SPURNED, HE KILLS GIRL AND IS SLAIN

MAN TURNS PISTOL ON CROWD AND ENGAGES POSSE IN EXCITING BATTLE.

VICTIM HAD LIVED IN FEAR OF HARM

Slayer Flees to Woods Where He is Riddled With Buckshot—Girl Stenographer For Ex-Governor.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 26.—Anna Dudley, former stenographer to Governor Gillett was shot and killed today by a man believed to be Sidney E. Cole, of San Francisco.

Miss Dudley was on her way to the Capitol, and as she passed an alley Cole opened fire. Her cries quickly attracted a crowd, and Cole calmly re-loaded his revolver, and leveling it at H. H. Potter, who was the first to reach the scene, told him to "clear out." Potter started to run and Cole shot him in the knee. A negro, Sam G. Micky, was shot in the arm.

Cole stood over the body of the woman, firing an occasional shot in the direction of the approaching crowd, and then turned his revolver on the prostrate form, firing four shots into the body.

Then ensued an exciting revolver battle. Cole crossed over the north levee and disappeared in the brush on the opposite side, near the American River. Deputy Sheriff Thibay and Moffett shot at him after he had refused to surrender.

Captain Penthish, with a short-barreled pump gun loaded with buckshot, fired into the thickest part of the brush. Cole gave a yell and tumbled over. Deputy Moffett ran to the man and found him dying.

The motive for the crime is a mystery. The theory is advanced that Cole was infatuated with the woman who spurned his attentions.

B. A. Cain, who pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement, was sentenced to twenty-five days in jail by Justice of the Peace Samson Wednesday. The charge was preferred by E. D. When presented for trial, however, his lawyer announced that he had decided to change his plea. The money is said to have been stolen on June 10.

LOWER FARES TO PORTLAND URGED

MAYOR BROWNELL FIGHTS BEFORE STATE COMMISSION FOR REDUCTION.

ESTACADA ALSO SEEKING RELIEF

Milwaukie Demands Five-cent Rate To City—Commission Is Probing Rates on all Lines in County.

Mayor Brownell appeared before the State Board of Railway Commissioners in Portland Wednesday in the interest of the suit instigated by him against the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company to obtain a reduction of fares between Portland and Oregon City. Mr. Brownell represented M. E. Dunn the plaintiff in the action. The commission heard part of the evidence in Oregon City on February 22.

The plan also includes a reduction of rates between Portland and Estacada. Mr. Brownell is confident the desired relief will be granted.

Fare Increase Opposed.

Another matter the commission considered is whether the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company shall be allowed to increase its fares from Portland to a dozen or more points on the Cazadero line. The commission has suspended the proposed advance holding it in abeyance since last February, and it is now up to the commuters to show why the rates should not be inflated.

Milwaukie people are also fighting for a 5-cent fare. The people's victory in this case, which is now on appeal before the Supreme Court of the United States, touched off the biggest bunch of low-fare fireworks in the history of interurban transportation in Oregon.

Commuters all along the Oregon line further complicated things by complaining that the people on the Cazadero line were riding on a lower fare basis than the Oregon Cityites, that is on a mileage basis.

Readjustment Is Tried.

Following this the railway company tried to readjust things by raising the fares 5 to 10 cents for each of the following stations on the Cazadero line: Watson, Lewis Junction, Gilbert, Gates, Willson, Sycamore, Jennie, Meadowbrook, Lintemann, Britner and Base Line. And what a roar that started all along the line.

The company not only had the Oregon City commuters on its neck, but the Springfield suburbanites started on a rampage, and scored a preliminary skirmish by obtaining suspension of the advanced rates until the Railroad Commission could have a chance for a complete investigation of the whole tangled-up situation.

OFFICIALS OF ROAD INSPECT BRANCH LINE

A party of officials of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, including President Josselyn, Vice-President Fuller, General Superintendent Caldwell, Traffic Manager Hunt and Field Engineer Hewins, made a trip of inspection over the Springfield branch of the road Wednesday. They visited the construction camp known as the Upper Dam, two and one-half miles above Cazadero.

After lunch at Estacada President Josselyn with F.R. Fisher, resident engineer in charge of the River Mill project, went to River Mill to inspect the rebuilding of the properties partly damaged by fire about a week ago. The officials are bending every effort to have the River Mill plant in operation in a short time.

BICHRER SUES FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

ANAN MOORE, CEMENT COMPANY HEAD, SAYS HE ACTED IN SELF DEFENSE.

STRUCK FROM BEHIND, HE DECLARES

Pioneer Also Sues to Have Company Ejected From Land in Dispute—Son Said to Have Started Fight.

John Bichner, the pioneer, of Oswego, who was beaten on the head in a struggle with Anan Moore, president and general manager of the Portland Cement Company, Wednesday filed suit for $10,000 damages against Moore. He also sued the Portland Cement Company for $475 and asked that the company be ejected from the piece of land over which the altercation started. Moore, at Oswego, swore out a complaint against Bichner and his son Henry.

