

CHURCH THROGLED THE SECOND DAY

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION FILLED WITH INTEREST FOR MANY WORKERS.

MRS. NASH SITS AS PRESIDENT

C. A. Phipps Makes an Interesting Address at Sunday Evening Session—Officers Named On Saturday.

The second day's session of the Clackamas County Sunday School Association convened at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian church, with a fair attendance. The first number on the program was a praise service, led by Rev. S. A. Hayworth, pastor of the Baptist church in this city. The Baptist choir occupied the choir loft and led in the musical program of the afternoon. John W. Loder sang "The Holy City," with a chorus by the choir.

The first address on the program was "The Boy Scouts," by Rev. W. M. Proctor, pastor of the Congregational church. The funeral of Mrs. Gordon took Rev. Proctor away at this time so that his address was of necessity postponed to the evening session.

Rev. E. F. Zimmerman, pastor of the M. E. church, was down for the next address, "What Next?" Rev. Zimmerman said in his introductory remarks that he supposed the question propounded had reference to the next move in the campaign against intemperance. "We had a tough year the past year," he said. "Up until last year we have been successful but the last one was a defeat, and we were defeated pretty badly. We lost our own law, secured by hard work, and we got a liquor amendment. We lost 3 counties; that looks like a defeat to me, and a bad one. What we should do next is to find out where we are at and begin to build on that foundation.

As it is now if a county goes dry all is dry; under the new law a county may go dry and a city or town within it take up and vote wet and we have no recourse. Let's find out where we are at if we must take it to the highest court. Let's know where we temperance people stand under the new Home Rule law. We must keep up the fight, but I want to know on what ground I am fighting so as to figure where I am coming out. The people who voted wet are responsible to God for this condition; don't think a church member in Oregon City did so though some charge they did. It was the good men outside the church who did it without knowing what they did.

"I would place the ballot in the hands of wife and mother and think in that way we could solve the problem; think women would vote sober only. I object to the vice and ignorance of Europe voting saloons on us and no chance for virtue and intelligence to vote them out.

"We have a double standard of virtue—one for our women and a second for our men; we want one standard for both. The girls should insist on the boy doing as he insists she should do."

"The liquor consumption has doubled per capita in 30 years despite our temperance work; leads me to inquire if our methods are wrong—must be something wrong. If the consumption continues to increase for 20 years more where will we be at?"

Mr. Zimmerman told of a team of base ball players going to Japan to play with an amateur team there and how it was able to split even only and cited this as evidence that better hygienic conditions there worked to the good of the Jap, an evidence that excessive drinking in this country was destroying our vitality and would in the end destroy us as a people unless we reform.

C. A. Phipps, on the program for an address in the evening was prevailed upon to speak briefly. He said there was no boy problem, but that there was a man problem—at least if we solved the man problem we would then find no boy problem. "And the man problem," he said, "is not a difficult one to solve. Bring man and the Word together, without any fuss or frills, and it will solve itself.

"It is an easy thing to do the work of ten men but it is a hard thing to get ten men to do their work. The Sunday school has temperance and good citizenship departments now, trouble is to get them in operation. Church tries to save man in gutter and ten fall for lack of encouragement while one is rescued. Devil puts you on the back while you work thus. I think we have votes enough to save the State—don't like what women of Idaho did—think men must put on the yoke and do the saving.

"Have no fight with fraternal orders but would like to know their secret—must be the warmth of their friendship and the system of organization—we should imitate it. We organize—15 minutes to organize and then we forget it. Good work for Sunday school not enough; get into it and work with it—we want a Sunday school booster club. The boy is not only the hope of the father and mother but the hope of the nation as well. The home department and cradle rolls are the live wires of the Sunday school.

At the evening session there were several musical numbers by the Presbyterian choir and the ladies' quartet, which were appropriate to the work at hand. Rev. Landsborough invoked a blessing on those present and Rev. W. M. Proctor, who had been detained in the afternoon, spoke to the topic, "The Boy Scouts."

