Mr. Coe presented the men with a box of his choicest apples, but told them that he would "draw the line" to voting with them.

What a Great Man Said to the Great American People. Parisian Sage is a discovery of a celebrated scientist, who spent the best years of his life perfecting this great hair tonic.

In giving his recipe to the American people, he said: "Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair dressing in the world. It cures dandruff by killing the germs that infest the roots of the hair; it stops falling hair; it gives vigor and strength to the hair roots. Huntley Bros. Co. sells Parisian Sage at 50 cents a large bottle and guarantees it to do all that is claimed for it, or your money is refunded. It stops falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks."

Lazelle deserves great credit. The meeting next Saturday eve promises to be even better. With Miss Alice Boylan as editor, the paper will be both amusing and instructive. The following officers were elected for three months: President, Marvin Paulk; vice president, M. J. Lazelle; secretary, Miss E. M. Brodie; treasurer, Miss Lottie McDonald; sergeant at arms, D. L. Boylan.

On last Sunday morning our neighborhood was disheartened by the sorrowful news of the untimely death of our friend and brother, Irving Boylan.

As a boy we had known Irving. We had known his parents, friends and relatives. He was raised among us with pride and nurture but the best could be spoken of him.

And when in his early manhood at the age of nineteen, he is taken by death, it seems unjust. We have been robbed of a young man of high morals and ambitions.
