OREGON CITY'S GOVERNMENT.

The positive refusal of William Andresen and other sterling and hard working members of the city council to become candidates for reelection causes The Enterprise to again urge that the system of government for Oregon City be changed to a commission form. We shall have to come to it, and there is nothing to be gained by useless delay and a great deal to be lost.

In this busy age of competition few of the right kind of public officials will continue to make a sacrifice of their time and money for the benefit of the municipality. Take the case of Mr. Andresen. He has been a member of the council of Oregon City for six consecutive years. He has not received a single dollar of salary, and if he has obtained the thanks and gratitude of his constituents for his earnest work in their behalf, he has not been aware of it to any particular extent. Quite naturally, he believes he has done enough and he thinks some other business man should take a turn at the rack.

The conduct of a city government should be a purely business proposition. There are thousands of dollars expended each year in street improvements and in various ways. This money ought to be paid out under the direction of the men who authorize its expenditure and a council of nine men should not be asked to give their time from their private affairs in an effort to see that the city is properly governed and that its finances are rightfully handled. The alternative is commission government.

It is, no doubt, too late to expect a commission charter to be formulated and adopted before the coming city election in December, but it is not too early to make a start for next year, so that the new government may become operative January 1, 1912. Let the mayor name a charter commission, say two members of the council and three property owners, who may have an opportunity to study the charters of Baker, Or., and of some of the cities of Washington and the eastern and middle western states where commission government has been tried and has been successful in almost every particular.

Oregon City should have a commission of not more than five men, three would be better, and they should each receive a salary of not less than $150 a month, with the proviso that they devote their entire time to the business of the city. Departments should be created, one commissioner handling the streets, another the finances, another the health and police.

We should start this important work now. Portland has her work of preparation well in hand and other Oregon cities are taking steps in the right direction. Oregon City, the first town of the state, should not be backward along this progressive line.

THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Contrary to the belief of many Americans, the high cost of living is felt in other countries besides ours. It has caused demonstrations in Vienna which called out the military and which compelled the government to proclaim martial law for the first time since 1849. Riots for the same cause have recently taken place in France, Spain, and Italy. Political leaders in Germany say that the burdens of the average man in that country are becoming unbearable and they predict uprisings which may recall the insurrections of 1848. Belgium and England have recently had strikes which had at their base a feeling by the people that the cost of existence was making life intolerable.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by the agreeable, aromatic Ely's Cream Balm. It is received through the nostrils and dissolves and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment till relieved.

Announcement. To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrh from the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

These demonstrations in Europe ought to make Americans a little more reasonable in their condemnation of the conditions in their own country. The situation of which they complain is world wide. More over, our hardships are small compared with those of other peoples. Government is less to blame here for these ills than it is elsewhere. Our tax burdens are far lighter than are those of the British, the French or the Germans. Our ability to meet them is immeasurably greater than is theirs. The outlook for improvement in those conditions is much brighter in the United States than it is in any of the great countries of Europe.

One of the causes of the relatively high cost of living is the increase in taxation, local and national, but, as before stated, this factor is less evident here than it is in the Old World. Another, and a far larger cause, is the falling off in food production as compared with consumption. In all the great countries of the world the growth in manufacturing is far greater than that in agriculture. While this tendency is irreparable in England, Germany and the other industrial nations of Europe, it can be remedied in the United States because of the large areas still open to cultivation and of the chances for improvement in agricultural methods. Improvements are being made already. Production per acre in wheat, corn, cotton and other staples is increasing. The growth is slow, but it is continuous. Scientific methods of production may be relied upon to bring improvement in the United States and to avert any such outbreaks as the Old World has been witnessing recently.

HARRIS FOR SENATOR.

Judge Lawrence T. Harris, of Eugene, for United States senator to succeed Bourne. This sounds rather good to us. Judge Harris is a young man with a fine character and with tremendous energy. He married an Oregon City girl too. Somebody will succeed Bourne. Of course Jonathan hopes it will be Bourne, but we don't think so. Bourne bolted the Republican ticket last year. He openly declared himself in favor of the candidacy of Democrat Oswald West for governor and in so doing completed the alienation of thousands of Republicans who never did have a particularly high opinion of him.

