MEN JUMP AS ENGINE DROPS THROUGH BRIDGE

Three men had narrow escapes from death when a threshing machine engine belonging to J. Moses, crashed through a bridge on the Kruse Road, two miles beyond Estacada, Wednesday afternoon. The engine fell 10 feet into a gully. Judge Beattie said last night that the County Court would send a crew of men to the scene today and have the engine removed. Several men were on the engine when the timbers of the bridge began cracking. They jumped and cleared the bridge before it tumbled in. The span will be repaired at once.

LITTLE GIRL WRITES OF SEVERE STORM

Marie Holmes, daughter of W. A. Holmes, who, with her mother is visiting in Lebanon, has written her sister Myrtle, an interesting letter describing a severe storm there a few days ago. The letter concludes:

"Grandfather was throwing some wheat to the chickens when a wind just tore around and had a whirlwind in the barn yard. Then a few drops of rain fell, then hail as big as marbles just peppered down. It broke three windows on the west side. If you would carry bucket full after bucket full and pour in Allice's room you couldn't make the carpet any wetter.

"Why Myrtle, glass just flew around the window blinds were just shattered. Grandpa has to go to town this morning and get five panes of glass for the windows. * * you ought to see the garden; the corn is just ruined. The muskmelon vines were torn out of the ground. Also the squash vines were torn out. The plums knocked off the trees, the grape vines stripped. They have bushels and bushels of beans torn out of their shells and lay on the ground. Little geese are missing. Apples and peaches knocked off from the trees.

"Grandpa's house was in the worst of it I guess. The storm just went in a streak. The climate of Oregon is surely changed from what it used to be. * * No one is injured but lots of damage was done."

RAILWAY TO MAKE MAIN STREET FILL

The chief engineer of the Portland Railway Light & Power Company has informed Councilman Burke, chairman of the Committee on Streets, that the company will begin at once making a fill on Main street from Eleventh to Fourteenth streets. The railroad has been granted permission to raise its tracks in the depression, and has promised to surface the street with gravel at a cost of sixty cents a yard to the city. This is $1.10 cheaper than the city could buy the gravel. The section of the street which it is proposed to fill has been an eyesore in rainy weather for years, and part of it now is a veritable quagmire.

SAVES MOTHER AND BABIES IN RUNAWAY

"It was nothing; it was my duty, and I would hate myself if I hadn't done it," declared Walter Scott, of Kansas City, Mo., who risked his life and was bruised considerably Friday afternoon while stopping a runaway horse attached to a buggy in which were a woman and her two little children. Mr. Scott, with dress suit case in hand, was standing at the corner of Twelfth and Main streets waiting for a car to Portland, when he noticed the runaway coming down the street at a rapid rate of speed. The mother and her babies were screaming at the top of their voices. Hurling the animal aside, Mr. Scott ran to the middle of the street, and, as the galloping steed reached him, he seized its bridle. The hero was thrown to his feet and dragged for a half block, but he did not let loose his hold, and finally stopped the animal. The woman and her babies were taken from the vehicle and a crowd gathered around Mr. Scott to offer congratulations. His clothing was torn and his hat was badly battered, but he said he did not care, and after declaring that he had done nothing extraordinary, boarded a streetcar for Portland. Mr. Scott had been a guest for several days of William Clark.

COUNTY SCHOOL SUPERVISORS START WORK

Supervision of the rural schools of Clackamas county has been undertaken by Mrs. Emilie C. Shaw, Carl F. Anderson and J. E. Calavan, who have been appointed supervisors by the county educational board and who will assist County School Superintendent T. J. Gary in directing the work of the Clackamas county schools working under the direction of the County Superintendent. Their work commenced September 1.

Mrs. Shaw will make her headquarters at Milwaukie, supervising the schools in the northern and central parts of the county. She has had wide experience in educational work, being graduated from the high school at Wapukoneta, O., and afterward attending private schools for a number of years, taking up, together with other courses, the study of languages. Her first experience in teaching was in the public schools of Wapukoneta, where she was engaged for five successive years. Her first work in Oregon was at Hood River and in Wasco county schools. Mrs. Shaw resigned her position in Hood River to assume the principalship of the Eastham building in Oregon City. She remained here four years, and then went to Milwaukie, where she was head of the public schools four years, leaving to take the position of supervisor. Carl F. Anderson, who has been assigned to a district embracing the eastern and northeastern portions of the county, composed of thirty-four schools, was a student and a teacher for some years in Kansas, later in California and for the past six years in Oregon. He has been connected with the Marquam, Oregon City and West Oregon City schools. His college work extended to the junior year and he holds an Oregon State Teachers' diploma. Mr. Anderson was principal of the schools of West Oregon City last year. Estacada will be his headquarters.

J. E. Calavan is an Oregon High School graduate of 1897, and has had 120 months teaching experience, largely in rural schools, which especially fits him for his new work. He has had charge of schools in Lane, Crook and Clackamas counties and for the last three years has been principal of the Maple Lane school near Oregon City. Mr. Calavan holds a first grade county certificate. His district embraces the southern and western portions of Clackamas county, and he will make his headquarters at Oregon City.