Mr. Proctor said he had not as yet launched the local corps as it was being more preliminary work than he had anticipated. He said it was a new organization, of which there were several, but the indications were that the Scouts were certain to absorb the others. Baden-Powell, the English general of Boer war fame, is the head and founder of the organization, and England is its home. At its inception it spread over England like wild-fire until there were 300,000 scouts in that Empire. Its introduction into this country only dates back to May, 1910.

The scouts pay two cents a week into the treasury and they must pledge themselves to do good and be good. Preliminary or initial steps are necessary, each looking to the good of the boy. The motto is, "Be prepared." No bad habits are permitted that will Injure the body. The scouts must be helpful to others without expecting a reward.

C. A. Phipps made the address of the evening, speaking on "The World's Convention at Washington." He outlined the Sunday school movement in a few words and then drifted to the convention proper. He told of the Oregon delegation and its trip to the Capital of the place it occupied in the convention, of climbing the fire escape to avoid the press of the crowd anxious to see, and of the pride that stirred him at the success of the movement.

The first convention, Mr. Phipps said, was held in London 100 years ago. The second in St. Louis, the fourth in Jerusalem, the fifth at Rome and the sixth at Washington. Only a handful responded to the first, 1250 made the journey to Jerusalem, a good attendance was present at Rome but 30,000 were desirous of seeing and being seen in Washington—so mightily has the cause grown. There were 250 trains of delegates and friends made the trip to Washington.

"Oregon took a front place at the late convention, for which I am proud," Dr. Meyers, of London, was president. At Jerusalem the reception was unfriendly, at Rome cold, but at Washington the city was ours for the asking. Verily the cause grows and prospers.

ATTITUDE OF FARMERS ON GOOD ROAD BILLS

REPRESENTATIVE CARTER WILL BE GOVERNED BY WISHES OF HIS CONSTITUENTS.

GLADSTONE, Jan. 14.—(Editor Enterprise)—One of the most important questions to come before the present legislature is the road bills. Especially the five road bills to be presented by the "Portland Good Roads Association."

There will be a tremendous pressure behind those bills, consisting of the automobile manufacturers, dealers and automobile clubs.

The planning to take the legislature by storm, by coming to Salem on a special train, three or four hundred strong.

Now you farmer and laboring man and small taxpayer—what are you doing towards letting your representatives know where you stand on this question?

The adoption of those measures means the expenditure of over two million dollars on the roads of the state in the next two years. This money must be raised by taxation.

We are here to represent your interests but how are we to know what you want in the way of legislation unless you make your wants known?

Now I suggest that you get together and talk over the measures likely to come before the legislature—especially the road question, and do it immediately, and send your views, whether for or against the proposed road bills, to your representatives at Salem.

If you fail to do so, you cannot blame us if we fail to please you by our course in the final settlement of these questions.

WANTS STANDARD DISSOLVED.

Government Lawyer Thinks Company Has No Conscience.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(Sp.)—Frank B. Kellogg, special counsel in the prosecution of the Standard Oil Co., made a strong plea today for the dissolution of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, citing the fact that the company was a flagrant violator of the Sherman anti-trust law. He said that but for the fear of law the Standard would put the country under tribute to this gigantic trust.

GREAT INTEREST IS MANIFESTED

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION HELD IN THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

AFTERNOON AND EVENING SESSIONS

Officers Chosen for the Ensuing Year—Oak Grove Next Place of Meeting—C. A. Phipps Speaks Tonight.

The Clackamas County Sunday School Association began its fifteenth annual convention in this city Saturday afternoon, opening with a morning session. The convention was held in the Presbyterian church and the ladies served refreshments in the parlors of the church.

The convention was opened at 10:30 with devotional exercises by Rev. J. R. Landsborough. There was an address on the "Friendly Bible Class," by R. J. Eddy, followed with reading of minutes after which there were reports from officers and schools. These reports told many encouraging things concerning the introduction of graded lessons, and the report from the Mt. Scott school showed that it is one of the banner schools in the association.