Mr. Harris has a clean record. He was speaker of the house of representatives in 1903 and made his mark there. He ranks high among the circuit judges of Oregon. His moral life is unstained. Judge Harris never kept a bar in the Eldridge block at Salem. He is a native of Lane county and it is, or some other good Republican cannot win the senatorial nomination from Bourne, then Oregon will have two Democratic United States senators from a Republican state.

Mrs. Helen Dixon, who once led the suffragist party in Colorado, and after female suffrage was attained, drifted into politics, has just died of alcoholism. What's the answer it is, of course, that many men who drift into politics die the same way.

They broke the drought at Post City, Tex., by discharging 3,000 pounds of dynamite. Dynamite has by Black Handers that, in a choice between it and the Black Handers, it is likely that it will be the Black Handers who will have to go.

PLAN TO CURTAIL HOLIDAYS LOSES

TEACHERS OPPOSE KEEPING SCHOOLS OPEN FOR PATRIOTIC EXERCISES.

NOTED EDUCATORS FAVOR MOVEMENT

Resolution Providing That Three Of Six Members Of State Text Book Commission Be Teachers Adopted.

That the teachers of Clackamas county are keen for holidays was evinced Wednesday at the annual teachers' institute by the overwhelming defeat of a resolution designed to keep the schools open on Columbus Day, Washington's Birthday and Decoration Day, but to devote the day to programs of a patriotic character.

The resolution was endorsed by County Superintendent Gary, City Superintendent Towne, of Oregon City, Principal N. W. Bosland, of the East-ham school at Oregon City and other well known educators, and coincides with the views of State Superintendent Alderman, but the rank and file of the teachers evidently did not look kindly upon a movement intended to curtail their three holidays and voted down the resolution by a vote of about two to one, fully half of the teachers present refraining from voting. The language of the resolution follows: "Whereas, Sections 206 and 207, of the Oregon School Laws designate the 22nd day of February, the 30th day of May and the 12th day of October as legal holidays, be it

Resolved, That the laws be amended so as to require school upon these days and that appropriate exercises be held in all schools when in session.

While the teachers of Clackamas county have no power to alter the school laws, the resolution was in effect, a recommendation to the state legislature. Next Tuesday will be Columbus Day, the newest holiday provided by the state legislature, and all the schools of the state will be closed.

The common sense view taken by County Superintendent Gary is that patriotic observances are educational and desirable, but that the patriotic features contemplated by the legislature are entirely out of place in the closing of schools. However, school districts are required to pay teachers on legal holidays and the majority of the pedagogues felt that they had much to lose and nothing to gain by the adoption of the resolution.

Resolved, That the appointment of three of the six members of the state text book commission from the ranks of teachers; changing the course of study for the two grade high school to conform with the four grade high school; indorsing the county high school fund law, which was defeated by the Clackamas county voters at the last election; opposing instruction of high school subjects in one-room schools; condemning the practice of teachers underbidding each other for positions, and extending the usual school year to 200 days, be it

Resolved, That the institute a success were adopted, after being presented by the resolutions committee, consisting of Robert Goetz, F. B. Hamlin and C. F. Romig.

The full text of the resolution follows: "Whereas, The present textbook commission is composed of six members, not one of whom is now actively engaged in public school work, and

INSTITUTE HAS BIG ATTENDANCE

on "Success of Language Material"; Mr. Chaney on "Civil Government" and Miss Anna G. Hayes on "Music in the Country Schools."

The departmental work ended Tuesday and today will be the last day of the institute. F. G. Buchanan, president of the Clackamas County School League, will talk on "Spelling and Arithmetic Contests." H. M. James, of Estacada, head of the debating department of the School League, will make an address on "Debating." A. O. Freel, principal of the Barclay School, Oregon City, will speak on "Athletics." County Superintendent Gary and the three County Supervisors will make brief talks to the teachers. Mrs. Nieta Barlow Lawrence will render vocal numbers before the lecture by Dr. Foster.

The most successful teachers' institute ever held in Clackamas county came to a close Wednesday afternoon with an address by W. T. Foster, president Reed Institute, Portland, on "The Professional Spirit." Not only was there a large attendance of teachers to hear the address but many other residents of this city and county were present.

Dr. Foster declared that the majority of teachers were underpaid, and said that many of them did not receive as much financial compensation for their work as factory girls. This fact he deplored, declaring that there could be no comparison between the work done. "But there is a higher reward for the teachers," continued Dr. Foster. "It is the reward that comes with success. No one should teach who does not like the work. The boys and girls do not appreciate what is being done for them at the time, but they do later in life."

