Handsome Calendars Given by Business Houses.

Some of the most attractive calendars ever gotten out by the business men of this city, are those of this year, and many of the homes of the county are adorned with them, as some are deserving of handsome frames. Among those who have distributed to their friends and persons are J. J. Sandness, Son & Company, their calendar being "Heart's Desire," photographed from life and hand-colored, published by the Osborne Company. A special mounting is given the picture by the use of papers of rich shades and texture, yielding a finished effect of real decorative value and unique distinction. W. H. Lacke has for his subject in the calendar line, and which there has been a large demand for, is entitled "Flora." This is of photographic print, colored by hand, and those receiving same readily appreciate the effect of rare softness and beauty that has been secured by this blending of two arts in the making of the calendar. The colors are lavender and green. "Where Love Abides" and "Down Upon the Suwannee River," are the titles of the handsome calendars that have been gotten out by A. Koehler. The former is the work by the great painter, Albert Herter, A. N. A., and shows a most comfortable home with the mother and two little children gathered in the living room, awaiting the time of the return of the father. The little girl has fallen asleep beside her blocks, while the baby is nestled in its mother's arms. The latter picture is from the original painting by Edwin Lamasure, and is the work of the Osborne Company. The river of cream is building a six room house, and almost completed. When Mr. Lamb purchased the 22 acre farm an old building was used as a residence, but this has been demolished, and the new one built in its place.

Cream Arriving Daily at Creamery.

Each cream has arrived at the creamery during the past few days, and which has necessitated the manager, J. C. Kaulbach, to put in many extra hours to get out the butter for which there is a large demand. Last week the output was over 3900 pounds, and from all indications so far this week, this number will be much greater.

Since the establishing of this plant in Canby, much satisfaction is felt among many of the dairymen, and saves them the trouble of shipping it to Portland. Heretofore they were obliged to bring it to Canby and ship it themselves, while now the cream haulers call at their homes for it.

Mr. M. J. Lee Entertains.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lee entertained their relatives at a few intimate friends at their home Tuesday evening. Among the amusements of the evening was the manager game. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee was made very attractive by the decorations appropriate for the holiday season.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bair, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckerson, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Clark, of Roseburg, Miss Frances Cobb, Miss Alma Knight, Miss Josie Knight, Messrs. Arthur Knight, B. Roy Lee.

The flowers are blooming in the yard, and considered to be quite a curio.

The marriage of Miss Willie Huirsas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Huirsas, of this city, and Mr. Fred Howard, was solemnized in this city Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Meetings Well Attended.

The meetings that are being conducted by Rev. Robert Johnston and assistants of Minneapolis, Minn., in the big tabernacle that was constructed opposite the City Hotel, are being largely attended. A chorus of trained voices is held every night of the week, except Mondays.

On Sunday there will be union meetings of the Methodist, Christian and Norwegian Lutheran churches, no services being conducted in those churches on Sunday as long as these meetings are being held in the tabernacle.

Mr. Steeves is in charge of the choir, and Miss Lillian Wang is acting as pianist.

The tabernacle has a seating capacity of 600 people, and was built by some of the men of this city, who donated their work, and completed it in four days, after being started.

Fine Work on Exhibit.

What is attracting no little attention in the store of A. Koehler is the mounting of several birds including the mowee and Chinese pheasant, a quail and one mink. The work was done by Roy Mundek, and well may this young man be proud of his skill in this manner he has mounted two cases. They are enclosed in glass cases, and a background formed of bright colored stone and grasses, making most attractive. These are to be sold by chance, and many numbers have already been disposed of.

New House Under Construction.

Another modern home is being constructed near this city, making one of the many that have been constructed here during the past few months. W. G. Lamb, employed by the Corvallis Creamery Company, has a fine new cream house building a six room house, and almost completed. When Mr. Lamb purchased the 22 acre farm an old building was used as a residence, but this has been demolished, and the new one built in its place.

SANTA CLAUS PRESENTS FINE GIFTS

Officers of Society Deliver Addresses and Fine Program is Rendered—Elaborate New Year's Dinner Served.

One of the most pleasant occasions of New Year's Day in this city was the annual celebration of Christmas of the Deutsche Verein, at Knapp's Hall, Sunday evening. The hall was decorated with festoons of evergreen and American and German flags, with a banner of Old Erin, typical of the coming union of the German and Irish societies in America. The Christmas tree was laden with the fruit of the season. The Oregon City orchestra rendered excellent music, and about 500 representatives of the German people of this county assembled and had full enjoyment. The following programme was well rendered:

Opening address, President Gustav Schnorr; piano and violin duet, Gustav Woodfin and George Klemann; tableaux, Rock of Ages; recitation, Gertrude Schweb; vocal solo, Master Schief; recitation, Lena Kabeau; song, Mrs. Hopp and Mrs. Schief; recitation, Gus Schnorr, Jr.; reading, "The Two Orphans"; Mrs. Chris Hartman; vocal solo, Agnes Petzold; recitation, Herman Buse; piano duet, Joe Gadie and Oscar Woodfin; tableaux, "The Months of the Year," with Christmas and Father Time, 14 boys; Gus Schnorr, Jr., Garfield Schwartz and Phil Schuorr then appeared as messengers from Germany, in an airship. Vice-President Klemann delivered an eloquent address, followed by Frank Busch and R. Petzold.

Santa Claus then appeared on the scene and distributed the gifts from the Christmas tree to the boys and girls. President Schnorr, in an eloquent address, presented the members of the various committees, each with an elaborate tapestry picture, worked in silk and done in Germany by blind students.

At the close of the presentation, all sat down to an elaborate German New Year's dinner, and the rest of the evening was pleasantly spent in games and a social hour was passed. Everybody was happy and a royal good time was enjoyed. The Verein will hold its regular meeting next Sunday.
