SOCIETY

In commemoration of their twenty-five years of wedded bliss, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walker Thursday night celebrated their Silver Wedding at their home on Seventh street in a most enjoyable manner. Over fifty people were present, mostly, old friends, who knew the happy couple before the time of their marriage. The Walker residence was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Autumn leaves and red were used in profusion in the hall, and the library and parlor were decorated in green, with white asters, chrysanthemums and roses. In the dining room, the color scheme was largely green, and silver was also used in most tasteful manner. Punch was served in the dining room by Misses June Charman, Louise Walker and Madie Brightbill, and here were also the many beautiful presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Walker. A dainty luncheon was served, during which Des Larzes' orchestra rendered several selections, among them being the Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches. Mr. and Mrs. Walker are both well known in Oregon City coming from old pioneer stock. Twenty-five years ago they were wedded and their many friends wish them many more years of happiness.

JOHN H. GIBSON WILL HELP TICKET

URGES UNITED ACTION ON PART OF REPUBLICANS OF CLACKAMAS. MILWAUKIE, Or., September 27.—Editor of The Enterprise: Will you permit me, through the columns of your paper to state publicly the stand which I shall take in regard to the coming election? I shall support the entire ticket from top to bottom and I want at this time to ask all Republicans to rally to the support of the whole ticket. Prior to the adoption of the Direct Primary Law I always voted for my party candidate, and since the Direct Primary method of nominating candidates has been in practice, I feel that I am in honor bound to support the nominee of my party. I take the ground that when a man makes a campaign before the people and secures a nomination for an office that he is entitled to receive the support of all loyal Republicans. With all due respect to anyone who may differ with me, I venture the assertion that any man who is honestly and truly in favor of the Direct Primary Law will support the candidate of his party who secured the nomination for an office under the law. Now if the republicans of this State had adhered to that principle four years ago as they should have done, Mr. James Wythebom would have been elected governor. In closing I want to say that we have before us a peculiar situation—namely, a portion of our State and County ticket are men who were recommended by the assembly, and the balance of the ticket is made up of men who were opposed to the assembly method of recommending candidates. Now that the nominations are made, let us remember that we are Republicans, and in so doing let us treat aside all differences and work untidily for the success of the entire Republican ticket, and remember that "United we stand; divided we fall." Yours for the success of our party, JNO. H. GIBSON.

UNION REVIVAL DURING OCTOBER

Four Oregon City Churches United To Fight Sin and Soloons

Rev. Geo. Taylor, Noted Evangelist, Who Will Conduct the Big Revival Service

Prof. Wegner, Soloist

Mrs. Taylor, a Cornelist, Who Will Assist Her Husband in Revival Work.

Beginning October 8 a union revival service is to be held during the month of October by the Baptist, Congregational, Presbyterian and Methodist churches. All of the churches interested are working hard for the success of the big revival, and a good many conversions are expected. The revival work will be in charge of Rev. George W. Taylor, and his helpers include Prof. Wegner, the well-known chorus leader, who will direct the singing. Mrs. Taylor is a cornelist of great ability, and will also assist. Temperance work will also be taken up in connection with religious work by the great evangelist, and it is thought that the "Oregon Dry" faction will gain many adherents. The meetings are to be held every evening in the tabernacle. The tabernacle, which is being erected at the corner of Ninth and Center streets, is rapidly nearing completion. It will have a seating capacity of two thousand. Sunday evening the tabernacle will be dedicated by a united meeting of the four churches. A sermon will be preached by Rev. S. A. Hayworth pastor of the Baptist Church, and the other ministers, including Rev. Zimmerman, the newly appointed pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, will also participate in the services. Musical work will be rendered by a large chorus.

JELLY DISPLAY AT THE COUNTY FAIR

MRS. WARNER WILL ALSO EXHIBIT IN ONE OF THE PORTLAND BUSINESS HOUSES.

GOOD EXHIBITS, FINE RACES AND LARGE ATTENDANCE MAKE FRIDAY BANNER DAY.

