OLD DOC. BAILEY.

Leastways I've found it so, often.)

Folks came twenty inites to see him

Wealthy, want he " Land o' Goshen,

Man of all them hills and hollers.

Homely too, was good Doc Bailey, Not a bit of style about him;

Pop'lar tho, as Old Abe Lincoln,

People couldn't live without him.

For he cured them by adjustments,

Shared their poverty and sorrow; When he died I could but wonder

Without drugs or knife or poisons,

When his kind hands worked upon

Yes, he was a Chiropractic,

Who will treat their ills tomorrow?

Folks got well, they couldn't stay

This whole world is poorer, sadder,

Lying in his poor pine coffin.

Such a fineral, I reckon, . Ain't seen often in the nation;

Children, men, an' women cryin'

Jest as if he was relation.
