"The world is a small place, after all," said Joseph Hedges, the Oregon City attorney, who returned Wednesday from a month's trip East. He proceeded to explain that while in New York City he took a walk down Broadway, alone, and feeling very much alone in that great city, but enjoying himself thoroughly, for he was in excellent company.

MRS. VONDERAHE DIES SUDDENLY

POPULAR OREGON CITY WOMAN IS VICTIM OF HEAT AND HEART TROUBLE.

Daughter of Casper Weismandel, One of Early Residents of County—Husband and Four Children Survive.

Mrs. Elizabeth Vonderahe, wife of Henry Vonderahe, and daughter of Casper Weismandel, one of the oldest residents of Oregon City, died suddenly Wednesday night at her home, Sixteenth and Jackson streets, as a result of the intense heat.

"One never expects to see an acquaintance on the streets of New York," said Mr. Hedges, "and you may judge of my astonishment, when before I had walked two blocks I almost ran into Mrs. Charles H. Caulfield and her daughters, Miss Edna and Miss Clara. It was a real touch of home and a pleasurable meeting. This is not such a big world."

Mrs. Vonderahe was one of the best known and most popular women in Oregon City. She was born on November 26, 1870, at Macklamburg, but had lived here most of her life.

She had frequently worked in the garden at their home and never before felt the slightest ill effects from the exertion. The funeral arrangements will be made today.

WIFE, SING, SAYS HUSBAND IS CRUEL

MRS. HAFENREFFER DECLARES SPOUSE DRANK SO SHE LEFT HIM.

Helen Hafenreffer is the plaintiff in a divorce suit filed in the Circuit Court Wednesday, the defendant being Adolph Hafenreffer. Their marriage was solemnized at Houghton, Mich., July 25, 1892. The wife alleges that her husband drank to excess and he treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner until she was forced to leave him and make her own living.

Mrs. Hafenreffer's maiden name was Helen Holland, and as this name now looks better to her than the present one, she has asked the court to allow her to resume it. She is represented Young is the attorney for Mrs. Lindeland.

WIFE SEEKS CUSTODY OF SEVEN CHILDREN

ANNA LINDEMANN DECLARES SHE VAINLY TRIED TO FORGIVE HUSBAND.

Anna Lindemann has filed a suit for divorce against August Lindemann and for the custody of the seven children, the eldest of whom is almost 21 years of age and the youngest eight years. The children are William, Louisa, Carl, Albert, Anna, Henry and Lena.

The Lindemanns were married at Oldenburg, Germany, November 2, 1889. Mrs. Lindemann asserts she was treated cruelly by her husband, and for a long time tried to forgive and endure his harsh treatment on account of the children. They have settled the property rights. Oglethorpe Young is the attorney for Mrs. Lindemann.

GLADSTONE WINS BASEBALL GAME

Mrs. Lula Tyler Gates Makes Fine Impression—Mrs. Booker Has Charge of Bible Work—Naval Band Delights.

(By Staff Correspondent.) CHAUTAUQUA GROUNDS, GLADSTONE PARK, July 5.—Interest in the second day of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Assembly centered in the organization of the various classes of the summer school. The classes were very well attended.

While the crowd was not nearly so large as on the opening day, the second day of the chautauqua was well attended. The falling off in interest is attributable in large part to the reaction after the excitement of the fourth. The program the second day was equally as interesting as that of the first.

Dr. Gabriel Maguire, of Cleveland, O., concluded his lecture on "With an Irishman Through the Jungles of Africa," which was started Tuesday afternoon. Immediately after the lecture he left for Lagrange, his next date. He will speak at Ashland, Saturday and Sunday.

Gladstone Wins Ball Game. The big event of the day, in the opinion of many, was the baseball game between the Dilworth Derbies of Portland, and the Gladstone nine. The Derbies have been the favorites for first place in the Chautauqua season, but Gladstone put it over them in a hard fought battle by a score of 3 to 2.