In fact the reports showed marked increase in nearly every instance, and the workers were cheered by results. Short addresses were here given on the benefits of organized class work, the advertised speaker failing to respond to the program.

The appointment of committees followed: Committee on resolutions—Mrs. F. Clack, Mrs. R. M. C. Brown, Rev. Landsborough and C. B. Hysom, Sr.

Nominating committee—Mrs. D. C. Latourette, Mrs. W. C. Green, W. J. Lewellen, Mrs. H. N. Smith and O. M. Boring.

Place of Meeting—Mrs. G. C. Brownell, George Rannell and Mrs. C. M. Oglesby.

The consecration service after the noon recess was led by Mrs. F. Clack, in the absence of her husband, who was sick.

The first address of the afternoon was by Mrs. J. W. Wilkins, on "Graded Lessons." She said that graded lessons stand for, 1. Teaching of God's Word, 2. Study of the Child, 3. New ways of teaching. The speaker emphasized the fact that graded union was needed now more than ever in that graded lessons are being introduced. The motto offered is "Keep on Keeping On." An effort will be made to organize such a union here, friends of the union to meet in the Baptist church Saturday, January 21.

Mrs. M. B. Meacham gave "The Primary Lessons for Sunday." She invited those present to become children for the occasion taking the lesson "Jesus Going Up to Jerusalem." Mrs. Meacham gave a graphic description of the journey, bringing out the things that would be certain to interest the little folks in making their first journey to a big city. This was Jesus' visit when a young lad and the leader made the most of it in its presentation in a graphic way.

A solo by Miss Ivy Roake was the next on the program after which W. J. Lewellen, of Springfield, completed the program of the afternoon with a paper on "Condition of Sunday School Work in This County."

Mr. Phipps outlined the conditions of the banner contest, one of the things used to quicken interest all along the line of Sunday school work. Among the things a school must do in order to contest are these: Keep open all the year. Hold teachers meetings at least monthly. Make annual report to the secretary. School must be represented each year at district and State convention. Each member must contribute at least five cents to the state work. Must observe decision day.

Also accept three from the following points: Cradle roll, temperance secretary, home department, grading, teacher training, fifty per cent of the adult classes organized, give at least ten cents per member to missions, fifty per cent of members owning Bibles and using them, superintendent's and separate rooms or spaces for three departments.

Officers were elected for the year, as follows: President, John W. Loder; vice president, O. W. Boring; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. A. White; superintendent teacher's training department, Miss Ivy Roake; superintendent home department, Mrs. D. C. Latourette; superintendent element department, J. K. Ely; superintendent adult department, Ralph Eddy.

Oak Grove was chosen as the place of meeting next year.

The committee on resolutions reported—Thanks for entertainment, favoring temperance, favoring of Bibles in Sunday school, that decision day be observed, that leaders visit all schools in county, effort be made to get boys and young men into Sunday school, regret that we lose the services of Mrs. Nash, who has rendered such efficient service in the past three years as president, and declines to serve further at this time.

At the evening session J. A. Enrich, of Portland, spoke of the junior graded lessons. Mrs. E. F. Zimmerman sang a solo appropriate to the occasion. C. A. Phipps, State field worker for the association, gave an address on "Making Good."

Among other things Mr. Phipps said that superintendent and teachers must plan ahead, they must create the atmosphere they want, they must approach the methods of the day school teacher. There must be first knowledge, then preparation; pupils should have school spirit to "Make Good." They need a knowledge of the Bible to be cultured. To appreciate the best in life—in painting, in music, in literature, in nature—one must know the Bible. Illustrations were given of schools that did and did not make good.

MRS. W. J. GORDON KILLED SUDDENLY

DISTRACTED, SHE WALKS ON RAILWAY TRACK IN FRONT OF SHASTA LIMITED.

