STARK HOME BURNS. Valuable China and Keepsakes Are

Destroyed by Fire.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Stark at Maple Lane was completely destroyed by fire on Wednesday of last week at 12 o'clock. Mr. Stark was away from home at the time the fire broke out, and Mrs. Stark was home alone, and worked hard to extinguish the flames, but they had made such headway that nothing was saved, losing most of the household goods. The alarm was turned in by three small boys, who worked heor-ically with Mrs. Stark to save the building. With the assistance of the hay baling crew nearby and other neighbors, the fencing and barns were saved. The cause of the fire was defective flue. The structure was of pariors of the Commercial club Saturday evening at which a fine banque' was spread. The marriage of Mr. Wells to Miss Ivah Gordon, of Canby, will take place in that little city Thursday evening was to commented the end of single blessedness. About fifteen close friends were there nine rooms, and the loss is felt very nature makes the whole world kin. Mr. Stark has resided in Maple Lane for the last four years and wifl rebuild soon. He and his wife are very grateful for the kindness shown them in their loss.

Who Will Care for Them? John F. Clark, of this city, has just received word from the state game warden that two pairs of Reeves pheasants will be sent to Clackamas ounty provided they can be placed where they will be protected from hunters and properly cared for. The Reeves pheasant, which is an English bird, is similar to the native China pheasants, but are hardier. Those posted on the raising of pheasants state that the Molalia or Canby county is preferable. One hundred of Reeves pheasants have been raised in captivity in and around Corvallis and these will be distributed by the state game warden throughout the state. These birds have been raised in captivity and are in a thriving condition.
