LOWEST-DOWN MACHINE

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which ims weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despond-ent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength. Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this nonalcoholic medicine or known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

Judges Not Sufficiently Paid, Says Executive To Boston Bar Associa tion-Reforms Needed

in Courts.

HOSTON, Aug. 31.-"Arbitration of disputes between nations is coming slowly but surely," said President Taft in his address today before the American Bar Assolation, The President briefly reviewed the proposed general arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France, and made it plain that in his opinion the objections made to the treaties were invalid. The President declared emphatically that there was room for improvement in procedure in the Federal courts.

The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, he said, had taken the matter in hand with associates and the district Judges, and had called a conference in Wash ington, where they would formulate new rules of procedure.

The President declared this to be great step in the direction of practical reform. He said that there was need of increasing judicial salaries so that "the best men of the bar might engaged for the various courts.

The President motored from Beverly, and when he appeared in the convention hall he was welcomed with a hearty cheer. No formal introduction was spoken. President Farrar, of the Har Association, one of the largest men at the convention, merely expressed his purpose to retire in favor of a man who was bigger than he in all dimensions.

Mrs. Taft came with the President on the 20-mile ride through the rain, but stayed in the White House auto mobile outside Huntington Hall, and did not hear the speech. Immediately after the address they motored back to Beverly.

The President aimed his argument for the arbitration treaties at the Sen ate foreign relations, which he said took exceptions to the part which provides that the joint high commission shall determine whether a ques-tion is "justiceable," and, therefore, one to be settled by arbitration. The committee held this part of the treaty a delegation of powers of the Senate. the President said, and, therefore, it objected
