MAPLE LANE GRANGE TO EXHIBIT AT FAIR

EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO WIN ANOTHER PRIZE—ENTERTAINMENT IS GIVEN.

The Maple Lane Grange met in regular session at the Maple Lane Grange hall, and there was much enthusiasm manifested, especially in the matter of exhibiting at the coming county fair to be held at the Clatsop County Fair grounds in Canby in September.

The morning session of Saturday's meeting was devoted to business of the order, and at noon a dinner was served by the ladies. Following the dinner the lecturer's programme was taken up, this being in charge of Mrs. O. A. Swallow, and consisted of the following numbers: Song, "Help It On, Grange"; roll call, with quotations; recitation, "Annette Adeock"; recitation, "Dorothy Swallow"; song, "The Cottage by the Mill"; Mrs. S. A. Gillett; recitation, "Ask the Ladies' Aid"; Mrs. Bessie Adeock; scrap box, presided over by Miss Emma Roman and A. J. Lewis; reading, "What a Horse Would Say If It Could Talk"; Miss Emma Roman; recitation, "A Helping Hand"; Mrs. A. Mautz; reading, "Mother," A. J. Lewis; question, "Are We As Happy Now As People Were 50 Years Ago," in which all present took an active part; song, "Memories."

The matter of organizing a Women's Club in the grange was taken up after the programme, and it was decided to have the secretary, Mrs. S. A. Gillett, correspond with Mrs. Vale, of Evening Star Grange, Multnomah County; Mrs. Flore Dickerson, of Oswego; Mrs. Olive Buxton, of Forest Grove. Several of the granges of the county have the Women's Work Club, and much benefit can be accomplished by the organization.

BIRD'S TATTOO CALLS LAWYER MORNINGS

ORNITHOLOGIST THINKS LITTLE VISITOR SUFFERS FROM EXAGGERATED EGO.

William Hammond, the attorney, who lives at Gladstone, has a strange story to tell of a little bird, which has either lost its mind or is suffering from abnormal conceit. The bird is of the junco species, sometimes called snowbird. About a week ago Mr. Hammond was awakened early in the morning by a strange pecking at a window of his living room. Upon raising the curtain he saw a beautiful little bird clinging to the window sash pecking with all its might at the window pane. Mr. Hammond raised the window and the little feathered visitor flew away.

But hardly had the lawyer returned to his bed before the bird was back at the window playing a tattoo with its little bill. Mrs. Hammond was called, and her sympathies being aroused, she offered the little stranger food. But it flew to a nearby tree where it joined its mate. Since then the bird has re-appeared every morning at the window and eats anything that is put out for it. Mrs. Hammond became so interested in the case that she consulted W. L. Finley, of Jennings Lodge, who is an authority on ornithology. The bird was described to Mr. Finley as having a black head, tan breast and brown body with two white feathers in its tail. Mr. Finley said that the case was unusual, but birds had been known to act in the same strange manner before. He said that there were two explanations, either the junco was attracted by its reflection in the window pane or it had lost its mind.

DR. HOMAN URGES PUPILS TO USE BRAINS

HEAD OF WILLAMETTE SPEAKS BEFORE OREGON CITY HIGH SCHOOL.

The use of one's brains was the keynote of an address by Dr. Fletcher Homan, president of Willamette University, before the Oregon City High School Assembly, Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Homan's subject was, "What is worth while in life," and the advice he offered should have a most salutary effect. He is only one of the notable citizens of Oregon who have been induced by City Superintendent of Public Instruction Toose to address the High School Assembly. Among the other were Governor West, President Campbell, of the State University, and President Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural College.

After calling attention to honesty and integrity as essentials to success, President Homan dwelt upon the necessity of training the brain. He pointed out how raw, untrained boys have, by attending college, become leaders in every honorable walk of life. The inference was that if they had not had the mental training their brains would have been dormant, and nothing worth while could have been accomplished. He named several men who had attained high positions in this state through their college training.

The address was one of the most interesting and instructive that has been made before the school. The lecture course, which was inaugurated by Superintendent Toose more than a year ago, has proved popular with the students, and it goes without saying that they will derive incalculable benefit from the advice of these distinguished men. While primarily for the benefit of the students, Superintendent Toose from the beginning extended invitations to all residents of the city to attend the lectures. The attendance of this character has not been as large as was expected, but Superintendent Toose thinks there will be a gradual awakening among the people when the new high school building is finished and accommodations are better.

The idea of the Superintendent in establishing the lecture courses was to inculcate moral and educational thoughts in the minds of the students. He believes that the lectures make for better citizenship along the lines of moral, social and industrial training. The benefit derived is more substantial than that which could be obtained from books alone, says Superintendent Toose.

MONEY BACK.

HYOMEI Cures Catarrh Without Stomach Dosing or Money Back. Yes, dear reader, catarrh can be cured; but not by pouring vile, nauseating drugs into the stomach. And catarrh germs thrive, flourish and multiply in the nose and throat. Can you kill these tough and persistent little health destroyers by swallowing pills or nostrum? Any physician will tell you it cannot be done. HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-mei) is a germ killing vaporized air which, when breathed either through the mouth or nose, will kill catarrh germs and soothe and heal the inflamed and mutilated membrane promptly. It gives relief in two minutes. HYOMEI is such a powerful germ destroyer that it penetrates every fold and crevice of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. A complete outfit, which includes inhaler, a bottle of HYOMEI and simple instructions for use, costs $1.00. Should you need a second bottle of HYOMEI the price is only 50 cents. Huntley Bros. Co., and leading druggists everywhere sell HYOMEI. 25-12