The Grange Fair, which was held at Sandy Friday, was a decided success. About 500 were in attendance a good many coming from Rockwood, Gresham, Troutdale and Pleasant Home. Good programs were rendered both morning and afternoon by local and other talent. The races were interesting, and many good horses were run. At the baby show a number of the "best babies" were entered. A ball in the evening closed the fair. This is the first Grange Fair held at Sandy and everyone was well pleased with the result. An interesting exhibit of fruit was metanely good. Exhibit of fruit was shown. Many freaks, both in vegetable and wood growths, were awarded prizes. The Jonsrud Lumber Co. and the Sandy Dry Co. had good commercial displays. The ladies had fine exhibits of sewing, embroidery and cooked foods. Bessie Canning was voted the most popular young lady. The committee, E. F. Burns, M. Thomas, E. P. McGuinn and J. G. D. Shazer, hope to enlarge the fair next year.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS WERE NEVER BETTER

Football prospects for the Oregon City high school are unusually bright this season, for there are many experienced knights of the platoon entering the high school, coming from graded schools of the county. Moore, Sheahan, Michaels, Sinnott and Kelly are enrolled from the McLaughlin Institute, and Joe Sheahan has been chosen captain. All of these boys have played several seasons. Cross and Wilson came from the Barclay Holmes from Mount Pleasant, Gault Graves and Hines from Gladstone, and Dambach, Griffin and Andrews from the Eastham. While there are only two men left from last year's high school team, Walsh and Clark, the new men have played the game and the individual work can be whipped into team playing. "Curly" Dr. Thomas, Jr., an old football star will be coach. The weight of the squad is about 150 pounds. The boys are out for practice every afternoon and their first game will probably be with the Gresham high school.

CLACKAMAS DRY BRINGS OUT CROWD

Campaign to suppress the liquor traffic in county arouses interest. The opening of the "Clackamas Dry" campaign at Parkplace Wednesday night was very enthusiastic, and 100 people were in the audience to hear C. Schuebel, Rev. S. A. Hayworth and John W. Loder talk of the pernicious effects of the liquor traffic. Mr. Schuebel has a glittering array of statistics to show the cost of criminals and insane in Oregon, and he blames the saloons for most of it. In the last session of the state legislature there was appropriated $1,134,642.35 for the care of criminals and insane and operating expenses of these institutions. There will be a mass meeting at Eagle Creek at 11 o'clock on next Sunday afternoon. Messrs. Schuebel, Loder, A. E. Frost and H. Y. Miller form a quartette that gives vocal selections at these meetings. At a meeting last Sunday in Beaver Creek there were 150 people in the audience.

MRS. BERNIER, WHO ALARMS THEM BY CALLING TO SONS.

It was a pleased gathering of matrons that filed out of the Armory at the conclusion of the Busch-Munson match Tuesday night. The bout was fast enough for anybody, and the game received a big boost in Oregon City.

GOOD WRESTLING AT THE ARMORY TUESDAY

BUSCH AND MUNSON STRUGGLED EIGHTY-NINE MINUTES BEFORE FIRST TUMBLE. Although Busch won from Munson he did not do so easily, and it took an hour and thirty-nine minutes before he could get the first fall. Munson was as slippery as an eel and quick as a flash. Several times Busch would have a good hold, well secured, and would be turning his opponent over, the crowd holding their breath, when Munson, with a twist, a jerk and a kick, would get out of harm's way. Time and again Busch would get a good hold, but Munson would merely watch him a while, then kick loose, just as the crowd were wondering how many bones were broken. Several half and whole nelsons were thrown, but finally Busch secured a whole nelson and succeeded in pinning his elusive opponent's shoulders to the mat. After the first fall, Munson became aggressive, pushed the German off the canvas, and tried, but not successfully, to get a body scissors. Busch soon regained his feet and secured the winning fall in one and one-half minutes. To the crowd it looked that Busch was considerably heavier than the Astoria instructor, although the German declares his weight to be 158. Munson's quickness and his ability for squirring out of tight places made quite a hit with the fans, while Busch still retains his supporters. Busch is seeking to arrange a return match with Strangler Smith. He agrees to throw the Strangler three times in an hour, but bars the strange hold, which near proved his undoing before.
