

Frenchwoman Holds Distance Flying Record For Her Sex

Mlle. HELENE DUTRIEU just now holds the long distance flying record for her sex. She recently made a flight of 140 miles, just twice the distance that had been previously covered by a woman in an aeroplane, and she says she is prepared to do still better if some daring American woman will surpass her achievement. Mlle. Dutrieu was a trick bicycle rider before taking up flying. She was one of the first women in the world to operate an aeroplane, and she soon proved to be daring and skilful. She recently came to the United States and has been making exhibition flights. In the picture above she is seen seated in her aeroplane wearing the garb that she devised for flying.

BOULEVARD WORK TO BEGIN SOON

GOVERNOR PROMISES CLACKAMAS COUNTY CONVICT LABOR FIRST.
QUARRY TO BE OBTAINED AT NEW ERA
West Delighted With Enterprise And Enthusiasm Manifested By East Side Capital Highway Association.

It is thought that convicts will be put to work in rock quarries at New Era to obtain material for the capital highway within a month. George F. Rodgers, chairman, and Grant B. Dimick, of the Capital Highway Commission have recommended several quarries at New Era to the East Side Capital Highway Association and it is probable that one of them will be chosen within a few days. Much important business will be transacted at the meeting of the association at Central Point next Wednesday evening. A large delegation will go from here in automobiles.

Governor West has announced that he will send convicts to Clackamas county any time they are desired. The governor is somewhat disappointed over the failure of the Marion county officials to take definite action, and is delighted with the work done in this county.

MARRIAGE.

"Bert Parson," sez Manda, "is just a Joe Dandy!"
But still I got his chance was slim,
Till one day Manda married him.

Next time I saw Manda, I sez, "How's Joe Dandy?"
But Manda only shook her head,
An' said she wished that she was dead.

"Manda," sez I, "when you was so high,
You couldn't read, nor spell, nor figger,
No more'n a anti-bellum nigger.

"Till you learned how; the point is, now
Jest study Bert, like a good wife
Or a divorce may wreck your life,

The gravy's lumpy, husband gets grumpy;
Then laugh an' say you bet a dime
There won't be nary lump next time.

When business worries, and parsons hurries,
Frets and gets in a dreadful stew,
Says, "Oh gosh darn it!" as men do.

Keep sweet and steady, nor be too ready
To give back angry 'till for tat,
But train him sometimes for all that.

Next time I saw Manda, I sez, "How's Joe Dandy?"
Then Manda laughed L.D. said she bet
She'd learn to "read and spell" him yet.

EXPERT SUGGESTS BOOKS FOR YOUNG

MISS HELEN T. KENNEDY TELLS WHAT BOYS AND GIRLS SHOULD READ

LOCAL LIBRARY IS PRAISED BY HER
Representative of State Commission Explains Work That is Being Accomplished—Schools and Granges Aided.

The best books for boys and girls. In the language of an immortal bard, "Aye, there's the rub." That is, it is to the ordinary person, but to Miss Helen T. Kennedy, visiting librarian of the State Library Commission, who delivered a lecture at the Oregon City Library Thursday afternoon, it is an easy matter. This versatile young woman has made a study of books for the young folk and she knows just what to recommend.

Miss Kennedy had just finished her lecture and was arranging twenty-five or thirty volumes on a table when a Morning Enterprise reporter was presented. She handled the books as kindly as if they were her kith and kin. The first thing that impressed the interviewer was that he was not only in the presence of one who thoroughly understood her business, but that she liked her business; that she was firmly impressed with the idea that there was no other business just like it or nearly so important.

Best Book is a Collection. "What is the best one book for a child, if conditions are such it may have only one," she said, repeating a question asked her.

"Well now, that's a pretty difficult question. You know there are so many good books. But if a child is to be allowed only one book, I would suggest this volume."

Miss Kennedy held out a large book, and the reporter read on the cover, "The Children's Book." It is a collection from various juvenile and other works by Horace E. Scudder.

Then Miss Kennedy called attention to other books for children, just as she had done at the lecture, which was heard by several hundred fathers and mothers, who, if they caught the spirit of the lecturer—and unquestionably they did—will busy themselves today in purchasing all kinds of lore for their children. All kinds. No not all kinds, but the kinds recommended by this expert, who is doing a mighty good work.

Libraries Are Aided. Miss Kennedy received her training at the University of Illinois and was employed for several years in the Library School at the Training University. Her work consists of visiting the teachers' institute, granges and schools, suggesting books to be purchased and giving other assistance.

She assists in arranging libraries in towns and cities and keeps in close touch with the libraries in the state. She also tries to encourage dealers to handle certain books.

The State Library Commission lends books to schools, granges and towns desirous of establishing libraries. Fifty volumes are sent twice a month. The idea is to encourage the establishment of libraries, and the desired effect is being accomplished.

Miss Kennedy praised the management of the local library for its efficient work, and declared the excellent support it is receiving is unusual. The attendance of from sixty to 100 persons daily she thought was fine.

SONS OF VETERANS TO BE ORGANIZED

MEADE POST, G. A. R. APPOINTS COMMITTEE TO ARRANGE DETAILS.

MEETING CALLED FOR OCTOBER 25
Patriotic Addresses Will Be Delivered By Mayor And Other Prominent Men—Large Membership Expected.

