Justice Samson thought a bond of $500, with a chance to tell the Court all about it later, was about the remedy needed in the case and so he entered that decree.

FARMER GOES FAR ASTRAY

Man Found Under Portland Dock Had Start for Oregon City. Setting out from his farm in Clackamas county to go to Oregon City and pay his taxes, Sylvester B. Kent, 73 years old, landed under the dock at Front and Jefferson streets yesterday morning, with a badly strained leg, minus all his money, and ignorant of how he came to be there. Kent was found by Patrolman Carr, lying under the dock and apparently suffering great pain. No one saw him at the time of his accident, nor could he tell how it happened. He said that he had set out that morning for the county seat, but instead, in some mysterious way that he could not explain, had come to Portland instead.

Young Evans was brought back from Eastern Clackamas County, charged with theft of the horse, and was placed in the Detention Home pending trial of his case. He escaped the first of the week in company with another boy. RULES FOR GRADING AND PACKING FRUIT

WHAT THE CENTRAL EXCHANGE DEMANDS OF THE BRANCH UNIONS COMPOSING IT.

We print herewith a few of the rules formulated by the Central Exchange—rules that will be of the most interest to members of the local unions—as we have not room for the whole series, and some of them having little general interest for the public. We also print the rules as to grading that our readers may have a knowledge as to what is expected of those raising fruit to pack and sell through the efforts of the local Union, and also being a part of the Central Exchange. Condensed rules of the Central Exchange, of which the Oregon City Fruit and Produce Union is a member: The Central Exchange shall have the exclusive selling of all the fruit products controlled by the association. It shall establish a sales system covering all markets where it is practical to sell its fruit. It will establish rules for caring, marketing grading and packing of products of members. The selling charge shall not exceed ten cents a box. The district association shall have control of its grading and packing, under supervision of Central Exchange. Following are the rules for grading fruit according to the agreements of the Central Exchange of which the local union is a part: Extra Fancy—Perfect, well formed apples only, free from all insect pests, worm holes, stings, scale, scab, sun-burn, dry rot, water core or other defects; limb rub, skin puncture or evidence of rough handling shall be considered defects. Apples covered with or spray must be cleaned. Apples admitted to this class shall be well matured and of color characteristic of the variety—Spitzenberg, Winesap, Arkansas Black, etc., and must have 75 per cent of good characteristic color. Ben Davis, Rome Beauty, etc., must show 50 per cent red. Red Cheek Pippins and Winter Bananas must show red cheek. Standard—Apples of this grade must be free from all insect pests, worm holes, scale, sun-scorch, dry rot, water core or other defects; skin puncture or evidence of rough handling shall be considered defects.
