WHOSE OX IS GORED?

There seems to be a disposition on the part of the so-called "Independent" press throughout the State of Oregon to lambaste some candidates who have been endorsed by an assembly of their fellow-Republicans, and to support others and again to ignore the matter in other instances.

HAZING EFFECTUALLY ABOLISHED.

Hazing at the State University seems to be effectually abolished. Not only is hazing done away with, but also largely the desire for hazing. The drastic measures taken last year by the President in expelling from the University several second year men who indulged in a slight hazing of some Freshmen, coupled with the severe disapproval of all the Faculty, Alumni, and older students upon all forms of the practice of hazing, seem to have accomplished its stamping out.

Banking Is Our Business

We have nothing else to do. We give our undivided time and attention to banking. We also make it our business to furnish the people helpful bank service. You want real bank service; then make THIS BANK your bank, because you will get bank service that you will appreciate, that will help your business in more ways than you may now imagine.

not have secured the nomination for him. Mr. Clark and Mr. Hackett are Republican nominees and are certainly entitled to the same support as the other Republican nominees. Mr. Clark introduced in the Republican county assembly a resolution to adjourn without endorsing a county ticket, but it was voted down. Mr. Hackett did not attend the assembly. He did not seek the endorsement. It was given to him without solicitation. He is a fit candidate for sheriff of Clackamas County. He has had years of experience in the very office for which he is now a candidate, and the Enterprise does not believe that the Republicans of this county will vote against him for the sole reason that 30 or 40 men met in Oregon City and endorsed him.

In short it is simply the same old Democratic game to create dissension in the ranks of the Republican party for the sole purpose of electing candidates of the minority organization. It is and has been a pitiful spectacle for the Republicans of this county and state to allow themselves to be used as a club to place Democrats in office. When are you going to quit?

BOURNE AND HIS PROCLAMATIONS.

In this issue of The Enterprise there is published an open letter from Jay Bowerman, Republican nominee for Governor, to Jonathan Bourne, Jr., who, in a conspiracy with George Chamberlain to elect Oswald West Governor, issues one of his famous proclamations and advises the people of Oregon to vote for West.

The Republicans of Oregon have been taking orders from Jonathan for a long while, but this past apostrophe of corruption has taken one step too many, and Mr. Bowerman has rightfully donned his fighting clothes and joined Oregon's golf-playing Senator out into the open.

Bourne knows, as every other man knows, that he can never again be elected United States Senator under the Primary Law. The Republicans will not stand for him. If he should obtain a plurality of the votes in the Primary, there would unquestionably be an Independent Republican candidate in the field against him.

But with a Preferential Voting System, such as is now proposed, it would be smooth sailing, provided the legislature is willing to enact such a measure and a complacent Governor would call for a special election. Bowerman would not accept a substitute for the Primary Law, but Oswald West would do whatever George Chamberlain ordered.

Jonathan cannot go back to the Senate. His record shows that his much-heralded friendship of the people is pure "ruff." He is great on proclamations, but it is evident that he has "proclaimed" once too often. Jay Bowerman is the nominee of the Republican party for Governor, and when Bourne attempts to switch the Republican voters wholesale to the Democratic Bourne-Chamberlain machine candidate, he has a large round contract upon his hands.

HAZING EFFECTUALLY ABOLISHED.

Hazing at the State University seems to be effectually abolished. Not only is hazing done away with, but also largely the desire for hazing. The drastic measures taken last year by the President in expelling from the University several second year men who indulged in a slight hazing of some Freshmen, coupled with the severe disapproval of all the Faculty, Alumni, and older students upon all forms of the practice of hazing, seem to have accomplished its stamping out. Moral sanction this year alone is the rod of iron with which Freshmen are ruled. Obstreperous members are fast learning to walk uprightly from the simple reason that they respect the opinion of their fellows. This opinion among upper classmen that the least form of hazing, besides being thoroughly undemocratic, un-American, wholly at variance with the theory of American institutions, and above all extremely dangerous to the University, is so strong that its quiet leaven is working fast in the ranks of the 250 Freshmen. Freshmen who are absorbing the new spirit do not care to invite criticism and displeasure by foolishly tempting and daring upper classmen to retaliate. Thus, it is being demonstrated in the miniature republic of the University that the more effective weapon of administration is quiet moral suasion.

