CANBY HORSEMEN GREATLY PLEASED

TRAINERS FROM ABROAD WRITING FOR TRAINING QUARTERS IN THAT CITY.

GROUNDS NOT IN GOOD CONDITION

Local Horsemen May Insist That Required Improvements in Track and Buildings Be Made.

CANBY, Jan. 9.—(Special.) The horsemen of Canby are receiving enormous letters from horsemen from different parts of the country inquiring about Canby as a training quarters, but can not give much encouragement as the track and grounds are not in good shape to accommodate the number of horses that would like to winter here. But are hoping the management will realize their opportunity and things will be arranged so training stables can be accommodated here during winter months. And the Clackamas County Fair grounds will be the big winter quarters in the future. The few horsemen wintering here are more than pleased as the climate and soil can be found no other place in Oregon. E. C. Kite of Perrydale, Oregon is here with about 15 head of the finest bred horses in Oregon, including Holly Brand, the great three-year-old by Tidal Wave, that worked a mile last year in 2:15. Mr. Kite has several colts he is giving their early lessons at the trot and pace, and they look like real race horses for sure, and they surely have a right to be as they are by such noted sires as R. Ambush, Tidal Wave, Red Seal, and the great Tolock. Mr. Kite is also the owner of that good pacer King Seal, which he has sent to North Yakima by the request of the breeders there to make a stud season, and he prepared by Mr. Sebastian, the able Yakima trainer, for the big stakes next year. K. Woods, of Independence, Ore., has several head of good prospects he is preparing for 1911 campaign. Hops, that grand looking stallion by Tombro, is looking fine and will be a hard one to heat this year. Mr. Woods has a great trotter by McClosky Wansright he thinks is the best thing ever happened, but the King pin of his stable is the two-year-old Robert Ambush by R. Ambush, belonging to Mr. M. Robins of Canby. This colt has had little work but shows all inclination of being a high class horse. Mr. L. B. Lindsey is working a couple of green horses and they are doing fine. The Vaughan Bros. have three head they are preparing for the races this year. Fred Brooker, the talented young writer for the Rural Spirit, is the proud owner of Bonnie Antrian, the best short distance horse in these parts. Bonnie was started at the fair at Spokane, a full mile, which is a little over her distance. But at never-the-less she showed his gameness by leading the first seven-eighths of a mile, and then made a game fight to defeat the flag which he did by a half a length. Mrs. Brooker, a good horsewoman herself, was in doubt about the horse's gameness the early part of the season, but Fred succeeded in convincing her at Spokane, and says had there been any short distance races on the valley circuit, Bonnie would have been a big money winner.