Meade Post, Grand Army of the Republic and the Women's Relief Corps, at a meeting Saturday afternoon made the preliminary arrangements for the organization for the sons of veterans in this city and county into camps. The plan has been in contemplation for several years, and the membership is expected to be large.

A committee consisting of D. K. Bill, Commander; H. S. Clyde, Adjutant and George A. Harding, Quartermaster, was appointed to arrange the details and report at the meeting of the camp October 25. The post and relief corps will meet the afternoon and evening of October 25 at Willamette Hall to organize the sons of veterans. Speeches will be made by Mayor Brownell, G. B. Dimick, Gordon E. Hayes and members of Meade Post and the relief corps.

Regarding the proposed organization Mr. Harding said that Meade Post had been slow in organizing the sons of veterans. "Other cities," he declared, "long ago organized the young men into camps, and we feel that Oregon City and Clackamas county should do so as soon as possible."

The object of the sons of veterans camps is to keep alive the principles for which the veterans fought and suffered. The national organization has a membership of probably a million.

Important meetings were held by the Presbyterian and Congregational Brotherhoods Tuesday evening. There were large attendances at both, and the work for the fall and winter was mapped out. The Congregational Brotherhood elected officers for the ensuing year, and addresses were made and a musical program was rendered at the meeting of the Presbyterian Brotherhood.

The meetings of the brotherhoods of the first held this fall and much enthusiasm was manifested. The Congregational Brotherhood elected T. J. Gary, president; J. A. Roake, vice-president; Percy Canfield, treasurer; Roy Trullinger, secretary, and Colonel C. H. Dye, teacher. Owing to Mr. Gary having to attend council meetings in Willamette the first Tuesday in each month it was decided to have the monthly banquets on the last Tuesday.

F. J. Toole, president of the Presbyterian Brotherhood was toastmaster at the banquet, which was served by the ladies of the church. After reading an appropriate poem on Brotherhood, Mr. Toole introduced various members who made short addresses.

"Sociality" was C. Schuebel's subject; N. W. Bowland spoke on "Spirit of Brotherhood," and A. O. Freeland and Sigurd Anker made appropriate talks.

The musical program consisted of a piano solo by Carol Ely; vocal solo by Miss Kathleen Harris; whistling solo by Harold Swafford and violin solo by H. H. Ely.

Mr. Toole, in his address congratulated the brotherhood upon the work it had accomplished and predicted for it a greater field of usefulness.

GERTRUDE JONES AND CLYDE ANDERSON WED

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Babcock, Beaver Creek, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Miss Gertrude Jones became the wife of Mr. Clyde Anderson, Rev. Vols performing the ceremony in the presence of the intimate friends and relatives of the bride and bridegroom. The bride looked very pretty in her gown of white satin and carried white carnations. The matron of honor, Mrs. J. S. Jones, was becomingly gowned in dove-colored silk and carried carnations. Mr. Jack Jones, brother of the bride, was best man.

The rooms of the Babcock home were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, ferns and cut flowers. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served. Many handsome presents were received by the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will make their home at Beaver Creek.

The bride came to Oregon about seven months ago from Liverpool, England, and since her residence at Beaver Creek has won many friends by her charming personality. The bridegroom is an industrious young man and is well liked at Beaver Creek, where he has made his home for the past three years, having come from Wyoming. He is a brother of Mrs. A. F. Babcock, one of the well known residents of Beaver Creek.

BEAVERS WIN AGAIN AND VERNON LOSES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—(Special).—There is little doubt now that Portland will win the 1911 pennant. McCredie's men never played better ball than they are now and Vernon seems to have gone all to pieces. The Beavers easily disposed of Los Angeles today and Vernon dropped another to the Oaks.

Henderson outpitched Tozer and the Beavers outplayed their opponents in every department of the game.

When the result of the Oakland-Vernon game, disclosing the rout of the score-board the Los Angeles fans cheered the Beavers, apparently reconciled to the belief that the Coast League pennant will go to Portland.

Portland's victory today and the defeat of Vernon gives McCredie's team a lead of 17 points over the Villagers in the contest for the Coast championship. The camp of McCredie is gay and glad.

Captain Dillon had announced that "Flame" Delbi, his crack twirler, would try his left hand against Portland today but he disclosed such a wildness while warming up for the contest that the Angel leader changed his mind and dispatched "Bill" Tozer to the firing line.

Origin of the Red Cap of Liberty.
The red cap of liberty had a very prosaic origin. Instead of being the "Phrygian bonnet" it is just the galley slave's headgear. The Swiss of the Chateaux regiment sent to the galleys for their share in the Nancy riots were released and came into Paris with the red caps still on their heads.

"They are the victims of despotism," said the people, forgetting the circumstances of the riot, and so the red cap became the favorite with the extreme party.—London Globe.

An Umbrella Joke.
Gotham town is easy or not, just as Gotham town is in the mood. A practical joker had made for him a property umbrella which wouldn't open or do anything else a well brought up umbrella ought to do, honestly owned or wicked stolen. Then when the rain was coming down heavily one day he set it outside the door of his office in the corridor of a populous skyscraper for somebody to pinch when the office force was to follow the manufacturer down the elevator and jeer him as he tried to put it up in the downpour. The umbrella stayed there all day. Not a soul would touch it. Oh, you New York!—New York Press.
