MORNING ENTERPRISE.

In the year, 1866 the weekly edition of the Oregon City Enterprise was born. In the 44 years that have elapsed the Enterprise has gone into thousands of homes every week, carrying with it the news of this city and county. It has been a welcome visitor and has maintained its place as the one newspaper of Clackamas County that has at all times supplied its readers with the actual news happenings of this section without fear or favor. It has made for itself a place that no competitor can take away or supply.

But in Clackamas County there are 30,000 people, and probably 6,000 homes, and the weekly edition of the Enterprise goes into 1700 of them, and every issue is read by about 8500 people. But there are 20,000 people in Clackamas who have not been content with a weekly newspaper, who want the news every day, when it is fresh and the demand has finally come to us for a daily edition.

Two months ago three men were placed in the field to feel the pulse of the reading public in Oregon City and on the six rural routes running out from the city into the country. They made a careful canvass and were greeted with such encouragement that the publisher of The Enterprise has concluded to commence the publication of a morning edition of this newspaper.

The first issue will come from the press Sunday morning, January 8, and will be issued every morning except Monday. Four pages of seven columns each will be published, and the paper will contain all the news of Oregon City and Clackamas County. The subscription price will be $3 per year by mail, and 10 cents a week or 45 cents a month, by carrier. For a limited time, however, we are making a special offer on mail routes of $2 per year and by carrier $3 per year, the special rate applying when one year's subscription is paid in advance. Residents of Oregon City and Clackamas County are invited to subscribe for this new daily morning edition of The Enterprise.

Its readers are promised a news service that no other newspaper in this county will be able to duplicate. The Enterprise feels it has a right to expect liberal support from the people of this city and county in the publication of a daily newspaper that will be a constant advertisement for the growth and progress of Clackamas. Without such support a daily newspaper cannot endure. Energy and activity will be behind the publication, which should be a marked success from the start.

That Oregon will have a population of 1,200,000 when the next census rolls round is the prediction of R. B. Miller, traffic manager of the Harriman lines in the Northwest. He bases his figures on the constant western trend of populations as disclosed by former census statistics. He estimates that the United States will have a population of 112,000,000. This additional population, he believes, will pour westward to find an outlet in the vacant agricultural lands of the Coast states. Nowhere is there a greater area of unclaimed land than in Oregon and the migration will cover this area as it seeks new territory to occupy.

Engene celebrated the conclusion recently of a whirlwind campaign for new members of the Commercial Club that brought 150 additional persons into the fold. A banquet marked the close of the contest and the club will enter upon the new year with a good deal of enthusiasm. Among the big plans now being considered is the erection of a Commercial Club building for permanent headquarters.

The prevalence of smallpox in the West side of the river and the fresh conduct of some of these undestrables in offering insults to women and girls on Oregon City's streets are added reasons why the Commercial Club and the Live Wires should put forth every effort to induce the paper mills to disperse with the services of these foreigners. The patience of a long-suffering people is remarkable.

The Oregon National Guard Association will meet at Albany January 4 and 5 in the new armory recently completed there. Business coming before the state organization will be transacted and a large attendance of O. N. G. officers is expected. Albany people will provide the visitors with special features and entertainment.

Baker is the first city in Oregon to adopt the commission plan of government. It is working successfully and it is likely other communities in this state will follow the lead of the Eastern Oregon capital in revising the present methods of administering affairs.

Klamath Falls will have the first Postal Savings Bank in Oregon. The Government is preparing to establish such an institution there and if this sort of a bank is popular, other Oregon cities will have them.

BORING JUSTICE IS UNDER ARREST

CHARGE IS MADE THAT GOODEN IS GUILTY OF EMBEZZLEMENT—LODGED IN CITY JAIL.

Some time in July a warrant was issued for the arrest of G. Gooden, justice of the peace at Boring, on the charge of embezzlement. But when the officer went to Boring to serve the warrant the accused was nowhere to be found and it was charged at the time that a tip had been given him and that he fled the country. The warrant was then filed away for the day on which accused should return to Clackamas county.

Tuesday Gooden appeared in Oregon City and the officers were notified of that fact. Tuesday night Constable Miles went to Boring and arrested Gooden. When brought to the city the accused was in an intoxicated condition and was lodged in the jail awaiting a condition to plead to the warrant.

It is to be said in favor of the accused that he was about the city Tuesday making an effort to settle matters amicably, thus righting the wrong and avoiding arrest. The case is in Justice Samson's court for adjudication.

EPISCOPAL RECTOR TO PREACH SUNDAY

REV. ROBINSON HAS A REPUTATION FOR WORK WITH BOYS AND YOUNG MEN.