For the first time since the Populist days of 1896, a Fusion ticket has been nominated in the State of Washington, the ticket in question being that of five judges for the Supreme Court, which will be supported by Democrats and Insurgent Republicans, against the ticket named by the regular Republican convention. The five candidates comprise three Democrats and two Republicans, and the Fusion ticket is a protest against the action of the Republican legislature in taking the nomination of judges out of the direct primary and placing it back in the conventions. The Non-Partisan and Judiciary League first named the ticket, and the Democratic convention chose the same men. The Non-Partisan League is an organization of Insurgents, headed by the managers of the Populicist campaign. With the combined support, the ticket is expected to beat the nominees of the standard convention. The men nominated by the Democrats and Insurgents are William Hickman Moore, Seattle; P. M. Troy, Olympia, W. W. Tolman, Spokane; W. A. Grimshaw, Wenatchee, and Charles E. Shepard, Seattle.

Mount Hood will be enclosed within a national reserve if the petitions now being circulated for signatures accomplish their purpose. With its snow-capped peaks, great glaciers and dashing torrents, this mountain can be made a great national playground, easily accessible from this city, where thousands of people may seek recreation each summer. It is sought to have the same plan followed as has been done in creating the Mount Rainier reserve.

Oregon leads the whole country in apple production this season, according to the latest reports of the Department of Agriculture, which deals with orchard conditions up to September 1. The condition of the state's apple crop at that time was given as 93 per cent of a full crop, while its nearest competitor could show but 90 per cent. The condition of the crop throughout the whole country was given as 48.8 per cent of a full crop. The Northwest states make the best showing of all.

District fairs in the Northwest will probably have a circuit of their own next season so there will be no conflict in dates, as has been the case in the past. It is proposed to call a meeting of representatives of the various fairs in Oregon and Washington with a view to arranging the dates harmoniously. It is hoped to so change the present plan that the district fairs can be operated in connection with the State Fair circuit. Gresham, Pendleton and Canby, in this state, have their fairs on the same dates, September 23-October 3, inclusive, and Secretary Lavelle, of the Canby fair, has started a movement for harmonizing of dates.

Chehalis, Washington, is doing some good work in advancing new methods of burning out stumps on logged-off lands. The Citizens' Club of Chehalis recently held demonstrations of the charcoal method of burning stumps and the tests were successful. It is thought the general adoption of this means of clearing cut-over lands will be of great value to the Pacific Northwest.

FROM TOP TO BOTTOM.

Coming Election Will Show Real Friends of Primacy.

Eagle Creek, Ore., September 27
Editor of The Enterprise—
As a defeated assembly candidate for the nomination for Representative, I wish to hereby express to the many friends who so loyally supported me, my most sincere appreciation. I knew to begin with that the odds were overwhelmingly against me. The thing now to do is for the assembly and anti-assembly people to get together and support the ticket nominated by the people from top to bottom. If we are true to the direct primary law this will be done and if this is not done the direct primary is a failure and the voice of the people will soon be heard against it. Now is the time to show by action who are the real friends of the direct primary law.

HIGH SCHOOL IN ATHLETICS

FOOT BALL FEVER HAS STRUCK STUDENTS OF OREGON CITY AND WILLAMETTE.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN

Board of Control is Named and Great Interest is Manifested in All Activities of Student Body.

The student body of the Oregon City high school held a meeting last week to elect society, sporting and exchange editors on the staff of The Oregonian, filling vacancies due to resignations. The new staff for the high school periodical follows: Harold Smith, editor in chief; Louise Huntley, assistant editor; Boss Warner, literary editor; Marion Money, exchange editor; Hazel Tobias, society editor; Byron Moore, sporting editor; Ray Scott, circulation manager; Evelyn Harding, assistant circulation manager; Bothwell Avison, business manager; Thornton Howard, assistant manager.

E. J. S. Toome, city superintendent of schools, has announced the appointment of a committee of five, five from the faculty and three from the high school student body, to draft by-laws for the government of the athletic association. The committee is Miss Esther Johnson, Miss Louise Braze, Byron Moore, Miss Brightbill and Corliss Andrews.

E. J. S. Toome, Miss Esther Johnson, Miss Edna Canfield, Miss Eva Aldredge, and Thornton Howard have been named as Board of Control for the athletics of the Oregon City high school. The first three are members of the faculty and the latter two are representatives of the student body.