The speaker said that there was no profession more honorable than that of teaching. The address was one of the most instructive delivered at the institute and Dr. Foster was congratulated by many of those who heard him.

F. G. Buchanan, president of the Clackamas School League, delivered an address on "Spelling and Arithmetic Contests," and H. M. James, president of the debating department of the School League, spoke on "Debating." He said that remarkable advancement had been made in this branch in the past three years. A. O. Freel principal of the Barclay school, spoke on "Athletics," and County Superintendent Gary and the three county supervisors made brief talks to the teachers. Mrs. Nieta Barlow Lawrence rendered several vocal selections before the lecture by Dr. Foster. She sang most artistically, "Polack, Awake," receiving a hearty encore, and responded in her pleasing manner with "Oh, That We Two Were Maying." Mrs. Lawrence has the honor of being the first soloist to sing in the new Oregon City high school building.

The women teachers, through a committee, issued the following Wednesday: "We, the lady teachers of Clackamas county wish to express our appreciation of the delightful reception tendered us Tuesday evening in the Commercial Club parlors, at which time the gentlemen proved themselves such royal entertainers. Our unanimous thanks are hereby extended to them for an evening of unalloyed delight."

HOPS/SELL FREELY AT 33 CENTS POUND

Liberal buying of hops is reported in the Willamette Valley, sales reaching probably 500 to 600 bales. T. A. "Alvay" is the principal buyer, but the Seavey Hop Company is likewise an operator of importance. In nearly all instances the price was 33c a pound.

According to Herman Klaber, one of over 180 samples of Willamette Valley hops received of this season's crop, not a single one was found to be moldy, while the quality otherwise was the best ever known in this state.

Offers of 35c to 36c a pound are being freely made in the Russian River and Sonoma District of California, although the crop in the latter section is said to show the poorest quality in years. Samples are said to show mold, honeydew and practically every other ailment that usually affects hop quality.

Since the recent business at 35c in the Sacramento section, no new developments are reported in the hop trade there.

Special cables from England state that half of the hop crop there is already sold and the market has advanced 10 shillings during the past week.

From Germany comes the report that the market is weak and 10 marks lower. This is not deemed a bearish feature by the trade, because the German market is much higher than any other in the world. From 66c to 81c a pound is being paid net to growers there.

20,000 MEN STRIKE ON HARRIMAN LINES

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The threatened strike of the shipmen of the Harriman lines to enforce recognition of the newly organized federation of Ship Workers became a reality today. The number of men who quit in the fifteen states affected was estimated at between 20,000 and 29,000 by the union men, although Julius Kruttschnitt, vice president of the Harriman lines, said the number was much smaller.

Reports from most of the points indicated that the men walked out without demonstrations and no rioting was reported. Traffic was continued without interruption and the railroad heads say that the strike, even if extended, would not interfere with transportation.

BREWERS WORK TRICK ON GROWERS OF HOPS

One of the cleverest schemes of recent years is being played in Oregon by eastern brewers and dealers. While offering 35 cents freely for California and Washington hops which are always considered inferior to the Oregon product, the best bids available here are 32 and 33 cents a pound and there seems to be no disposition to order more than a few lots at this range.

Leading dealers attribute the discrimination against the Oregon hop market at this time to the efforts of the brewers to break the backbone of the growers. Oregon hops are always most desired by beer makers and therefore if they can put out a few fictitious bids at other places and name higher prices they believe they can make Oregon growers "sore" and thereby force them to unload at their own price.

It is stated to be the intention of the eastern interests to beat down the market here to 30 cents a pound and then quickly gobble up everything in sight. After that the few remaining lots will probably sell at a very stiff advance.

Seavey Hop company seems to be the principal operator here at the present time and several hundred bales were purchased in the Willamette valley during the past 24 hours at 32 and 33 cents a pound.

TURKS ARE EAGER TO FIGHT ITALIANS

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.—Turkish telegrams today reported that an Italian warship had sunk two motor-boats near Hodeida, a port on the Red Sea, and pursued the Turkish torpedo boat destroyer Felkisevut. This news, circulated in the streets, served to increase the popular clamor for battle, and citizens by the hundreds volunteered their services, either on land or sea. Despite the fact that Turkey has appealed to the Powers to intervene the people want to fight. And Turkey is going ahead with preparations for war.