DEATH COMES TO HER INSTANTLY

Trainmen Blew Whistle and Rang Bell as Warning, But Mrs. Gordon Seemed to Be Pre-occupied.

A message from Canby, received about 7:45 p. m. Thursday, announced the death of Mrs. W. J. Gordon in that city. Mrs. Gordon was killed by train No. 11, on the Southern Pacific Railway—the Shasta Limited—which passes through Canby at a high rate of speed. Mrs. Gordon was killed instantly.

W. H. Lucke, of Canby, who saw the accident, says that Mrs. Gordon deliberately walked in front of the train, being seemingly dazed or pre-occupied, and did not notice where she was or the approach of the train. Mr. Lucke says that the trainmen saw Mrs. Gordon from a distance and sounded the whistle and rang the bell as warning. Seeing Mrs. Gordon was seemingly unaware of her danger the train—which is not scheduled to stop at Canby—was slowed down by the engineer, but without avoiding the accident. Mrs. Gordon was killed instantly, her head being crushed and her shoulders being broken.

Friends picked up Mrs. Gordon and carried her into Gordon Bros' store—the proprietors being the sons of the injured woman. Mr. Lucke, who watched Mrs. Gordon approach the railway, and who had noted her seeming distraction up to the time of the collision, assisted in removing her to the store and knew of her identity only when her veil was raised at the station.

Mrs. Gordon was on her way to a religious meeting in the Tabernacle, and had her song book under her arm at the time. Report says there was no other train in sight, that the Shasta Limited whistled and rang its bell in an effort to avoid an accident. No other reason than that Mrs. Gordon was pre-occupied can be found for the accident.

Mrs. Gordon was the mother of Emil and Harry Gordon, who operate Gordon Bros' store in Canby. Other children are Earl, Lionel, Adelbert and Clare Gordon, sons, and Mrs. Iva Wells, a daughter, of Oregon City. Mrs. Gordon was a former resident of this city and has a host of friends who live here. A husband, W. J. Gordon, also survives her. She was 40 years of age.

Many jurors were dismissed before twelve men could be found to suit both parties to the contention. The 12 men who will try Rosenberg are: J. P. Montag, E. P. Armstrong, R. H. Ringham, M. M. Donohoe, August Eache, R. Shannon, A. E. Cole, Charles Z. Delaet, F. M. Pfler, H. W. Sitton, W. E. Reed and J. L. Shipp.

FOLLOWED TO REST BY HOST OF FRIENDS

LAST SAD RITES PERFORMED BY LOVING HANDS OVER REMAINS OF MRS. W. J. GORDON.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. W. J. Gordon were held at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. W. M. Proctor, pastor of the Congregational church, and Rev. C. L. Cressy, pastor of the Methodist church of Canby. The church was filled with many friends of the deceased, who were well known in this city and Canby, and there were many who came from the latter city. The Eastern Star Lodge attended in a body, as she recently became a member of that order. "Rock of Ages" and "There Is An Hour of Peaceful Rest" were rendered by the choir of the Congregational church. Mrs. Leon DeLarosa sang "Lead Kindly Light." The floral offerings were beautiful and many, in token of the high esteem in which Mrs. Gordon was held. The pallbearers were C. H. Dye, J. M. Mark, John Lowry, John Crawford, W. A. White and O. E. Freytag. The interment was in the Masonic plot of the Mountain View cemetery. Although a very cold day many of the friends of the family followed the remains to their last resting place, where a brief service was held by Rev. Proctor.

Mrs. Gordon was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Thompson, and was born October 21, 1869, at Dane county, Wisconsin. At the age of 17 years she went to Benson, Minn., with her parents, where she resided until 19 years of age, when she was united in marriage to W. J. Gordon. From that place they moved to Glenwood, Minn., remaining there until about nine years ago when they came West. For some time they resided in this city, after which they left for Grants Pass, and again returned to this city to make their home. Mrs. Gordon has recently been making her home at Canby, but was soon to return to Oregon City to again take up her residence.

