PROFITABLE FARMING.

A land boom in 1905, 1906 and the first half of 1907 transformed 750 square miles of farming territory within thirty-five miles of New York City into town or suburban lots.

These "city farmers," as they came to be known, found returning to the soil profitable. As the years advanced and industry and intelligent application increased their products they prospered.

There is plenty of available land on the outskirts of every city and what has been accomplished in the neighborhood of New York can be duplicated elsewhere.

CANADIAN CENSUS.

The result of the Canadian census is not at all up to the expectations of those optimistic citizens of our northern neighbor who had hoped that a population of 8,000,000 would be disclosed.

The figures would seem to indicate that there has been some indulgence in exaggeration respecting the great gains made by the Dominion in recent years. In Montreal and Toronto there have been some increases, but a decrease is shown in nearly all the Eastern section.

Only the maritime provinces have held their own. The increase has been confined to Halifax and the mining districts. Alberta has made large gains, but as these were drawn from the Dominion it cannot be deemed an increase.

Looking Backward Or Ahead

(BY EDGAR BATES.)

(From the Enterprise of Oct. 20, 1911.) The house surgeons of the Wildwood Hospital have been successful in their operation on Mr. Old Timer, the man who has been in a sort of semi-conscious state for four years.

The nurse evidently did not understand and inquired as to what locks Old Timer referred to. The patient gave the nurse a queer smile and said, "Those free locks, everyone is talking about out."

Are You Hesitating?

WE have hundreds of patrons who will vouch for our accuracy, the security which we afford depositors, and the completeness of the services we perform for them.

If we render valuable service to others, why not to you? Do not hesitate because you fear your transactions may be too small for our consideration. Come in and talk it over, anyway.

The Bank of Oregon City THE OLDEST BANK IN THE COUNTY

ing about out." Then the nurse realized that the man did not know anything of all the changes that have taken place in Oregon City during the last four years. The nurse informed him that the locks were finished three years ago, but the mind of the patient did not comprehend.

"Well, as near as I can remember before I got mixed up with those 'Live Wires,' the fall of '11 was one fall of 'talk' in the different parts of the city about different things. There was one bunch of men who talked of having the government build new locks, some urging their construction on this side of the river, while another man crossed these views and maintained that the old site should be retained, and the present locks rebuilt.

"The elevator that carried us down from the crest of the bluff to the level of Main street was the first thing that I particularly noticed. I remember when but a boy, some one tried to sell my father some stock in the Oregon City Elevator Company, but the plan fell through. But its a mighty good thing that the elevator business, and the saving of that awful climb is worth one cent of any one's money.

"On reaching Main street the double tracks of the railroad company attracted attention and a passing car with a painted sign on its sides told me that they didn't charge twenty-five cents for a ride to Portland any more. I always thought that 15c or 25c for the round trip was high enough. My! How Main street had changed. I had to ask what that big building at Ninth and Main streets was. I couldn't recall anything about the Elks building on a location, let alone erecting a substantial home. And the big church on the river bank a block away! It doesn't seem possible that we have such an imposing edifice where that small wooden church stood for so many years. And the stores down town, have all grown wonderfully. And the new Federal building, the ground floor of which is used for the postoffice, the other three floors being devoted to the millinery boys.

About this time a young hustler came along with an Enterprise extra, which among other things gave notice of the arrival at the Municipal Dock of the liner "Commercial" which plys between New York and Oregon City, via the Panama Canal. So I thought I'd walk down to the foot of Eleventh street to see the ship. The Municipal dock which I found must have exceeded the fondest hopes and aspirations of the man who had this single thing taxing his brain for so many years. The long piers with ocean-going ships discharging and loading cargoes to and from the high warehouses that covered several blocks, proved to me the wisdom of dredging the river from "The Falls to the Sea," and the building of these big city docks with its wonderful network of Molalla Southern tracks. The big Molalla Southern depot and car barns just a block away also gained my admiration. While having lunch at the Commercial Club I saw a former acquaintance who resided in this city for many years, but who, in the meantime had been elected Governor. This man had just arrived from Salem in his automobile having come over the Pacific Highway in less than an hour. While here I was introduced to the "city commissioner". I thought the man who introduced me had made a mistake about calling him commissioner, but I soon found out that the "city commissioner" was the man who had entire charge of municipal affairs, this commission form of city government, having been in effect three years. I also met the two "assistant commissioners" who seemed very capable young men.

