Old Mother Goose and Her Children, in "The Cow and the Moon," at the Bungalow, opening Sunday Matinee October 23.

pinnacle of fame. He will open his engagement Sunday, matinee, and give a matinee Saturday also. The children should all see this wonderful scenic attraction.

"The Cow and the Moon" is a companion and a continuation of "The Cat and the Fiddle," the success of the latter having prompted Mr. Sellon to exert his best efforts in making his new production one of the most elaborate of any of the modern day musical extravaganzas.

SCHERER WILL FILED.

Five Heirs to Estate With Valuation of $11,520.

The will of George Scherer was Wednesday filed for probate, with George C. Brownell as attorney, and Mrs. Kate Scherer Schwabauer, daughter of Mr. Scherer, is named as administratrix without bonds.

Mr. Scherer was formerly a resident of Mackburg, where he had a large farm, and died recently in the East while on a visit with relatives. His remains were brought to Canby by his children, where they were interred. His wife died about one year ago.

DAIRY INSPECTOR PRAISED.

M. S. Shrock's Efforts Commended by Creamery Men.

W. P. Kirehem, president of the Clear Creek Creamery Co. and one of the most prominent farmers in Clackamas County is not at all backward about recommending the good work of State Deputy Dairy Inspector, M. S. Shrock.

The dairy inspector shows the farmer how to better care for the cream and to place it in the hands of the butter maker in good condition, consequently the quality of the butter is much improved.

As a positive proof of the improved condition of the cream, Mr. Kirehem stated that the first prize butter exhibited at the Clackamas County Fair was not made from a special churning but was made from the cream just as it came to the factory without selecting or special care.

Mr. Kirehem is not only a dairyman but a fruit grower. He has two boxes of apples on display in the Commercial Club rooms, which are larger in size than the Spitzenbergs that are grown at Hood River.

MEN OF OREGON!

Do You Know

That during only a few weeks' circulation, 40,000 of your fellow-citizens signed a written protest against statewide prohibition?

That had it been necessary to go further, fully four-fifths of the voters would have signed it?

That this list of signers includes farmers, ministers, physicians, ranchers, lawyers, workingmen, and almost without exception, the leading bankers and business men of the State?

That it includes the names of many men who vote "dry" in their own community?

Why? Because

Statewide prohibition absolutely kills local option, and the people of Oregon want local option. They want a voice in the settlement of this question in their own community. It is their right.

Statewide prohibition robs you of that right.

It robs you of the right to have cider, beer, or liquor, in your own home! It makes it a crime to give your friend or neighbor a glass of cider.

It permits any officer, special or regular, to break open your door at midnight and search your wife's or mother's room for liquor! Do you want that kind of law in Oregon?

Maine, on September 12, 1910, repudiated its prohibition law of 57 years' standing by electing, for the first time in 30 years, a Democratic governor upon his pledge to re-submit the constitutional prohibition law. It was not political insurgency that turned the tide, but insurgency against statewide, obnoxious, ineffective prohibition, so-called. Will Oregon profit by Maine's error of threescore years?

Nothing is settled until it is settled right.

Let us settle it now and settle it right.

The Home Rule bill (No. 328 on the ballot) permits cities to vote on prohibition within their own limits. It permits any precinct or number of precincts within a city, or any precinct or number of precincts or the whole county outside the cities, to vote for or against prohibition, as they choose. Under this bill every city in every county, and every county in the State, may vote "dry" if they so desire.

But

- If you want to preserve your rights;
If you want local option—which means Home Rule;
If you want your glass of beer, cider or liquor at home—even tho' you are opposed to the saloon—
You MUST vote these numbers (cut them out and put them in your pocket as a reminder):

- 328 x Yes. For Home Rule.
343 x No. Against Prohibition Amendment.
345 x No. Against Prohibition Search Law.

Think it over!

Respectfully,

GREATER OREGON HOME RULE ASSOCIATION.

Prohibition attempts to override an individual and inherent right. That's why failure invariably follows enactment of the law. It takes the liquor traffic from licensed dealers who are subject to regulation and gives it to lawbreakers who are willing to sell to minors, drunkards—anybody for gain.

P. S.—Ask your Prohibitionist friend to answer this question: If, as they claim, 38 million people are now living in "dry" territory, why is it that the U. S. Internal Revenue Department shows that more whiskey and more beer is consumed than ever before?
