not less than two varieties.

Other vegetables in quantities each for creditable display.

Perishable products of the orchard or garden may be shown in clear glass jars, hermetically sealed, in alcohol or otherwise. The jars will not be opened during the fair.

The small grains shall be shown also in the straw, in bundles or sheaves not less than three inches in diameter, not less than two bundles of each variety.

Corn, broomcorn, tobacco, and sorghum, not less than six stalks of each. Cultivated and wild grasses and clover and forage plants, two bundles, three inches in diameter, each variety.

All samples in straw or stalk should be cut close to the ground, perfectly

NEW YORK'S MAYOR SHOT

GAYNOR'S LIFE ATTEMPTED BY DISCHARGED EMPLOYEE, J. J. GALLAGHER.

CRIME IS SENSATIONAL

Wounded Official Is Rushed to Hospital in Ambulance—Assassin Captured After Struggle.

Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York was shot and severely wounded by James J. Gallagher, a discharged New York dock department employee, aboard the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse at the Hoboken pier Tuesday. The wounded man was rushed to St. Mary's hospital, suffering from a bullet wound in the back of his head. After a preliminary examination surgeons announced that he had even chance for life.

The mayor's assailant was taken to police headquarters under heavy guard. Detectives began a sharp examination of the prisoner to make him reveal the motive for his attempt to slay Gaynor.

Gaynor planned to spend a month's vacation in Europe, landing at Bremen and going through the North Sea to the coast of Norway. He was to make the trip unaccompanied.

Shortly after he reached the main deck of the North German Lloyd liner he was joined by President Montt of Chile, Senora Montt, the president's wife, and a party of officials.

No attention was paid to Gallagher as he approached Mayor Gaynor.

When he was within a few feet of the mayor he drew a revolver and rapidly fired four times. One bullet struck Gaynor in the back of the head. The mayor staggered forward into the arms of Secretary Adamson.

With the sound of the shot, the passengers crowding the deck turned and saw a man with a smoking revolver in his hand. Half a dozen men pounced on Gallagher's assailant.

Gaynor, with his head bandaged and lying on a stretcher, pale and apparently unconscious, was lowered to the wharf and placed in the hospital car, which was driven at full speed for St. Mary's hospital.

At the hospital, the operating room was being made ready for the wounded man while the ambulance was on its way from the pier. Gaynor was placed on the operating table as soon as he arrived.

On the way to the hospital the mayor did not lose consciousness. Up on his arrival at St. Mary's hospital he asked that an effort be made to clear his throat of blood. Ether was administered and Dr. Melville began probing for the bullet. One of Gaynor's sons accompanied his father to the hospital.

Shortly after Gaynor arrived at the hospital Drs. Strauch and Meyer, the surgeons, issued the following bulletin:

"Only one bullet struck Mayor Gaynor. The missile entered at the back of the head below the ear in the region of the mastoid bone, where it buried itself. Preliminary examination discloses that the wound is not necessarily fatal."

While the surgeons were working over Mayor Gaynor, his assailant was being "sweetened" by the Hoboken police. Gallagher is 35 years of age and was formerly a foreman in the New York City dock department, according to his statement. He refused to reveal his motive for attempting the life of the mayor.

OREGONIAN'S EDITOR DEAD

HARVEY W. SCOTT PASSES IN BALTIMORE FOLLOWING AN OPERATION.

WAS CONSCIOUS TO END

Famous Journalist Contracts Cold Last Spring, but Did Not Yield to Treatment—Failure of Heart Causes Death.

Harvey W. Scott, editor of the Portland Oregonian, died in Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore Sunday shortly before 6 P. M. of heart failure, 22 hours after a surgical operation for prostaticectomy.

He went off the operating table Saturday morning in strong condition, Sunday morning at 7 o'clock he began sinking and in spite of the best surgical means known to medical science his heart grew steadily weaker until the end. He was conscious almost to the last and the end was painless.

With him were his wife and one of his sons, Leslie Scott, who had accompanied him on his trip to Baltimore for surgical relief.

In Portland Mr. Scott leaves two sons, John H. and Ambrose B. and one daughter, Miss Judith.

Mr. Scott began failing nearly three months ago from an attack of sciatica. Early in June he went to Hot Lake, Eastern Oregon, but the baths there greatly debilitated him. At last convinced that only surgery could relieve him, he started for Johns Hopkins hospital, from Portland, one week ago last Thursday morning.

The operation was pronounced entirely successful and the surgeons and physicians were confident of recovery up to Sunday morning, when an unexpected weakness of the heart ensued which the physicians were powerless to cope with.

Mr. Scott was apparently as strong as ever when he arrived at Johns Hopkins hospital, from Portland, one week ago last Thursday morning.

After his return, although not himself physically, he undertook to resume his duties as editor of the Oregonian and performed more or less occasional active work. At times he could hardly walk, but his determination was great and his belief so firm that he could wear out the trouble that he was reluctant to give up.

Mr. Scott had had a remarkable physical ability to resist disease or the ailments of approaching age and

STREET IMPROVEMENT MAKES LONG MEETING

GRADES ESTABLISHED ON MANY THOROUGHFARES—AWNING ORDINANCE PRESENTED.

Proposed street improvements kept the city fathers in session until 12 o'clock Wednesday night. The property owners on Jefferson street secured a change in the plans and specifications, making the improved portion of the street 34 feet in width instead of 40, and eliminating the parking, between the sidewalks and the property line. The proposition to improve two blocks at a time, without disturbing the remaining portion of the street was not considered. The changes will mean that the council will have to go back to the resolution ordering the improvement, making a delay of several weeks.