That these three men had been holding their positions every since the installation of this new system was proof that the plan was a success and that the citizens of the city did not care to consider changing back to the old form of government. The big Willamette Theatre gave substantial evidence of the growth of the city, although I was surprised at a poster notice stating that tomorrow evening a lecture on the woman suffrage question would be delivered. I thought that the hopes of women for obtaining this privilege had been 'don-away'

A traveling salesman of Portland, lost a gold watch which was valued very highly, in this city Friday. An advertisement was inserted in Saturday morning's Enterprise, and H. J. Filiger, one of the merchants on Seventh street, reading the "ad," informed one of the employees of the Daily Enterprise that he had found a gold watch, and the news was communicated to the salesman in Portland, who immediately telephoned a description of the one he lost, which corresponded with the one found. It was sent to the owner. The salesman was fortunate that the watch was found by a man conscientious enough to return it.

Rheumatic Pains quickly relieved Sloan's Liniment. Sloan's Liniment is good for pain of any sort. It penetrates, without rubbing, through the muscular tissue right to the bone—relieves the congestion and gives permanent as well as temporary relief. Here's Proof. A. W. LAY of Lafayette, Ala., writes: "I had rheumatism for five years. I tried doctors and several different remedies but they did not help me. I obtained a bottle of Sloan's Liniment which did me so much good that I would not do without it for anything." THOMAS J. RICK of Easton, Pa., writes: "I have used Sloan's Liniment and find it first-class for rheumatic pains." Mr. G. G. JONES of Baldwin, L. I., writes: "I have found Sloan's Liniment par excellence. I have used it for broken sinews above the knee cap caused by a fall, and to my great satisfaction I was able to resume my duties in less than three weeks after the accident."

APPLE GROWERS WAIT FOR HIGHER PRICES

In the Northwest generally the apple supply is materially short of the usual showing at this time of the year. For that reason the outlook is for a fairly firm market from this time on. As a rule the growers to date have shown a disposition to hold stock back, demanding better prices than have been readily obtainable. At the same time buyers have figured on paying prices at or near the level of recent years, and their attitude has to some extent held the market in check.

A further health factor is the quality of the bulk of the stock offered. As is well known, Portland and the other Coast cities get the culls and common fruit from the commercial orchards of the Northwest, the fancy stock for the most part going eastward, and as a result relatively low apple prices rule here more or less throughout the year. Coast buyers are so accustomed to command fair grade apples that they fight shy of the high prices demanded for quality fruit.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows: HIDES—(Buying) — Green hides, 12c to 6c; salted, 5c to 6c; dry hides, 5c to 14c; sheep pelts, 25c to 75c each.

MARRIAGE. Wall now I swan, Samantha Jane, What you've writ is mighty plain; You must have wanted to raise Cain, But never mind, '88 high Manda, "Anti-belum Nigger" dandy "Read and spell him," box of candy. I've heard it sed Samantha J. That "our lives are but a play," That "men and women, small and great,

Just get the part decreed by fate; But peoples feet are apt to slip When they get too awtu, flip. And they're apt to take a drop, Heels go up, and down they flop, And when heads become inflamed, The "big head" by some 'tis named. By all the laws and rules of Blackstone, Whet stone, Grind stone, or any Crank stone, A compress then should be applied Until the swelling does subside. So our advice, Samantha Jane, Is not to feel too awful vain. When you consult your biggest bump, To judge a load how far he'll jump. This knowledge you'll not find in books.

To pick a winner, by his looks, The one you think his chance is slim, You're always safe to bet on him. Now, when you want to tame a man, You'll doubtless find the safest plan, To let "Dan Cupid" take a hand, The "Heart and Arrow" are his brand.