The Oregon City high school athletic association held a meeting Friday afternoon and approved the by-laws reported by the special committee appointed by City Superintendent Toome. It was decided to levy an assessment of 25 cents upon each member. Joe Aldredge was elected president, after a sharp fight, defeating Bothwell Avison by one vote. Pearl Francis was chosen vice-president and Miss Margaret McCulloch was elected secretary-treasurer. The membership embraces practically the entire student body of the high school.

The football fever has struck Willamette in common with other towns, and the Willamette school boys have organized a team and is open for engagements on the field of hat. Ernest Mass is manager of the team, and Thomas Johnson has been elected captain. The members of the aggregation of young athletes are: George Suddow, right end; Ernest Andrus, right tackle; Grover Granquest, right guard; Emil Volpp, center; Wallace Mass, left guard; Rex Britton, left tackle; Arthur Waldron, left end; Ernest Mass, left half; Thomas Johnson, right half; Leslie Henry, full back.

THOMPSON FOR COMMISSIONER

Democratic Farmer is Candidate for Place on County Court

Charles Thompson, a well known farmer of Stafford, has announced his candidacy for the position of County Commissioner. Mr. Thompson has been a resident of Clackamas County many years. He favors the construction of good roads and believes in permanent road work, and is strongly opposed to building county roads cheaply. He believes in an economic and businesslike administration of county affairs and respectfully solicits the votes of the electors of Clackamas county at the November election for the office of Commissioner.

London as It Was.
Haydn's "Dictionary of Dates" makes the statement that the old name of the city of London was written Lyden or Lyndin, meaning "the city on the lake." An old tradition gives us to understand that London was founded by Brito, a descendant of Aeneas, and called New Troy or Troynovant until the time of Lud, who surrounded the town with walls and named it Caer-Lud, or Lud's Town. This latter is probably the correct version of the story, if for no other reason because it is an easy matter to detect a similarity between the expression Lud's Town and London. It is claimed by some writers that there was a city on the same spot 1,107 years B. C. and it is known that the Romans founded a city there called Londinium A. D. 43.

BOURNE RESPONSIBLE

a duty of 12 1/2 cents a square yard (see paragraph 218, schedule 1) on the class of goods manufactured by your mill. When the mechanic, farmer or other citizen is compelled to purchase this class of goods and pay tribute to you and your plutocratic intimates and associates, on account of the official position given you by the people of Oregon, they can calm their outraged feelings by the happy thought that you secured this position and opportunity to plunder them and hope to continue in your present office by the use of resounding platitudes and windy commonplaces and the assertion that you are a friend of the people. How does 12 1/2 cents a square yard tariff on goods manufactured in your cotton print mill, which are used chiefly by poor people, compare with a duty of 25 per cent, to 50 per cent, on champagne? Did you make this great difference in order to encourage the use of champagne by your constituents and to induce them to dispense with the clothing customarily worn in this country? Probably you assume they will believe in your pretended friendship; pay you this exorbitant duty and then sing a sweet refrain in honor of their alleged friend.

Instances almost without end can be cited in which you voted to place your duty on articles which are worn by men of your aristocratic class or placed upon your tables, and in which you voted to place high duty on similar articles used by people in moderate and straightened circumstances. It would be a matter of more practical interest to the people of the state to receive from you a communication stating how much money this tariff bill places in your pocket each year and in what other way you have been benefited by your term in the Senate of the United States than to receive your dictatorial instructions as to whom they should cast their vote for.

How many citizens of Oregon, who "earn their bread by the sweat of their brow" honor you with their acquiescence? What effort have you ever made to account yourself with the desires, hopes or requirements of the people who make Oregon great, namely, the producers?

During the four years since you were elected Portland and the State of Oregon have suffered immense loss in commercial ways on account of your neglect of official duties. Within the last few months you stood by and without protest permitted the reclamation acts to be amended that this state lost over $5,000,000 which was due it and should have been invested in irrigation projects in Oregon. This loss is only a small part of the actual damage we have incurred by reason of your carelessness in this particular, our desert lands will continue to be inhabited by coyotes, jackrabbits and other creatures of the desert, when by the exercise of any reasonable diligence on your part these deserts would have been reclaimed and happy families would be inhabiting these lands, producing crops which would have supplied the needs of other portions of the state. Even when the Board of Army Engineers was here last month to examine the Umatilla project with a view of correcting some of your errors and omissions, you did not have sufficient interest in the welfare and development of this state to accompany the party or to urge upon the members the merits of our only eligible reclamation project. You have several times to mention golf and other pastimes, while our merchants have denied their reasonable portion of contracts for Government supplies. Yet you presume to dictate to the people of Oregon as to whether or not they shall support me.