The council passed ordinances establishing the grade on Taylor street from Seventh to Twelfth, Jefferson street from Second to Twelfth, and one block on Thirteenth street fronting the property of F. J. S. Toose. A resolution ordering the improvement of Sixth street from the bluff to Jackson street was adopted, and plans, specifications and estimates were submitted.

An ordinance directing the removal of signs and wooden awnings overhanging the sidewalks was introduced and passed its first reading. There are a number of these unsightly boards on Main street and they mar the appearance of the street.

Jack Conner was re-elected city sexton. The council authorized the purchase of 500 feet of fire hose and referred to the committee on fire and water a petition for the removal of the fire bell from its present location in the rear of the city hall building to a point on the bluff near the head of the Seventh street steps. It is said the bell cannot be heard over the city where it is at present located.

The council decided to turn the creek known as Cow Creek into the sewer, while Twelfth street is being improved. It is planned to install a new sewer on Taylor street from Seventh to Twelfth and down Twelfth street.

FIRST BLAST TO BE FIRED

BIG OPEN AIR POLITICAL MEETING AT CITY PARK NEXT SATURDAY.

SUPPORT PRIMARY LAW

Judge Henry E. McGinn and Dan J. Malarkey of Portland and George C. Brownell Will Make Speeches.

The first big gun of the primary campaign will be fired in this city on Saturday, August 29, when Judge Henry E. McGinn and Dan J. Malarkey of Portland and George C. Brownell of this city will hold a public meeting in the City Park on Seventh street at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. All of these gentlemen are ardent supporters of the direct primary law and opponents of the assembly plan, and they are speakers of statewide reputation. Judge McGinn is known from one end of the state to another as a man who loves a fight, and Malarkey is not far behind. The latter has a personal interest in speech-making at this time, for he is the anti-assembly candidate for the Republican nomination for Joint Senator from Clackamas, Multnomah and Columbia Counties. It is reported that his opponent, Louis G. Clarke, of Portland, who was endorsed by the assembly, will withdraw. Mr. Brownell is the only candidate of the Clackamas County Republicans for the state senator from the Clackamas County district. Local politicians are manifesting much interest in the coming meeting.

Investigation shows that at least five out of the nine men recommended by the Republican assembly for county offices will obtain nomination and election, and that the other four have at least an equal chance with the anti-assembly candidates for nomination. The withdrawal of L. D. Walker of Canby for state senator; Charles T. Toose of Gladstone for county judge, and Dr. Hugh S. Mount of Oregon City for representative has been construed as a blow to the assembly, but this is far from the truth. These three men were at no time candidates for the offices for which they were endorsed. They are all busy men and have no time for politics.

They were endorsed by the assembly with the knowledge that they would make efficient officers and strong candidates. They are pronounced assembly men, but could not make a sacrifice of their business affairs for the sake of office. It is regarded as unlikely that their places will be filled by the assembly. Two of the candidates endorsed by the assembly have no opposition. Those others are certain to obtain the nomination.

The action of the Clackamas County assembly Republicans in endorsing a lot of strong candidates for county offices has done one effective thing. It has opened a way for the Republicans to have a strong assembly two years hence. The Republicans have laid preliminary plans for an organization.

A DEED OF KINDNESS WHICH COSTS YOU NOTHING

Make Some Young Lady in the Contest Happy by Your Subscription Payment and Votes This Closing Week.

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR SUBSCRIPTION?

You Must Pay It. Why Not Now When You May Help Your Favorite Win the Prize She Wants So Much?

The final count of coupons and nomination blanks will be made Tuesday evening, August 16th. The Ballot Box will then be locked and sealed, not to be opened till the judges break the seals to count the votes at the end of the contest, August 20th.

Reserve Ballots may be placed in Ballot Box as soon as sealed, and all Reserve Ballots must be in Enterprise office by 9 p. m., Saturday, August 20, 1910, or they will be worthless, whether from out-of-town or in-town contestants. Count of votes by the judges, begins as soon after 9 p. m. as possible.

Out-of-town contestants may telephone in subscriptions after last mail train has left that will reach here in time, up to 9 p. m., depositing money for subscriptions phoned in with a business man, or someone known to the publisher, as our correspondent, who will guarantee payment over the phone.

Wrap your ballots in a flat package before depositing in ballot box. To avoid loss in mails or not getting back in time, all Reserve Ballots issued the last week will be dropped in Ballot Box instead of being mailed to contestants.

You are working because you want to win a prize. Then hustle hard these last few days. See everybody that has promised to help you; see everybody that refused to help you before because many of these will now help you, and they won't be offended because of another request and try to see as many new people as possible every day to the end of the contest.

Ask your friends to see people for you.

Keep your eye open for five-year subscriptions. They help a lot in votes and in getting as large a bonus as possible. Every contestant can get two or three.

The contestant that doesn't send in a lot of subscriptions from now till the final hour of the contest simply isn't working.

Work so that whether you win or not you can look your friends in the eye and say you made the best run you could. Nobody expects any more.

And while you keep at it, keep sweet. People like a good humored hustler. They rather help such a worker than refuse her.

The winners of the bonus offers ending July 30th for five yearly subscriptions and upwards, were Miss Inez Snodgrass, Miss Maude Woodward, Miss Hazel Kerr, Miss Anna Ridder, Miss Hazel Lorenz, Miss Laura Parry, and Miss Alberta Dunn.

I wonder who is going to win that ten million bonus next week? The contestant that does will no doubt win the piano. Or if no one does, the one who wins the largest bonus. See that you win the largest! There are several young ladies that could win the ten million bonus if they hustled hard. They have the territory, and a list