Samantha, if you've had a beau, Attraction's laws you ought to know, 'Tis contrary to the rules of fate, For uncongential lives to mate. And those whose tastes do not accord, Or those whose acts should be abhorred, Should never, no never, unite, In wedlock, for it is not right.

A code, we'd have of marriage laws, That have in view "affect and cause," With a physician's signature, To crown the act and make it sure. Let all divorces be denied, What'er unpleasant betide, Then you'll agree, Samantha Jane, The married state is not in vain. BERT PARSONS.

ADOLPH JOEHNKE DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Adolph William Joehnke, a well-known young man and son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Joehnke, prominent resident of Mount Pleasant, died Thursday morning. The young man was stricken about eighteen months ago with typhoid fever, and suffered from complications. Several months later he was taken to the St. Vincent Hospital, where he underwent two surgical operations, and was confined in the hospital for nine months. He was recovering when he was stricken about three weeks ago with tuberculosis of the spine, which was the cause of his death.

Mr. Joehnke was born at Mount Pleasant May 13, 1889. He was employed for some time in Portland, but spent most of his life in this city, where he was highly esteemed and had many friends. He leaves, besides his parents, one sister, Miss Wilhelmina Joehnke, a newspaper writer of New York; two brothers, Edward Joehnke, an attorney of Marshfield, and Carl Joehnke, register clerk, of the Oregon City postoffice.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Ross, who died at her home in Willamette Saturday, was held Monday afternoon at the Methodist church, the Rev. Zimmerman officiating. The interment was in Mountain View Cemetery.

FINAL TRIBUTE IS PAID ADOLPH JOEHNKE

The funeral of Adolph Joehnke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joehnke of Mount Pleasant, who died Thursday, was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home, Rev. C. W. Robinson, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, officiated, and a quartet from the Episcopal church rendered several appropriate selections. As the young man was well known and highly esteemed many beautiful floral offerings were in evidence, and the room where the services were conducted was a mass of flowers. Many friends of the young man and of the family attended. The interment was in the Mountain View cemetery. The pallbearers were friends of the deceased. They were Marshall J. Lazzelle, Dr. Jenkins, Frank Hendricks, John Telford, Arthur King, Clint Black.

CURED TO STAY CURED. How an Oregon City Citizen Found Complete Freedom From Kidney Troubles.

If you suffer from backache—From urinary disorders—From any disease of the kidneys, Be cured to stay cured. Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Oregon City people testify. Here's one case of it: Theodore Hueth, Park Place, Oregon City, Ore., says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be just as represented and I consider them worthy of endorsement. For a long time I suffered from lameness across my back and there was a steady ache over my kidneys. The trouble was not severe enough to lay me up but it caused great distress, especially when I stooped or lifted. On a friend's advice, I was finally led to use Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Huntley Bros. Drug Co. and they removed every symptom of my trouble." (Statement given January 27, 1906.) Good Work.

In April, 1910, Mr. Hueth added to the above: "The statement I have previously given in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. This remedy effected a permanent cure in my case." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SAWMILL VICTIM IS BURIED IN CANBY

The funeral of Paul Kalb, who died at the hospital in Astoria Saturday from injuries received while working in a sawmill at that place, was held at the family home in Macksburg Tuesday afternoon, and the interment was in the Zion cemetery, Canby. Mr. Kalb was engaged as hook tender at the sawmill and the chain of the tender swung around and struck him in the temple, causing a fracture of the skull. He never regained consciousness after being struck. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kalb, of Macksburg, were notified and the father hurried to Astoria. The body was shipped to Macksburg Saturday evening.

The deceased was twenty-six years of age. This is the second death in the Kalb family within the past two months. The funeral services of the young man were largely attended. He leaves, besides his parents, several brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Ross is Buried. The funeral of Mrs. Mary Ross, who died at her home in Willamette Saturday, was held Monday afternoon at the Methodist church, the Rev. Zimmerman officiating. The interment was in Mountain View Cemetery.