Officials of St. John's Episcopal church received word Thursday that Rev. Charles U. Robinson, of Philadelphia, the newly-called rector, will arrive in Oregon City in time to occupy the pulpit in that church on the first Sunday in the new year. The members of the congregation are pleased to know this and will at once prepare to give him a royal welcome.

Rev. Robinson comes with the highest recommendations from brother rectors in the work in Eastern Pennsylvania. As he is young and active the congregation here anticipates aggressive work on the part of their new rector.

One of the activities of the church work that especially appeals to Rev. Robinson is the work among young men and boys, in which he has been eminently successful in the past. Members of the congregation in this city, who are familiar with the needs of this field and parish, affirm that the new rector will find a wide field for his talents in working among that portion of the population here.

Members of the Episcopal congregation who investigated the criticisms of Rev. Robinson are of the opinion that it is wise for the better element of the city's population, regardless of creed, to give him a warm welcome when he arrives in this city to begin work.

Ely Hop Yard to Be Platted. C. T. Toose, a local real estate dealer, has purchased the Ely hop yard, at Mount Pleasant, and will plat it and put it on the market for residence lots. As it is easy of access to people living in Oregon City it is believed the lots will find ready sale. Schooley & Kuppenbender will have charge of the property.

MASONIC ORDER ENJOY A BANQUET

JOINT INSTALLATION OF LOCAL SOCIETIES FOLLOWED BY A BANQUET.

THREE LOCAL ORDERS PARTICIPATE

J. E. Hedges Acts As Toastmaster—The Feast Was One That Will Be Long Remembered.

Multnomah Lodge No. 1. A. F. & A. M., Clackamas Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, and Pioneer Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held joint installation Tuesday night with appropriate ceremony. Following the ritualistic work an elaborate banquet took place at which J. E. Hedges presided as toastmaster. The menu was toothsome and many neat speeches were made. The following officers were installed:

Multnomah Lodge—Alvin H. Milley, worshipful master; Elmer A. Chapman, senior warden; N. T. Humphry, junior warden; William Beard, treasurer; S. L. Stevens, secretary; Henry O'Malley, senior deacon; Don E. Mel drum, junior deacon; Theodore Osmund, senior steward; Charles C. Spencer, junior steward; E. H. Cooper, tyler. The installation was conducted by Past Master William Beard and Marshal J. E. Hedges, Past Master.

Clackamas Chapter—John H. Walker, high priest; William Beard, king; Max Bollack, scribe; Henry O'Malley, captain of the host; Don E. Mel drum, principal squire; Fred Miller, Jr., royal arch captain; Theodore Osmund, master of the third vall; W. Inman, master of the second vall; R. W. Baker, master of the first vall; E. A. Chapman, secretary; J. E. Hedges, treasurer; E. H. Cooper, sentinel. Past High Priest W. A. Huntley conducted the installation and he was presented with a handsome Masonic jewel.

Pioneer Chapter—Mrs. E. T. Aylson, worthy matron; C. J. Buchanan, worthy patron; Mrs. George Anderson, associate matron; Miss Helen Daulton, secretary; Mrs. E. T. Fields, treasurer; Mrs. P. W. Greenman, conductress; Mrs. William Money, associate conductress; Mrs. C. C. Spencer, warder; Mrs. Mary M. Charman, chaplain; Miss Myrtle Buchanan, Ada; Mrs. E. P. Rands, Ruth; Mrs. A. Matheson, Esther; Mrs. J. H. Walker, Martha; Mrs. C. W. Evans, Electra; Miss Gertrude Fairclough, organist; Mrs. Maggie Gardner, marshal; Mrs. E. H. Cooper, sentinel. Mrs. Linn E. Jones, past worthy matron and Mrs. William Money, marshal, conducted the installation.

FISHERMEN WANT A WIDE OPEN RIVER

PROTECTIVE UNION WILL FIGHT ROD AND GUN CLUB'S MOVE TO CLOSE IT.

The Fishermen's Protective Union held a meeting last night at 7 o'clock, which was well attended. The principal matter of business up for discussion was the question of an open river for fishing. The claim is made that the Portland Rod and Gun Club is trying to close the Willamette River to commercial fishing, retaining it as a preserve for the club and its members, and it is said that the club is planning to have the needed legislation enacted at the coming session of the legislature. This the fishermen on the river do not wish done.

