"WE ARE PUT ON TRIAL"
The advent of the Democrats in control of Congress has one thought to commend itself to the people, as uttered by Champ Clark, the new Speaker: "We are put on trial." In this statement comes the recognition of the fact that the Democrats in Congress were put there, not because the people had any special liking for a Democrat, or for the Democratic party, but because thousands of Republican voters were of the opinion that the Republican party as a whole, and many Republican Congressmen as individuals, had turned their backs on the people and taken to following after the interests and the men who controlled them.

Speaker Clark seems to realize the significance of this fact. And recognizing it he wants to impress it on the minds of his followers and co-workers; he wants it to have its due weight on them when it comes time for them to ask what is to be done that they may be enabled to ask intelligently and then properly understand the answer. The old party leaders of the Republican party were weighed in the balance and found wanting. Many a Congressman who knew what he ought to do and how he ought to do it did not carry his part of the program through because he permitted others to influence him in doing just the contrary. In some instances these men were not punished by the people, the voting public being lenient and not wishing to deal harshly. In other cases the people rightfully said: "Having betrayed us once we cannot trust you again, and we cannot accept any excuses; the man who permits himself to be fooled is as dangerous as the man who divides the plunder."

Speaker Clark knows the character of these messages, and how they carried disappointment to many and he hopes to do direct matters in this Congress that there may not be any necessity for disciplining his friends at the next Congressional election. There are grave responsibilities ahead of the present Congress, and while Champ Clark is a man with a wide influence and a strong personality it remains to be seen whether he understands though he may himself what should be done to satisfy the people, can lead the Democratic host in Congress in the way in which there is an honest and efficient legislative pathway. Can the Democratic party make choice of the legislation that is wise, and once making choice of it can the party be induced to enact it? "We are put on trial" needs to come with all its force to every Democrat in Congress if the party is to be able to keep its skirts clean until such time as it may again come before the country asking for a continuance of its favor.

Advantages of a Checking Account
In the regular course of business the depositor receives checks on many banks.
It is not necessary for him to present these checks for payment at the banks on which drawn, but he may deposit them here, and this bank collects them for him through the Clearing House, without charge, and credits them on his account.
Checks on out-of-town banks may be deposited in the same way, and a nominal charge will be made for this collection.

MANN THE CHOICE OF REPUBLICANS

WILL LEAD THE REPUBLICAN HOST AS IT ASSAULTS ENEMY'S BREASTWORKS.

IS IN LINE FOR NEXT SPEAKER

Said to Be a Strong Man, Ready Debater, Vigilant at All Times, a Natural Leader of Men.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(Special)—Mann, of Illinois, is the choice of the Republicans in Congress for Speaker of the House, and as a candidate for Speaker of the minority in Congress he by right becomes the leader of the minority.
Mann, as leader of the minority, is a progressive tactician, a ready speaker in debate and a parliamentarian of no mean reputation. He is said to have Cannon's support in his candidacy, and the regular wing of the party relies in great measure on him to hold up the minority end of any and all controversy.
A number of insurgents, including those from Washington and Idaho, who with LaFollette, of Oregon, did not attend the caucus of the regulars, and in consequence are not duly bound to bow the head to what the caucus does and prescribes.
Mann, as leader of the minority, is in line for the speakership once the Republicans come back into power again, which they are planning to do at the next election. To continue in the front rank he must make good in his present leadership, hence it is to be expected that he will stay on the firing line from early dawn to late at night.
The personnel of the new Congress will be materially different from the one just passed. This is true of the Senate but not in so marked a contrast as in the House. It has been a long time since the Democrats in Congress presented so formidable a front as at this time; not only in members is the gain great but in the power which the men wield as men has the Democratic side of both houses been materially strengthened.

$1 IN SIX MONTHS SENT BY ITS FATHER

MRS. MARTIN TELLS A SAD STORY OF NEGLECT BY HUSBAND.

JESSE S. MARTIN.
Rebecca B. Martin is the plaintiff in the divorce suit filed Tuesday in the Circuit Court of Clackamas county, the defendant being Jesse S. Martin, to whom she was married in Oregon City in August, 1898. There is one child, Thomas C. Martin, aged 12 years, which is in the custody of his mother, and has been supported by her for the past six months, as the father has only sent $1, which was on March 16, 1911.

In her complaint Mrs. Martin states her husband has an ungovernable temper and disposition, is overbearing and domineering in his ways, and would taunt, abuse and swear at her without cause. During the month of August, 1909, at numerous times would remain away from home at night, and would tell his wife that he was away on business, which was untrue. He has not contributed to the support of his wife or child during the past six months, and she has been forced to keep boarders. In March, 1910, Mrs. Martin says her husband left Oswego and went to Lakeview, Oregon, and was gone six months, but during that time he only sent her $46.
Mrs. Martin asks for the custody of her child. She is represented by Dimick & Dimick, of this city.

Portland Markets.

