DOUGHTIT FINED FOR ATTACKING TREMBATH

John Doughtit, indicted for assaulting H. W. Trembath, deputy fish warden, was found guilty in the circuit court and fined $50. The attack was made after Trembath, it is alleged, had shot Alex Doughtit, a brother of the defendant. Alex Doughtit, with a party of friends, was in a skiff at the Falls early one morning about three months ago when he was shot in the arm by a man said to be Trembath. Doughtit denied that he was violating the fish laws. That afternoon while Trembath was in a Main street barber shop he was attacked by the wounded man's brother. Trembath has been indicted for the shooting.

JUDGE ALLOWS YOUNG WOMAN $50 MONTHLY WHILE SUIT IS PENDING.

HUSBAND AND WIFE MEET IN COURT

Evidence to be Heard in Main Issue December 13—Suit Money Fixed at $150 And Lawyer's Fee $200.

Upon motion of S. T. Jeffries, attorney for the defendant, Circuit Judge Campbell Friday issued an order allowing Mrs. Cheta Pearl Alisky, sister of Mrs. Maybelle Gilman Corey, $50 a month alimony during the pendency of the suit, $150 suit money and $200 lawyer's fee in the divorce action filed by Charles W. Alisky, a theatrical man, and son of C. A. Alisky, a wealthy retired Portland confectioner. Mrs. Alisky, her husband and the parents of the plaintiff were in court when the order was issued.

In a motion made the day following the filing of the suit the defendant asked $5,000 suit money, $1,000 lawyer's fee and $250 a month alimony during the pendency of the suit. She also filed a suit for divorce, making sensational charges against her husband. Judge Campbell will here evidence in the suit brought by the husband December 12.

WIFE, SING, SAYS HUSBAND KICKED HER

Charging him with cruelty E. Adelaide Seeger Monday filed suit for divorce against Albert J. Seeger. The plaintiff alleges that while they were living in Portland February 13, 1910, her husband kicked her out of bed, and that he often ordered her to leave home. They were married July 1, 1906, in Portland, and have two children, Lewis A., four years of age, and C. L., three years of age. Libbie Blais sued Fred Blais for divorce, alleging desertion. She earns her own living after her marriage. The plaintiff asks that her maiden name, Libbie Smith, be restored. They were married in Ros-land, British Columbia, July 18, 1910.

WIFE, SING, SAYS LIFE WAS THREATENED

Alleging that he threatened to kill her with a razor, Mary J. Steen Saturday filed suit for divorce from William John Steen. They were married in Youngstown, Ohio, July 8, 1907. The plaintiff charges that her husband came home in an intoxicated condition May 5, 1910, abused her and hunted for his razor with which he said he would kill her. She further alleges that he knocked her down September 2, 1911, and again threatened her life. She asks to be restored to her maiden name, Mary J. Gormley.

WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE

Alleging that he treated her cruelly and struck her several times Elizabeth Groll filed suit Tuesday for a divorce from John Groll. They were married October 16, 1903, in Hot Springs, Ark. They have two children, George, four years old, and John, seven years of age.

MARRIED 35 YEARS, SHE SUES

MT. PLEASANT CLUB WILL ERECT HALL

One of the most enthusiastic meetings held by the Mount Pleasant Civic Improvement Club was the annual meeting Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance. Berz Clark was elected secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the former secretary, J. N. Stevers, moving from Mount Pleasant. Mrs. McLane, who recently moved to Mount Pleasant, was chosen chairman of the entertainment committee. Mrs. entertainment recently given when the Corn Tassel family was presented at the school house, turned over $22. The proceeds of the entertainment. This will be used toward the construction of the sidewalks that are to be built along Holmes Lane leading to Mountain View and in the South-western district. A committee was appointed to confer with the city council in regard to placing the walks. There is no doubt that the council will be glad to grant the privilege. The matter of building a hall in the school building was also discussed. The school building has been used since the organization of the club. As soon as the sidewalks have been paid for a fund will be started for the club's hall. Within the past four years $600 has been paid for sidewalks in the vicinity of Mount Pleasant, by the club. Many persons have returned to Mount Pleasant within the past year, and one of these said a few days ago the reason he moved there was because of the sidewalks leading to his country home and the excellent school. The rooms of Mount Pleasant school are crowded, the primary grade of which has forty-four pupils. It was necessary to have an extra teacher this year and another room added, and from all indications there will have to be another employed next year. There are more than 100 members of the Mount Pleasant Civic Improvement Club. The club was never in a more flourishing condition than it is at the present time.

TOOZE MADE HEAD OF SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

F. J. Tooze was elected president of the Clackamas County Sunday School Association at the final session of the convention which was convened in Oak Grove Friday. Mrs. W. A. CHARTER BOARD TO WORK SLOWLY

COMMITTEE HEARS SUGGESTIONS REGARDING FORMS OF GOVERNMENT.

MR. CAUFIELD GIVES HIS VIEWS

Secretary Stipp Tells How To Fix Responsibility—Mr. U'Ren Explains System Adopted By Germany.

The committee appointed by Mayor Brownell and the City Council to revise the charter so as to provide a commission form of government or a "business form of government"—it would take a Philadelphia lawyer to make the differentiation—is working in accordance with the suggestion of Davy Crockett. "Be sure you are right and then go ahead." At its second meeting which was held Thursday evening, the committee discussed various plans of city government, but nothing was suggested except in a preliminary way.