Bichner, in his suit for damages, filed by George C. Brownell alleges that there was no provocation for the attack made by Moore. He says that he is permanently injured. Moore, who was in Oregon City Wednesday, declared that he was struck with a shovel by Henry Bichner, and that he seized a piece of plank with which to defend himself. While he was doing this attention to the younger man, he asserts, the elder one approached from behind and struck him with a club. It was then that he turned and struck John Bichner.

Aside from being seriously bruised Moore, lost a diamond ring valued at $250 during the fight. The suit of clothing which he wore was also ruined.

Moore declares that Henry Bichner tried to kill him, and that his hat probably saved his life. He says he acted in self defense. Moore says that Henry Gans, who conveyed the property in dispute to the Portland Cement Company unquestionably had a title to it.

OWNER AND HORSE THIRSTY TOGETHER

FARMER LANDS IN JAIL AND HORSE IS TAKEN CARE OF IN STABLE.

Pete Semard, who lives on the South End road near Moses Plains, had one kind of a thirst and his horse another kind Wednesday morning. Semard saw that his own was quenched, and Chief of Police Shaw saw that the horse got all it wanted to drink. Semard's thirst landed him in jail on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The horse's thirst landed it in a lively stable with all it wanted to eat and drink. Query: Which would you rather be, Semard or Semard's horse?

The horse which Semard purchased from a trader early Wednesday morning had not been well cared for, and the new owner desiring to spend several hours in the city, hitched the animal in the sun near the house of the Cataract Hose Company. Mrs. Henry Tendrickson complained to the chief that the animal was suffering for lack of water and the chief put it in the stable and started a search for the owner.

Mr. Koenig, upon hearing her screams, rushed to her assistance. With the assistance of several young men, who were in the store, he bandaged the wound before the arrival of Dr. Stuart. Mrs. Koenig is one of the best known and most popular women in her section of the city.

TAFT INDORSED BY NEBRASKANS

INSURGENTS BLOCKED IN FIGHT FOR LA FOLLETTE IN CONVENTION.

ADMINISTRATION IS COMMENDED

Omaha Delegation, With Rosewater at Head, Outgenerals Small Band Working For Insurgent Leader.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 25.—Nebraska Republicans in convention here today gave President Taft and his Administration strong endorsement and effectively blocked all efforts of a small sentiment for Senator La Follette as a Presidential candidate.

The insurgents lacked a leader and were outgeneraled by Victor Rosewater and his delegation from Omaha. Before the insurgents could introduce resolutions from the floor, the regulars had rushed a motion providing that all resolutions be referred to a committee, which was given power to draw up a final report.

Friends of Taft Control.

Chairman Jefferies, of Omaha, then named a committee of seven, of which five were strong friends of Taft, and of which Rosewater was made chairman.

From this point the possibilities of a fight on the floor over the endorsement of Mr. Taft went glimmering. Despite their early talk that they would not assent to a Taft endorsement on any conditions, the insurgents failed to make even a show of a fight or objection when the platform resolution was finally presented. The resolution went through with a whoop by a rising vote, in which several of the insurgents were discovered on their feet.

Insurgents Defeated.

An attempt to have the convention instruct the resolutions committee to refrain from endorsing any candidate met with summary treatment. I. D. Evans, of Adams county, secured the floor for this purpose, but he was howled down by other delegates and gavelled out of order by Chairman Jefferies before he could read his resolution.

Out of the total of 855 votes in the convention, it was said by regular leaders that the insurgents could not muster a following of more than 150.

JOHNSON TO SELL OUT FOR MILLION CHARGED

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION WANTS TO CLEAN UP BIG SUM IN LUMP.

LONDON, July 20.—That Jack Johnson, heavyweight champion of the world, is planning to "lay down" in his coming match in England with Bombardier Wells and permit the Englishman to win the heavyweight title is openly charged here today in sporting circles.

It is openly declared that the preliminary negotiations for the match are suspicious and that Johnson, sore on American sports and realizing that he is getting older, wants to clean up big money in one lump and is willing to drop the title to "get the dough." That Johnson if he does lay down, will get a big cut of $1,000,000 for doing so, is generally reported. The promoters of the fight expect to hold in the Stadium, where fully 200,000 persons could see the fray. This, at an average of £1 a head, would result in gathering in $1,000,000, and the cleanup on the side, if the reported deal is consummated, would be enormous.

A big syndicate, of which James White, of Manchester, is the alleged head, is to pull off the battle. The identity of the members of the syndicate is carefully guarded, but it is authoritatively learned that its real backers are Terah Hooley, the famous promoter, who is now in bankruptcy, and H. Bottomley, editor of John Bull Weekly, which is also financing the deal as a result of liberal verdicts against him for illegal promotions which aggregate $475,000.

NAVAL DIVISION NEAR FORMATION

APPLICATION FOR ORGANIZATION TO BE FORWARDED AT ONCE.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING IS HELD

More Than Required Number of Names Obtained—E. C. Dye Is Elected Acting Ensign—Temporary Officers Chosen.

