ing Wednesday night, and transacted considerable business of a routine character, electing James Roake a member of the Board of Water Commissioners, in place of Bruce Zumwalt, who resigned, as he is going to leave the city. Several petitions for liquor licenses were granted, and the petition of John Reibberger to have the viewers make another estimate of the damages to his property by reason of the improvement of Eleventh street was referred back to the viewers and the City Attorney. Two petitions relating to the improvement of the alley in block 60 were laid on the table. E. G. Caulfield declined to serve as one of a board of viewers and S.
M. Ramsby was appointed in his place.
A petition from Rev. Schmitt, pastor of the Lutheran Church, to establish a grade on a portion of J. Q. Adams street was filed, as the council proposes to establish the grade on the entire street.The council ordered the improvement of three streets: Monroe from Third to Fourteenth, Sixth from High to Jackson, and Ninth from Seventh to Taylor. The committee on fire and water was given until the next meeting to report in relation to the purchase of a chemical engine for the hose company at Ely.Bids were opened for the improve-

On the Hill,
OREGON CITY.Roseburg is the latest community to testify that consistent publicity work pays. Within the past month 44 families have notified Publicity Manager Schloesser, of the Roseburg Commercial Club, of their intention to locate in the vicinity of that place during the coming winter or spring.The vanguard of the fall colonist travel from the East and Middle West to Oregon is arriving on every train.
Reports from the Immigration officials of the railroads are to the effect that this travel will be heavy and that a large number of new citizens will reach Oregon this year. People of the state should make special efforts to welcome the newcomers and make them feel at home in their new environment. Help should be given in helping them find suitable locations.
Oregon people have a distinct duty to perform in giving aid and comfort to the home-seeker who will be with us in large numbers this fall.The movement for good roads in the states of the Northwest has received a great impetus from the automobile owners, and the organization last week of the Western Automobile Association, which numbers among its members the auto clubs of the cities of the Northwest, will be an important event in the campaign for better highways. While the farmer and the motorist are not always friendly, they agree on the good roads question.
All over Washington the county commissioners selected at the primary election of Sept. 13 were pledged to the good roads cause. Slowly but surely this movement is assuming the importance it deserves.The flow of immigration into the Northwest has received a new impetus this month through the inauguration by the leading railroads of Colonists rates from eastern points to the Northwest. These rates have formerly been confined to a few months in the spring, when the westward travel of new settlers has always been heavy. People have the moving spirit in the spring season and for that reason the special rates have always been advertised at that season. Now the railroads have decided that wise settlers will come west in the fall, when business is at its best. If they settle in cities they have the advantage of starting in when the return of activity comes after the summer lull. If they take up land or buy farms, they have the winter to prepare for the spring sowing, to erect necessary buildings, fences, etc. Reports of the first few days of the autumn colonist rates on the Northern Pacific indicate that the plan will be a success, and other roads will probably handle a good business.
A uniform west-bound rate of $25 from St. Paul and Missouri River points, $33 from Chicago and $32 from St. Louis has been made to attract newcomers.The Polka.
The polka is the natural dance for the feet of the people. Take in evidence its origin. A Bohemian peasant girl was seen dancing "out of her own head," extemporizing from the sheer joy of her heart song, tune and steps.
This she did on a Sunday afternoon in Elbelesnitz, and an artist, one Josef Neruda, who spied her, made a note of all he saw. The people of the town adopted the dance and called it the polka, half step. In 1835 it reached Prague and Vienna in 1840; thence it spread rapidly through Europe. When M. Cellarius introduced it to the Parisians we hear that all else gave way before "the all absorbing pursuit, the polka, which embraces in its qualities the intimacy of the waltz with the vicinity of the Irish jig."—Cassell's Magazine.It is in time of sudden mishap or accident that Chamberlain's Liniment can be relied upon to take the place of the family doctor, who cannot always be found at the moment. Then it is that Chamberlain's Liniment is never found wanting. In cases of sprains, cuts, wounds and bruises Chamberlain's Liniment takes out the soreness and drives away the pain.

612 Main Street Oregon City, Oregon

E. C. Hackett has been a part and parcel of Clackamas County for all his life, and has assisted in the appointing of the same and is a worthy son thereof. The Republicans have selected him at the primary as their candidate for Sheriff, and thus say that he is entitled to the support of the people and of all loyal Republicans.He is qualified to fill the position, having served as chief deputy for the late J. R. Shaver, and having experienced the duties of the County several times, and once for the State.He is a believer in our Direct Primary Law and would like to see all servants of the people elected by a direct vote of the same, and commencing with our President and coming on down to Constable. The office of Sheriff now requires a man of some experience and ability and Hackett is the man who knows how.
If you consider the matter seriously,