In this interview you say: "All admire the courage of the man who goes down to defeat fighting for the principles in which he believes, but spurn with contempt the man who changes political creeds for the sake of victory," and "Chameleons and trucklers change their colors, but men of conviction fight for their principles to the death." Concerning some of these statements, there is no better authority in the state than yourself for within the memory of young men you have been a Democrat, a Republican, a Populist, a non-partisan and all the time a demagogue.

It is manifestly apparent to all that you are no more a Republican today than you were in 1896, when you undertook by treachery to use the office of secretary of the Republican State Central Committee, to assist in electing Mr. Bryan President of the United States. It is manifestly true that you are in league, and for some time have been working in complete harmony, politically and otherwise, with your Democrat colleague, Senator Chamberlain and his protégé and legate, the Democratic nominee for Governor of this state. While you prate about reform and the good of the people, you expect the office of Governor of this state, if it can be placed in the hands of Mr. West, for the purpose of returning you to the Senate of the United States and to perpetrate a further outrage upon the people of the country, and of course the other partner in this political compact expects at the end of his term to be rewarded by re-election. You desire to convey to the people that I have sought to return to the old system of electing United States Senators, and by the old system I refer to that method made damnable by your own practices, which are well known to our citizens; which practices were instituted and contributed to by yourself and associates, and yet you know, and the record of this state will prove conclusively, that I have never at any time favored or undertaken such a course. You know that I voted for you in 1907, because the people of the district I represented gave you their votes, and that I did this notwithstanding the fact that I held you in the most utter contempt, both as a man and a public official. I told you when you asked me whether I would support you, that I expected to do so solely upon the ground that your constituents had expressed a desire to have you re-elected, and when I cast the vote for you I wanted you distinctly to understand it was the vote of the people of Gilliam, Wheeler and Sherman counties, and not my personal choice. In 1904, when I was first a candidate for the office of State Senator, I prom-

PAINTS & VARNISHES

The first thing to know about paints and varnishes is that house paint will not do for freight-cars and that piano varnish will not do for floors. This is true of all surfaces—each requires a different treatment. You can no more get good results from a finish made for all surfaces than you can be cured of all diseases with one medicine—beware of the paint or varnish that is recommended for all kinds of purposes. Your problem is to find the paint or varnish best suited to the surface you wish to cover. The Sherwin-Williams Co. have worked out this problem for everyone—for every surface. The right quality in their products protects and beautifies longest the surface for which each is intended. This right quality has made them the largest manufacturers of paints and varnishes in the world.

HUNTLEY BROS. CO. THE QUALITY STORE

For Governor, Hits Straight the people of my district that I would vote for that man for United States Senator whom I believed they would wish me to. This was before the direct primary law was adopted or even drawn. Statement No. 1 at that time was unheard of, and your own unsavory reputation was so apparent and notorious that I did not expect I would be compelled to vote for you; nevertheless, when by the use of money and artifice you did carry the district I represented, I cast the vote intrusted to me for you. In 1898 I was again a candidate for the office of Senator, and again I promised the people of these counties that I would cast their vote for United States Senator for the man chosen by them. Mr. Calkins carried each of the three counties I represent and, in fulfillment of that promise, in 1899 I voted for Mr. H. M. Calkins.

I wish to call your attention to the further fact that in the recent primary I not only received more votes than you did when you were a candidate for United States Senator, but that the plurality given me was nearly four times as large as yours. As soon as you were nominated in 1906 you cried for party harmony and the support of the united party. I not only gave you my vote in 1907, but bowed to the will of the people as to your election and successfully supported the man for president of Senate whom you desired; you claimed that unless your candidate for president of the Senate was elected, that the will of the people would be thwarted and you would be defeated. Since your election I have asked you for nothing and do not ever expect to ask or receive at your hand any favor or courtesy, official or otherwise. Even the courtesy of a letter thanking me for the assistance rendered in bringing about your election was not forthcoming.

I entered the contest under the primary law in good faith. I publicly announced that I would support

In preparing for a journey the telephone performs a great variety of services. Reservations are made, last directions are given, good-byes are said, over the wire.