During the first three innings the Gladstones made one run in each inning. The Dilworths did not score until the fifth, when they got two men over the plate by a very narrow margin. Not until the ninth did a man walk and then the Gladstone pitcher let a Dilworth player take first. One man was out. The next player hit safe for first and the man following hit a long one, but was put out by a narrow margin at second. This closed the game.

The result of this game puts an entirely different phase on the chautauqua baseball schedule, and intense interest has been aroused. Both teams battled well, but the fielding was not so good because of the bright sun shining in the players' eyes. As it was only three muffs occurred.

Mrs. Gates Pleases. The Naval Reserve Band gave a concert at 7:15 o'clock and this was followed by the reading of "The Melting Pot" by Mrs. Lula Tyler Gates. Mrs. Gates created a profound impression and her auditors were delighted with the beauty of Zangwell's masterpiece. Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. Gates will give "Polly of the Circus," which is lighter and altogether different from "The Melting Pot."

The classes of the summer school are meeting as follows: Sunday School Methods, north of the auditorium in the park; Eloquence, in the new auditorium; Physical Culture in the old auditorium; Kindergarten at the Mothers' Congress building; Music in the Music Hall; Art in Science Hall; Agriculture, Science Hall; W. C. T. U., W. C. T. U. building; Parliamentary Drill, Bible study and the Bible recitations in the Auditorium. The hours of the class sessions are given in the daily program.

The instructors are well pleased with the first day's work in the various classes.

Classes Are Large. The attendance at the art class, which is in charge of Mrs. Alice Webster was larger than ever before. Mrs. Webster lectures with the aid of stereoscopic views. The exercises start every day at 10 o'clock. A large class was organized by the Rev. Charles A. Phillips, general secretary for Oregon, in Sunday school organization work. Others who organized classes were: W. H. Boyer, the noted Portland chorus director and tenor; Mrs. Emma W. Gillespie, who teaches expression; Bible study by the Rev. Edith Hill Booker, of Emporia, Kans.; Parliamentary Law by Mrs. Emma H. Fox, of Detroit, Mich.; and the Kindergarten work by Miss Ruth Ahlgren.

Mrs. Fox, who will teach parliamentary law, was formerly a teacher in the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. She organized a large class at the chautauqua for instruction in parliamentary law. Among the members are lawyers, politicians, club women, professional men and school teachers. The class will meet daily at 3:30 o'clock.

The failure of Dr. W. H. Hinson, who was to have had charge of the Bible Study class, to put in an appearance caused some disappointment, but Mrs. Booker, who has charge of the W. C. T. U. classes, consented to do the work and was chosen unanimously. The Bible recitals of Mrs. Booker were highly dramatic and were given rapt attention by the large audience. She is one of the leading instructors of ministers and others in the methods of Bible reading in the country. Dr. Gabriel R. Maguire paid her a high compliment when he said to Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, in charge of the Chautauqua forum, "You have a great woman in Mrs. Booker."

37 ARE KILLED BY HEAT IN CHICAGO

MANY PROSTRATIONS IN GHETTO AND BABIES DIE AT ALARMING RATE.

MEN AND HORSES FALL IN STREETS

West and Southwest Escape Unprecedented Wave—39 Deaths Reported in New England States.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Thirty-seven deaths from heat had been reported to the police tonight. There were about 70 prostrations and in the ghetto and other congested districts babies died in alarming numbers.

In the streets men and horses dropped constantly. One of the most common sights was that of veterinarians working over prostrate horses. This with the fifth and hottest day of the present unprecedented heat wave and it found the survivors in poor condition to meet the battle.

Men Drop as if Shot.

Yesterday, being a holiday, was chosen by many to attend picnics, where they drank freely of intoxicants. The night was so hot that sleep was almost impossible and when these men went to work today the first blast of the sun's rays crumpled them as though they had been shot. The official temperature was in excess of 102, but in the street it soared above 110. Advice from the country districts all the way between the Rocky Mountains and the Atlantic show temperatures of 100 to 115 in the fields.