WILLAMETTE STREETS ARE TO BE LIGHTED

The Willamette council at a meeting Thursday evening decided to install a lighting system for the streets as soon as possible. W. A. Ross was appointed a committee of one to investigate various systems and report at the next meeting of the council. The town formerly was supplied with lights by the Willamette Falls Company, but this service was discontinued about two years ago. As a result the thriving Oregon City suburb since has been in total darkness at night, although wide-awake and hustling during the day. Dr. A. L. Beattie, owner of the Oregon City gas franchise, it is thought, will submit a bid for lighting the town.

The fall term of the McLoughlin Institute was opened Monday with the largest attendances in the history of the school. About 100 children were enrolled, and it is expected that this number will be largely augmented in two or three weeks. Many of those who will attend are hopping. The course comprises eight years in the grammar grades and two years in high school. Eight teachers are employed, six of whom are sisters. Father Hillebrand has charge of the school, the Sister Superior being director of the studies.

MISS RUTH FUGE AND LESTER FRANK WED

Miss Ruth Fuge and Lester Frank were married at the Baptist parsonage Sunday afternoon by Rev. S. A. Hayward. Both are well known in Oregon City. Mr. Frank is an employee of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company and Miss Fuge is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Fuge. The young couple will take up their residence on Main street. The ceremony was witnessed by the members of the Philathea class of the Baptist Sunday school. Miss Fuge was a member of this class.

SNAKE BITE KILLS JOSEPH DILLMAN

News was received in Oregon City Friday from Independence, Kan., of the death of Joseph Dillman, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dillman. He died August 25 of a poisonous reptile. Mrs. Dillman will be remembered in Oregon City as Miss Nannie Wilkinson. The boy was born in Oregon City. The boy was bitten by the snake while he was playing with friends in a grove near his home. Physicians were summoned at once but they were unable to counteract the effects of the venom.

GOVERNMENT ASKS BIDS ON HAY AND OATS

The Department of Commerce and Labor has asked Oregon City firms to submit prices on hay and oats to be used at the Clackamas and Rogue River hatcheries. The hay and oats, however, are not intended for the fish, but for the horses and cattle at these stations. About ten tons of each is desired, and it is believed that the prices submitted by the Oregon City firms will insure the placing of the order in this city. The government frequently asks local firms to make bids on supplies for use in its various departments in this part of the state.

FIELDER JONES PICKED AS LEADER OF LEAGUE

SEATTLE, Sept. 11.—(Special).—There is a possibility that Fielder Jones, the old leader of the Chicago White Sox, will head the Northwest league next year. Jones has already signified his willingness to accept, and it is virtually certain that Judge Lindsey will not be re-elected for the coming season.

WORKMAN, CAUGHT IN CAVE-IN, RESCUED

F. C. Donovan, a workman employed by C. C. Babcock, in the excavation for a sewer at Twelfth and Water streets, had a narrow escape from death in a cave-in Wednesday afternoon. The trench is about ten feet deep, and the walls on both sides caved in without the slightest warning. The other workmen managed to escape, but Donovan was buried up to his arm pits. F. C. Burke, chairman of the Committee on Streets of the City Council, who chanced to be present, superintended the work of rescue. The man was not seriously injured, and resumed work after being extricated.

"POP CORN KING" BUYS FARM IN THIS COUNTY

J. W. Patton, of Portland, known as the "Pop Corn King," has invested his savings in an 87-acre tract in the Garfield district in Clackamas County, near Estacada, for which he paid $11,000. The tract was owned by Stokes & Wooster. The land is partly set to fruit, 16 acres being in apples. Mr. Patton's plan to plant more apple trees at once.

If Mr. Patton had depended entirely on the sale of pop corn to acquire money to buy this tract, it is figured out that at five cents a bag it would have required the disposition of 220,000 bags. If he had sold pop corn at the rate of 600 bags a day, it would have taken 440 days to have enough money from this source to buy the place.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

JOHNSON HAS TROUBLE TAKING OFF FLESH

PARIS, Sept. 11.—Jack Johnson is having hard work to conceal from the public the fact that he is having difficulty in getting into condition for his battle with Bombarider Wells in London, October 2.

Fond of being photographed at any and all times, Johnson absolutely refuses to have his pictures taken in fighting kit. He is hog fat, especially about the stomach, but flies into a rage if the fact is mentioned.

STORM SWEEPS OVER WILSONVILLE SECTION

A severe storm swept over Wilsonville and Stafford Monday evening. Several large trees were blown down and potato vines and corn stalks were laid flat as if they had been run over by a steam roller.

Deputy Sheriff Miles went through the storm swept district Tuesday and says the havoc wrought was severe. He says the potatoes and corn, however, that were affected will not be permanently injured. The storm also visited other parts of the county, but the loss to crops was not heavy.