That Oregon City is to have a division of the Oregon Naval Militia is an assured fact. A temporary organization was effected at a meeting held Wednesday night in the Commercial Club rooms.

A band of fifteen pieces, organized especially for the occasion, rendered several selections and E. C. Dye, who has been promoting the organization, spoke at some length on a number of the drills that will be practiced by the division. Mr. Dye explained in detail twelve drills and the much more interesting work that comes in the regular routine of ship duty. That the Oregon City Division will be enabled to go on this year's cruise is assured.

60 Young Men Attend.

There were about sixty young men and a number of members of the Commercial Club present. Before the division can be mustered in there has to be a temporary organization to apply for admission to the militia. Of the three officers elected, president, secretary and acting ensign, only the acting ensign is recognized officially by the heads of the Oregon Naval Militia and Mr. Dye, who was elected to that position, was instructed to forward the application for the organization of a division and carry on the regular routine work. When the division is mustered in Mr. Dye will be required to take the Naval Board examinations at Bremerton, and will be the official head of the temporary organization. Harry Y. Miller and A. J. Fredericks were elected president and secretary respectively of the temporary organization.

45 Names to Petition.

The petition for the mustering in of the Oregon City Division carries 45 names and the names are expected to come in also.

This will place Oregon City on as good a footing as any division in any place of the same size in the country. All the boys who have signed are enthusiastic and there will be some fine drilling under the efficient drill-masters who will be in charge.

PAROLED PRISONER SEVERELY LECTURED

L. F. SHORT, CANBY OPERATOR, MUST REPORT TO SHERIFF FOR SEVEN YEARS.

Never was such a scathing lecture delivered to a man before the bar of the Circuit Court in Clackamas county as that delivered Friday by Judge Campbell when he released on parole L. F. Short, a young man of good family, who had been indicted and pleaded guilty of stealing from packages left at the Canby Station, where the prisoner had been employed as a telegraph operator.

Short, who is twenty-two years of age, and of fine appearance, stood with bowed head during the trying ordeal. The judge told him that he was released on parole because of his youth, and good reputation heretofore. He pointed out what a stigma his going to the penitentiary would put upon him and his family, and how thankful he should be for escaping association with hardened criminals. He then told him the necessity of obeying to the letter the terms of the parole, and if they were violated in the slightest degree, he would have to serve the full term of seven years, which had been given. Short must report to the Sheriff every two weeks for seven years.

PIONEER OF COUNTY DIES AT ESTACADA

DIES DAY HE WAS TO HAVE BEEN MARRIED

Elton Stark, formerly of Woodburn, and well known in the city, died at St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland, on July 16, and was buried in the River View cemetery the following Wednesday. One said feature of Mr. Stark's death was that his wedding was to have taken place on the day he died, his bride-to-be being Miss Margaret Sapp, of Portland. Mr. Stark was stricken three weeks ago. He was thirty-one years of age, and was highly esteemed.

The deceased leaves, besides his mother, Mrs. Stark, of Hood River; one sister, Mrs. Adams, of Hood River; three brothers, George, Harry and Garnett Stark.

Mr. Stark has visited in this city many times at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson. He was ill for several weeks at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. S. Wilson, of Sellwood, before he was taken to the hospital in Portland.

LORDS ANGERED, CHANGE VETO BILL

AMENDMENTS SO VITAL THAT CRISIS WITH COMMONS IS SURE TO FOLLOW.

"INSURGENT" PEERS WILL FIGHT

Moreley Pleads For Action So As To Prevent Social Shock—King May Be Asked To Create More Barons.

LONDON, July 26.—Amended in particulars so vital that a crisis with the Commons is sure to be forced, the veto bill was passed today without division by the House of Lords. The changes made by the upper body will be submitted to the lower house, and it is thought, will be sent back next week with a demand for recession from the amendment.

It is this contingency that may impel Premier Asquith to ask the King to create enough new Barons to insure the success of the government. The situation has been foreseen ever since the issue first arose.

"Insurgent" Peers Caucus.

The "insurgent" peers held a caucus today under the leadership of the Earl of Halsbury, and a strong feeling was expressed that if the House of Commons struck out the Lords' amendments the Upper Chamber should insist on them, even to the extent of forcing the creation of a host of new barons.

"The last ditchers," therefore, have not been squared yet, so the real crisis may still arise on July 25, when the bill is returned to the House of Lords for final acceptance or rejection.

Lord Moreley in moving the adoption of the measure this afternoon disassociated the government from the amendments introduced in the Upper Chamber. Despite all the transformations which the bill had undergone, Lord Moreley said he hoped and believed it would receive a third reading.

Social Shock Feared.

"I would like to have this inevitable through without anything like a social shock," he said. "I do not mean a superficial shock, but a real wide reaching social shock."

This was the only passage in Mr. Moreley's speech which could be construed into a reference to the possible creation of Peers.

Lord Lansdowne declared that some amendments to the bill were so sentimental, in the view of the opposition, that they certainly would not be prepared to recede therefrom in substance so long as they remained free agents.
