BILL SUNDAY FLAYS BOOZE

BASEBALL EVANGELIST SPEAKS TO GREAT CROWD AT AFTER-NOON MEETING.

PEELS OFF HIS COAT

Says Newspapers Are Subsidized and $200,000 Goes Out of This City Every Year to Help the Liquor Traffic.

Five hundred men and a few women heard a scathing denunciation of the saloon Sunday afternoon from the lips of Evangelist "Billy" Sunday at the Shively Theatre. Sunday was introduced by W. S. Owen, who condemned the traffic more than he did the men who sell liquor to the consumers. After talking a few minutes Sunday peeled off his coat, and said he might as well get down to business, and in the middle of his speech, to make his remarks more spectacular, he rushed from the platform, returning with a handbag, from which he extracted an American flag that he waved frantically before the audience. "Lars" and "lobsters" were the pet epithets of Mr. Sunday.

"While I might be called crude, illiterate and jabbering," exclaimed the ex-baseball player, "I am first and last against the liquor traffic. The newspapers are subsidized by the liquor traffic and whenever an editor favors this nefarious business he dips his pen in virtuous sewage. You might as well try to regulate a powder mill in hell as to try to regulate a saloon by high license. The only way to absolutely stop the liquor traffic is to stop the manufacture. I would rather be a man in hell than to have my name on the church record and vote for saloons. If all such men were in hell that place would be as full that their stinking feet would be sticking out of the windows."

"In Oregon City $17,000 is paid for saloon licenses, and I would bet my life against a chaw of tobacco that $17,000 allows them to take out at least $200,000 per year out of this city."

Referring to the brewer, Sunday said: "If you see a brewer walking down the street all you have to do is to stick a big butcher knife in his back and see four gallons of beer roll out."

"I am with any party who can put the saloon in hell, be they Republicans, Democrats, Prohibitionists, or anything else. The Democrats have been much more successful in suppressing the liquor traffic in the South than have the Republicans in the North."

"Ninety per cent of all the crimes committed in this city are directly to booze, and 75 per cent of the idiots born are the offspring of booze-fighting parents. In the United States there are 64 formal orders, and 16 of them do not allow saloon-keepers or barkeepers in their ranks."

"One of the stock arguments against putting the saloons out of business is that the farmer would suffer by not having as good a market for his corn, but as a matter of fact the liquor business takes only 2 per cent of the corn raised in the United States. Last year there were 24,000 saloons legislated out of business and yet the farmers received more for their corn than at any period in the recent years. The liquor business last year cost $3,400,000,000, and for that amount of money there could have been constructed 1,200,000 homes, each costing $2,000, and had money left. The money spent for liquor last year in eight months would have paid the expenses of the United States Government for one year, and it would have also paid the expenses of all the universities and schools in the country, and other similar institutions."

"We, the executive committee, representing the Clackamas County Assembly in regular session convened, do reaffirm our faith in the Republican form of government and our belief in the necessity of organization."

"And, whereas, certain individuals supported and abetted by one or two papers have endeavored to poison the minds of the people against the assembly movement, claiming that it is a stab at the direct primary law, and an effort to go back to the old convention system of nominating candidates, and whereas the action endorsed by the county assembly in which they expressed themselves as not being in favor of an assembly, has been the subject of more or less comment unfavorable to the assembly, now therefore, be it resolved, that it is the unanimous sense of this committee that we favor the hearty support of every candidate endorsed by the said assembly, each candidate receiving the endorsement of the assembly because we were satisfied with the fitness and qualifications of the candidate endorsed, and if we can nominate and elect those candidates we shall have accomplished the results aimed at in so far as those particular offices are concerned, our sole object being to get the best men possible to go before the primaries for the nomination.

"Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be given to the press for publication, in order that we may be set right before the people."

"And to the above we pledge ourselves and the County Assembly."

James A. Tufts, candidate for treasurer, and E. P. Dedman, candidate for recorder, who were endorsed by the county assembly, and who publicly declared they had not sought the endorsement, will continue to be the assembly candidates, so far as the assembly is concerned. The leadership in the assembly movement take the position that so long as Tufts and Dedman were worthy of recommendation, the endorsement should stand.