Mrs. Gordon leaves beside her husband, W. J. Gordon and children, Earl, of Portland; Emil, Harry, Claire, of Canby; Mrs. Walter Wells, Lionel and Adelbert, of this city; a mother, Mrs. Pauline Thompson, brother, G. O. Thompson, sister, Mrs. Joseph Hendrickson, of Benson, Minn., and a sister, Mrs. L. J. Lagson, of this city.

The death of Mrs. Gordon cast a gloom over this city as well as in Canby. She was a loving mother and an earnest church worker, and always ready with a helping hand. She has always led a Christian life, and when her death occurred she was on her way to attend services that were being held near her home in Canby.

VERA HALL'S DEATH IS BROUGHT TO MIND

DR. J. J. ROSENBERG ON TRIAL FOR HER MURDER, IN THE PORTLAND COURTS.

The case of Dr. J. J. Rosenberg, of Portland, charged with first degree murder in the death of Vera Hall, of this city, on whose person it is charged he performed a criminal operation, was on trial in Portland Tuesday and Wednesday. From the tactics of the attorneys for Rosenberg it is believed that the defense will rest in points of law.

Lawyers for the defense claim that the statement of the prosecuting officer does not agree with the indictment. The State's Attorney claims he will prove that Dr. Rosenberg gave his victim, Miss Hall, chloroform for the purpose of performing a criminal operation.

Attorneys for the defense say that the prosecution, under the indictment, may not introduce evidence which does not tend to prove premeditation. Fitzgerald answers the contention with the statement that first degree murder implies the lesser charges of second degree and manslaughter.

Many jurors were dismissed before twelve men could be found to suit both parties to the contention. The 12 men who will try Rosenberg are: J. P. Montag, E. P. Armstrong, R. H. Ringham, M. M. Donohoe, August Eache, R. Shannon, A. E. Cole, Charles Z. Delaet, F. M. Pfler, H. W. Sitton, W. E. Reed and J. L. Shipp.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

Oregon City People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words, but deeds, that prove true merit. The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, for Oregon City kidney sufferers, have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Oregon City people who have been cured to stay cured.

William McLary, 1521 Washington St., Oregon City, Ore., says: "The public statement I gave in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills in January, 1906, still holds good as I have had no return attack of kidney complaint. I was afflicted with backache and pains through my loins and I could not sleep well, as no position I assumed was comfortable. My strength and energy left me and I was miserable when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention. Deciding to try them, I procured a box at the Huntley Bros. Drug Co. and by the time I had taken the contents, I felt so much better in every way that I did not consider it necessary to continue their use. I have been convinced that Doan's Kidney Pills are a reliable kidney medicine."

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS PROMISE FAST WORK

FIFTEEN STUDENTS WILLING TO DON SUITS AND TRAIN FOR SUMMER MEETS.

Students of the Oregon City high school are looking forward to the track and field sport that will soon commence. Joe Sheahan has been elected captain of the track team and Harold Smith manager. Fifteen students have signified a desire to get into suits, and the school has some excellent material. Captain Sheahan is one of the fastest sprinters and hurdlers in scholastic circles in the northwest. Cross has done fine work in the 220, and Graves in the hurdles and long distance sprints. Baker will develop for the weight events, and Peters is a new man who promises well.

The team has been invited to enter the coming meets, the first being an indoor meet at Columbia University April 7, followed by meets at the University of Oregon May 11 and 12, and the Oregon Agricultural College May 19 and 20. Prospects were never brighter at the high school for a successful season in athletics.

Try It These Cold Days

Place your household electric fan on the floor near a steam or hot water radiator.

Point the fan in the direction of the radiator—straight at it.

Notice the difference in the temperature of the room in a few minutes.

The fan makes the radiator warm more air without the consumption of additional fuel.

Try the experiment suggested and see if it doesn't help you save on coal bills.