While the Middle West and East have been suffering under the hottest weather in history, the West and Southwest are enjoying rains and cooling breezes. Heavy rains were reported today at Denver, where overcasts were necessary Monday. El Paso, Tex., reports that rains have fallen in that vicinity daily the past week. The maximum temperature was 91, but it was modified by the altitude.

Excitement in Corn Pit.

Crops throughout the Mississippi Valley and in the Eastern states are seriously threatened by the prolonged drought and intense heat. There was unusual excitement in the corn pit today and prices jumped 4 to 5 cents. Every day of the drought is costing the country millions of dollars in farm products and killing more people than are lost in a modern war.

The distress is general excepting in the South and the Pacific Coast states. Summer resorts in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota and far across the Canadian line report stifling weather and a pest of flies and mosquitoes. Boston dispatches report 39 deaths in the New England states in the last three days.

OREGON PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY NOT FIRST

THREE STATES TO EXPRESS PREFERENCE BEFORE ONE ORIGINATING PLAN.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(Special.)—Contrary to the general understanding, Oregon will not be the first state to hold a presidential primary election in 1912. North Dakota will lead the procession of states having a popular vote on candidates for President and Vice-President.

Dates for the primary elections in the states that have adopted the Oregon presidential preference law are as follows: North Dakota, March 19; Wisconsin, April 2; Nebraska, April 17; Oregon, April 19; New Jersey, May 28.

Though Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., originated the presidential preference idea and his state was the first to adopt it, three other states will lead Oregon in expressing the popular will as to presidential candidates. While it has been suggested that the forces in control in both the Republican and Democratic parties will refuse to seat delegates from these five states where the delegates are elected and instructed by the people instead of being elected and instructed by conventions, members of the National Progressive league who have made the presidential preference law one of their principles, have no fear of such radical measures being taken.

DATE BREAD.

Victims of Dyspepsia Should Try This Hygienic Food. Hygienic foods are popular. The Boston Cooking School Magazine gives a recipe for a delicious food of this class known as date bread: "The ingredients for one loaf are one cup of scalded and cooled milk, half a cake of compressed yeast at might stirred through one-fourth cup of scalded and cooled milk, half a teaspoonful of salt, one fourth cupful of molasses or sugar, one cupful of cleaned dates chopped rather coarse, two cups of entire wheat flour and white flour to make a dough that may be kneaded. Put all the ingredients into a bowl, using at first two cupfuls of white flour, then mix with a knife, adding such extra flour as is needed. When light shape into a double loaf and when again light bake one hour."

Summer Girdles.

Girdles are more in evidence than belts. Those of satin and moire are extremely popular. Many are finished with a buckle covered with the material.

Often a flat bow is placed under the buckle. The pump bow is seen on many summer gowns.

When it first appeared the pump bow was worn only at the back; now, however, it is often seen worn just below the bust line in the center front.

Two searf ends on girdles are very much in vogue.

The ends are finished in various ways. Some have head tassels, others fringe, and many are embroidered.

The girdle sash with the obi set high between the shoulders is worn, but the style is not a becoming one, as it is apt to give the wearer a round shouldered look.

Sashes of tulle and chiffon will be seen on summer frocks as much as if not more than those of satin or velvet.

Girdles of imitation precious stones are handsome, but they require a nice judgement as to the frocks they may be suitably worn with.

Hard Luck.

Hewitt—It's sad about old man Gruet losing his leg in that railroad accident.

Jewett—Yes. It must be a great disappointment to him. He was always talking about "getting there with both feet."—Brooklyn Life.

IRON MORE WORK LESS

Every woman who has tried one knows that the week's ironing can be finished in one third less time with an electric iron than with any of the old fashioned sad-irons.

Electric irons abolish the many weary steps, hard work and petty inconvenience that make sad-ironing a drudgery.

The smooth, glossy finish of the clothes is convincing evidence of the superior quality of workmanship possible only with electric irons.