A committee was appointed to look after the matter. Messrs. Chas. Ely, Isaac Percival and O. Rosenstrater, of Oswego, being named on the committee. Not only will this committee look after the interests of the fishermen along the river, but it will see that the interests of the members of the union are brought to the attention of the legislature when it meets in January. M. A. Magone, of Bolton, who is one of the members of the legislature from this county, is a member of the union and in hearty sympathy with the open river proposition.

Hitching Racks or Feed Barn. Some months ago the Commercial Club had the question up of building hitching racks on the streets for the convenience of farmer friends coming to the city to trade. At that time no agreement could be arrived at as to where to erect them, and the project came to an abrupt halt. In view of the innocuous denotative state of the hitching rack proposition Merchant Frank Busch suggests that some one build a barn in the neighborhood of Twelfth or Thirteenth streets for the convenience of farmer friends.

County Clerk Names Deputies.

Miss Iva Harrington and Miss Emma Quinn will be appointed deputies in the office of County Clerk-elect W. L. Mulvey, who succeeds F. W. Greenman next Monday. Miss Harrington has been in the office of County Clerk Greenman for some time. Miss Quinn was for several years connected with the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Recorder Names His Deputies.

County Recorder-elect Lloyd E. Williams, who returned yesterday from an Eastern trip, this morning announced the appointment of Mrs. Anna B. Williams as chief deputy, and Miss Nellie Derby and Miss Margaret C. Mulvey as clerks in his office. Mr. Williams will succeed Recorder C. E. Ramsby next Monday.

Chief Deputy to Sheriff.

J. O. Staats, of Oak Grove, will be chief deputy in the office of Sheriff E. P. Mass, who succeeds R. B. Beattie January 2. Mr. Staats is in the mercantile business at Oak Grove and was a candidate on the Democratic ticket for Justice of the Peace at the November election.

LAST CAR LEAVES FOR OREGON CITY AT MIDNIGHT
BAKER COMPANY IN "GIRLS"

First Stock Production of Clyde Fitch's "Girls" Clever Comedy Next Week.

There is no more popular play on the boards today than Clyde Fitch's clever comedy, "Girls," which will receive its first stock production in this city at the Baker next week. It has a record of a whole year on Broadway and has just been released for stock purposes opening next Sunday matinee with Thurston Hall, the new leading man, who has sprung into instant popularity in a role entirely different from his opening in "The Dollar Mark," while Miss Fowler, the second woman, will also have splendid opportunities to add new laurels to her immensely pleasing debut of last week. Another new face will be seen here the coming week also, that of Gene Yarbrough, whom Manager Baker has brought from his Spokane Company especially to play one of the principal roles in "Girls." These three pretty and talented young women have formed themselves into an amateur man hating club, and are making their own way in the world, living in a small apartment, and on the surface at least eminently pleased with their condition of absolute independence of the masculine sex. But their hearts are all beating in the truly feminine way, and their separate fates are most amusingly and cleverly worked out as the comedy proceeds. The whole play is a remarkable satire on the modern woman, and shows beyond question that when the right man comes along, all the grand old quest vows and declarations of independence crumble to the dust where they rightfully belong. It is a lesson for you women with suffragette alliments to take to heart, and one told BEATRICE NICHOLS, ingenue with Baker Stock Company at the Baker Theatre in "Girls." Week Opening Sunday Matinee, January 1, 1911.

"Honeymoon Trail." "Honeymoon Trail," the biggest, brightest, wittiest and most melodious of all the LaSalle Theatre (Chicago) musical comedies, successes, and a sinner play to "A Stubborn Cinderella," is the attraction.

"Honeymoon Trail" was written by those clever writers, Hough, Adams and Howard, a trio who have contributed ten musical successes of the first order to the contemporary American stage. It contains more comedy and more catchy music than any of the authors' other efforts and is the attraction at the Hellig. The tired business man forgets his troubles, the skeptic forgets to scoff at the theatre, the student forgets his books, and the dullard forgets his dullard. They all leave the theatre looking at things from a brighter standpoint. "Honeymoon Trail" is witty, bright and tuneful to a superlative degree, and furnishes its auditors more real entertainment and pleasure than does any musical comedy on tour in this country today. This season's cast is a notable one. To quote the New Orleans Picayune: "It is a thousand

Ned Wayburn's Dancing Brownies in "Honeymoon Trail" at the Hellig. Ned Wayburn's Dancing Brownies in "Honeymoon Trail" at the Hellig. was fittingly described by the Chicago Tribune as "a play with a thousand laughs."