Receipts on this market for the month of March as compared with March, 1910, tell a plain story of growth. Receipts which were made up from a wider territory than last year, were as follows:
March, 1910, Cattle—7749; March, 1911, 7994; increase, 157.
March, 1910, Calves, 310; March, 1911, 331; increase, 21.
March, 1910, hogs—4929; March, 1911, 7082; increase, 2153.
March, 1910, sheep—4989; March, 1911, 25018; increase, 20029.
March, 1910, horses and mules—207; March, 1911, 185; decrease, 22.
March, 1910, Cars—402; March, 1911, 509; increase, 107.
Receipts for the week have been 1652 cattle, 135 calves, 1091 hogs, 6088 sheep.

The cattle market was 25c higher, the sheep market was 15c to 25c higher. The hog market was steady to lower and horses and mules sold at good prices. One four horse team brought $1775. These were shipped out from Chicago. There is an attractive demand for good horses and farmers in the Pacific Northwest can add to their income by preparing to take care of that demand.
Representative sales have been as follows:
25 steers 1290 $7.00
80 steers 1188 6.50
126 steers 1142 6.15
102 steers 1180 6.00

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY GIVEN LITTLE BOOST

President FERRIN TELLS OF ITS GOOD WORK—DRIFTS TO SHORT ADDRESS ON SUN.

President W. L. Ferrin, of Pacific University, speaks at the High school Forum Wednesday. He said that he had no intention of talking concerning the University but at Prof. Toose's invitation would say a few words.

Graduation—commencement—does not mean that you are through for you are just ready to begin. And with this in mind the schools are all the time raising the standard, which is wise. This is seen when one stops to consider that the leaders in this life are educated men. One per cent of the populace graduates, yet 75 per cent of the leaders of men are graduates.

From the talk concerning his college Mr. Ferrin shifted to an address concerning the sun and its characteristics. He told of its mammoth size, not in abstract figures but in comparisons that he knew would have something to interest the young people. He told of its heat and the part it played, of its size and one's inability to thoroughly comprehend, of its life-giving power and how we all must have of this, of its distance, the control it exerts on us and the Universe and of the one great center—the Creator.

While there were some things that perhaps the young people will need to grow to in his address, yet the High school students enjoyed the talk and will not forget for many a day the speaker or the lesson he brought to them.

Rev. W. M. Proctor was among the guests of the occasion. Prof. Toose introduced the speaker in a few well chosen remarks.

HORSES ARE TRACED POINT NEAR AURORA

BELIEF THEY WERE STOLEN AND PURTY SOLD BETWEEN AURORA AND SALEM.

P. D. Newell, of Jennings Lodge, was in the city last week to report the theft or straying—he was not certain which—of his horses. Officer Shaw was given a description of the animals and began to warm up the telephone wire in an effort to get track of them.
One was a light sorrel horse, weight 700, branded O on flank, barefooted, foretop short.
The second was a chestnut sorrel, weight 1150, 18 years old, tall short, poor wind.
Wednesday Chief Shaw heard of them from a Salem party who said they had been disposed of some place between Aurora and Salem, as the supposed thief had shown up in Salem and had no horses though he had been traced with animals agreeing to the description at several points prior to that. An effort will be made to find the horses and then connect the suspect with the sale.

ENTERTAINS YOUNG FRIENDS.

Gladstone Home the Center of a Joyous Occasion Monday Evening.
Miss Mildred Sladen entertained on Monday evening at her home at Gladstone, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Among the features of the evening's entertainment were the musical selections given by Harry Sladen, when he rendered "When You and I Were Young Mazzy"; "I'm Tying the Leaves So They Won't Come Down," by Miss Muriel Davis, and "Breaking the News," Panay Oswald, all of which were well received. The remainder of the evening was devoted to games, and followed by refreshments.

Silver Wedding Celebrated.

The friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schmidt met at their home on the evening of April 2, helping them to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their wedding day. STRIKE RICH VEIN AT OGLE MOUNTAIN

REPORT HAS IT THAT MAIN VEIN OF GOLD ORE HAS BEEN UNCOVERED.

There was a story going the rounds all day Monday that the Fairclough Brothers, who are large holders in the Ogle Mountain mines—where they are now and have been for some time mining for gold—had struck it rich on Saturday.

MAKES GOOD ROAD. Was Rough and Full of Deep Ruts Before Roller is Used.

The new road roller that Road Master Frank Jaggar has at work near this city was put to a work near this section Saturday. Out Molalla avenue way, near to Highland, there was a piece of road that had been covered with broken stone and into which deep ruts had been worn by the heavy wagons using it. The road was very rough and gave little satisfaction to those who had need to use it.

BIRTHDAY-WEDDING DINNER. Two Events Celebrated in One Pleasant Occasion Wednesday.

A double birthday and wedding dinner was given by Mrs. Grant Critser on Wednesday to celebrate her birthday and the recent marriage of her sister, Miss Mary E. Rider, to Mr. Arthur L. Lambert, after their return from their wedding trip.

A collection of beautiful and useful presents were received at this time by the newly married couple, and the whole affair was greatly enjoyed by the relatives and friends participating. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert expect to locate in or near Oregon City.