The directors of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Assembly elected the following officers Wednesday: C. H. Dye, president; George A. Harding, vice-president; H. E. Cross, secretary, and E. G. Caulfield, treasurer. George A. Steele who was elected a director at a recent meeting of the stockholders declined and Mrs. Sarah Spooner, of Harmony, was elected to fill the vacancy. T. J. Gary, who has been secretary of the assembly for several years, refused to be a can-

George A. Harding, Chairman of the Committee Appointed to Revise the City Charter.

Chairman Harding called the meeting to order and the other members present were Messrs. Stipp, Andresen, Schuebel, Stevens and Tooze. Among the citizens present who made suggestions were Messrs. U'Ren, Caulfield and Shevman. Mr. Schuebel thought the committee in order to arrive at a working basis should determine as soon as possible whether it favored the commission form of government or a "business management." The business management plan consists of having the affairs of the municipality governed the same as the business of a corporation. Under the commission form there might be three commissioners, each having charge of a department of the city. Under the business, or corporation form, the city council would act in the same capacity as the board of directors of a big business, with the mayor occupying the same position as the chairman of the board of directors. Mr. Schuebel did not say he favored either of these plans, but he merely suggested them as a working basis.

Mr. Stipp said there was a sentiment that authority should be concentrated in as few hands as possible; that one man, or more should be given authority and they should be held responsible for their acts. He declared that under the present charter the mayor had little authority, and consequently there was no one to hold responsible. The mayor makes the appointments, but the council, and the appointments cannot be removed without cause. E. G. Caulfield, one of the framers of the present charter, and former mayor, opposed the appointment of three commissioners on salaries. He said there was not enough business to justify the expenditure. He suggested that the mayor be empowered to appoint a business manager of the city, who would give his entire time to the work, and if he did not prove satisfactory he could be removed at once. Mr. Caulfield said that when he was mayor he could have used a business manager to great advantage. He thought it would be better to let the mayor appoint a business manager, and declared that it made no difference whether the appointee lived in this city or elsewhere. If the best man could be obtained in Portland it would be a wise plan to name that man. W. S. U'Ren declared that the only way to obtain an efficient government was to put someone in absolute charge and make him responsible. He called attention to the success that had been obtained in Staunton, Va., by employing a business manager, and said that in Germany men made professions of managing cities. They began their training in smaller towns and gradually worked their way up as their abilities justified. The goal was the majority of Berlin. W. A. Shevman suggested that three commissioners or councilmen be elected and empowered to appoint a business manager. Mr. Stipp said this plan would not be successful in all probability, because it would be difficult to hold three men responsible, and that they might disagree. Mr. Tooze said, in order to simplify matters, the discussion should be along the lines of the administrative, judicial and legislative. He called attention to the cabinet form

"CORNTASSEL FAMILY" GREAT WALK BUILDERS

"The Corntassel Family" performed in Mount Pleasant Friday evening. It was a great performance too, and everybody had a good time. Incidentally enough money was raised to build several hundred yards of sidewalk, the demand for which resulted in the organization of the trouble, which was dubbed "The Corntassel Family." The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Mount Pleasant Civic Improvement Association, and the assembly room was crowded. Lyman Warnock, who represented "St. Corntassel," pleased the big crowd with his violin solo, and he was forced to respond to several encores. T. E. McLain rendered a vocal solo and Edward Minor performed as a presiding officer. Both of them did well, and, in fact, every person in the entertainment was pleasing. Refreshments were served after the entertainment. It is planned to extend the sidewalks on Holmes Lane and in Southwest Mount Pleasant. Many persons from Oregon City attended the entertainment.

LESTER FUGE IS CONVICTED.

Attorney For Defendant Will Probably Appeal Case. Lester Fuge, twenty-three years of age, accused by his grandmother, Mrs. Christina Fuge, seventy years of age, was found guilty of attempted assault in the Circuit Court Tuesday night. His attorney, J. E. Hedges, will probably appeal the case. The young man denied that he was guilty, and it was intimated that he was the victim of a conspiracy. District Attorney Tongue was assisted in the prosecution by Assistant District Attorney Stipp and W. A. Dimick.

Whooping Cough.

It is an old saying that whooping cough must run its course, but the use of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey has demonstrated beyond doubt that such is not the case. It can be cured by the use of this remedy. Geo. A. Harding, Druggist.

Mr. Gary, who is superintendent of the county schools, felt that the work connected with the chautauqua might take too much of his time from his school work. His services have been highly appreciated and the assembly has prospered under his management. Mr. Cross accepted the office at the urgent request of the directors after Mr. Gary had announced that he would retire.

At the conclusion of the services at the Mountain View cemetery, Edward McFarland sounded taps, which concluded the impressive ceremony.

LESTER FUGE IS CONVICTED.

Attorney For Defendant Will Probably Appeal Case. Lester Fuge, twenty-three years of age, accused by his grandmother, Mrs. Christina Fuge, seventy years of age, was found guilty of attempted assault in the Circuit Court Tuesday night. His attorney, J. E. Hedges, will probably appeal the case. The young man denied that he was guilty, and it was intimated that he was the victim of a conspiracy. District Attorney Tongue was assisted in the prosecution by Assistant District Attorney Stipp and W. A. Dimick.

Whooping Cough.

It is an old saying that whooping cough must run its course, but the use of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey has demonstrated beyond doubt that such is not the case. It can be cured by the use of this remedy. Geo. A. Harding, Druggist.