This season's company is a notable one, containing such well-known and high-salaried performers as Louis Kelso, Fred Wyckoff, Arline Ewing, Carl George and Clara Dalton, together with many other principals of lesser prominence. The chorus is a feature, and consists of thirty of the spriest and handsomest girls ever seen with a "road" attraction. "Ned Wayburn's Dancing Brownies," the famous septette of "dancing broilers" are a distinctive novelty. The music of "Honeymoon Trail" is of the "whistleable" kind and is usually heard on the streets of every city which the attraction visits for many weeks after its engagement.

"Honeymoon Trail." If you are tired, discouraged or "blue," a prescription better than many dollars' worth of medicine is a visit to that sparkling musical comedy success, "Honeymoon Trail," which received here, although the price is 40 cents per dozen. The hog market showed an upward tendency throughout the week and reached $5.00 for one choice load. Buyers were of the opinion that the market would remain at the low level of the early part of the month but the light supplies with the heavy demand put prices up on a high plane.

Due to the demand for some extra quality Christmas beef offerings that came up to the demand met ready sale at rather extravagant prices. These are not truly representatives of the market, which on its real basis was 25 to 50 cents higher than the week before. The sale of a choice lot of prime steers at $7.50 and one extra fancy steer at $14.50 were aside from the ruling market. Cows sold as high as $5.50 and fairly good steers at from $5.50 to $5.25.

An extra lot of lambs sold for $7.00 and one fat lot sold for $5.65. The market on sheep has been strong to higher with the demand almost exclusively for hay or grain fed animals. Business in all the departments of the grain market is still restricted by the almost total absence of demand, and no improvement is likely to occur before next week. In the meantime, farmers and other holders are not offering supplies on the market. Prices are therefore largely nominal.

No sales were reported in any of the Coast hop markets yesterday. An offer of 17 cents was made for George Rose's crop and refused. A California wire reported that market firmer and a shade higher.

SERIOUS CHARGE BY MRS. NELSON LOCAL TEACHERS ENJOY INSTITUTE

(Continued from page 1) ruined, and she had been mistreated to a considerable extent. The outcry alarming the Austrians they took their departure and the two women entered Mrs. Hopkins' home and told the story of their insult. Monday Mrs. Nelson went before Assistant Prosecutor Stipp and made complaint. A warrant was sworn to in Justice Samson's court and Constable Miles went out to bring the accused in. Mrs. Nelson went with Officer Miles to the home of the Austrians who live at Taylor and Eighth streets, where she identified a man who gave his name as Lucas Brodovich as the one who assaulted her. He was at once taken into custody by Officer Miles and taken to the city prison. Friends appeared and later in the day he was arranged before Justice Samson who set the day for his examination on Thursday at 2 p. m. Later he gave bail and was released pending examination.

GIRLS ACCOSTED BY GREEKS.

Attempt Made to Flirt With Them While on Way Home. Another case of attempted familiarity with young girls on the street by foreigners was made Wednesday night about 9:30. The attempt was made on Seventh street, near the park, and the young girls accosted were Misses Effie Jefferson and Nora Tobin. As these young girls were returning home along Seventh street they came upon two Greeks who were standing at the side of the street. As the girls approached one of the men made advances to the girls and tried to strike up a flirtation with them. Not receiving any encouragement the two men proceeded to follow the girls and finally taking positions in advance of them and trying to strike up a conversation as the girls would come up to them and pass them. Becoming frightened the girls both stopped at the blacksmith shop near J. Q. Adams street and requested the company home of D. O. Jones, a young man employed there. He accompanied them and from that time the Greeks kept at a distance, a few paces ahead. No further molestation was attempted. The elder girl is the daughter of Mrs. Julia Jefferson, living at the corner of Sixth and J. Q. Adams streets.

SUPERINTENDENT TOOSE Is Honored in Superintendents' and Teachers' Associations.

F. J. S. Toose, superintendent of the Oregon City schools, is chairman of the legislative committee of the state teachers' association and county superintendents' association. The legislation proposed is the enactment of a law providing for a text book commission to be made up of five members, at least three of which shall be public school men, actually engaged in public school work. The legislature will also be asked to provide for giving of credit for regular reading circle work in examination of teachers for certificates. It is also intended to secure the passage of a bill providing for normal work in one high school in each county, those graduating to be certificated for rural school work. Mr. Toose was also chairman of the committee on resolutions at the meeting of the state teachers' association and the joint teachers' institute that closed at Portland last week.

Word Comes of Son Born.

Word was received in this city on Wednesday by Mrs. C. C. Balsegck that a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Paquet, of Bath, Maine, on December 17. Mr. Paquet was a former Oregon City boy, and is well known here, being the son of the late Peter Paquet, at one time receiver of the United States land office. Mr. Paquet is a marine architect, and states that "although his work is in the East, his heart is in the West."
