

TURKS PLANNING REVENGE ON FOE

ITALIANS IN TRIPOLI LOSING GROUND AND EUROPE IS HORRIFIED.

BEDOUINS AND ARABS IN GREAT WAR

Cholera Rages Among Troops And Civilians And Streets Are Closed—Soldiers Refuse to Bury Bodies of Slain.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Despatches from Malta say that it is reported that the Turks and Arabs have attacked and re-entered Tripoli, inflicting tremendous loss upon the Italians, who for several days have been confined to the inner fortifications, weakened and disheartened by disease and the fearful stench arising from thousands of unburied corpses.

It is reported by wireless direct from Tripoli that the threatened attack of the Turks and Arabs on that place is likely to occur at any moment and that the Italians, who hold only the inner forts, within the city itself, no longer are confident of the result of an attack by their foes, who are in possession of the outer circle of fortresses.

Europe shudders at the thought of what may occur at Tripoli if the Turks should reconquer the city and commit upon the Italians the atrocities which the Italians are proved to have committed upon the Turks and Arabs. The earlier reports of the cruelties of the Italians toward their North African foes are confirmed today by the arrival here and at Berlin, Paris, Vienna and Frankfurt of additional uncensored delayed dispatches from English, German and French correspondents at the front.

A holy war has been successfully proclaimed. Bedouins from Egypt and Arabs from Soudan are joining the Tripolitans. Only an advance guard of 1,500 Arabs is attacking the Italians, despite the statements in the Italian papers that the enemy's losses run into the thousands.

The Italians are cutting all the trees in the oasis so as not to afford shelter to the enemy. Thus the invaders are reducing the scanty oasis to a desert, instead of reclaiming the desert as they professed they would do when they occupied Tripoli. Loud explosions every day indicate the blowing up of houses outside the walls where the enemy might take cover.

Meanwhile cholera is raging among the troops and the people. The disease has attacked the Arabs for the first time. Whole streets are closed to traffic by the troops on account of cholera. Twenty-seven soldiers died from cholera yesterday. Hundreds are sick. Thirty-three civilians are dead.

The soldiers refuse to bury the murdered Arabs, who litter the oasis. Owing to the stench, the Arabs also refuse, save at the bayonets' point. Consequently, the contagion is spreading fast.

KYRLE BELLEW, ACTOR AND EXPLORER, DEAD

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 2.—Kyrle Bellew, one of the foremost actors of the English-speaking stage, author and explorer, died here shortly after 5 o'clock this morning of pneumonia, after a brief illness. Mr. Bellew was taken ill last Friday, but although a portion of his Salt Lake engagement was canceled, his illness was not considered serious until yesterday morning, when congestion of the lungs set in.

His body will be taken to New York at noon today, accompanied by the members of "The Mollusc" company, in which Mr. Bellew was playing at the time he was taken ill.

In addition to his successes as a romantic actor, Mr. Bellew was a successful dramatist and adapter. He arranged and presented a successful English adaptation of "La Tosca," and was author of the English version of "Charlotte Corday" and other plays.

The parts played by Mr. Bellew covered a wide field, ranging from Shakespeare to modern comedy, but perhaps his greatest success was his performance of "Raffles" in the drama of that name. He also created the leading roles in "The Thief," "Brigadier Gerard," "A Gentleman of France" and other successes.

His private life was as varied and adventurous as the rolls he presented.

He was born at Calcutta, India, in 1857, of English parents, his father being the chaplain of Calcutta Cathedral. For seven years he was a cadet in the British navy, but the discovery of gold in Australia lured him from the service and he spent a number of years in Australia working as a miner at Ballarat and as a reporter on Melbourne newspapers.

He made his debut at the Theatre Royal, Brighton, England, in the early '80s, and achieved immediate success. He came to America as a leading man at Wallace's Theatre, New York. Later he became a co-star with Mrs. James Brown Potter in Shakespearean repertoire, completing with her a tour that embracing all the English-speaking countries in the world.

In 1900 he again felt the call of adventure and headed an expedition into North Queensland, which extended over two years. He returned to the stage in 1902 at the head of his own company.

His work as an explorer gained him a fellowship in the Royal Geographical Society, and he was a member of many clubs.

Mr. Bellew was unmarried, and is survived by a sister, known as Sister Mary Monica, now living in the convent of the Fourplares, Nottingham, London. The funeral probably will be held in New York next Tuesday, and will be private, in compliance with Mr. Bellew's wishes.

Mr. Bellew always maintained his British citizenship, his home being at Thamesfield Bray, Berkshire, England.

REPUBLICAN PARTY MAKES BIG GAINS

WILSON HARD HIT IN NEW JERSEY AND DEMOCRATS LOSE IN NEW YORK.

FOSS ELECTED IN MASSACHUSETTS

Kentucky Returns To Democratic Fold By 30,000 Majority—Several Contests Probable.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Elections were held today in many states and cities, throughout the country, showing varying results, with little indication of a widespread wave of public sentiment.

In Massachusetts complete returns give Governor Foss Democrat a plurality of 7,134 over Louis P. Frothingham Republican. The total vote is: Foss 210,622; Frothingham 202,888. The Republicans, however, refused to concede the election, and a state-wide recount may be demanded.

The first returns showed marked gains for Frothingham, but these were gradually reduced. Returns indicate that other Republican candidates on the state ticket are slightly ahead of their Democratic opponent.

New York state elected a Republican Assembly, thus depriving Governor Dix, Democrat, of the support he has heretofore had from a Legislature Democratic in both branches. The present New York Assembly has a Democratic majority of 24. The newly-elected Assembly will have a Republican majority of upward of 30.

In New York City (Manhattan and the Bronx) the Tammany strength was materially reduced, but its candidates for judicial and county officers were elected again by greatly reduced pluralities.

In Brooklyn the fusion judicial and county candidates were successful with perhaps one exception.

Returns from New Jersey indicate the control by the Republicans of both branches of the Legislature and the defeat of several candidates especially advocated by Governor Wilson.

A Democratic Representative in Congress was elected in the Second Kansas District to fill the place of Representative Mitchell, Republican, deceased.

In Kentucky James B. McCreary, Democratic nominee, was elected Governor by a majority estimated at from 20,000 to 40,000. A Democratic Legislature was also elected, which assures the choice of Representative James as United States Senator.

TAFT REVIEWS GREAT FLEET AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—With the President's pennant flying from the masthead of the naval yacht Mayflower, President Taft today formally reviewed the great assemblage of United States warships gathered in the Hudson River here, while from all sides guns boomed out salutes. The Pallisades on the Jersey side of the river were thronged by thousands of enthusiastic spectators.

It was just 7:20 o'clock this morning when President Taft's special car pulled into the depot at Jersey City. From the moment of arrival the presidential party was on the rush. President Taft did not chance tardiness by eating breakfast in his special car, but went direct to the little reviewing yacht Mayflower and breakfasted there. At 9:00 the Mayflower's guns cracked the presidential salute and the little yacht started up the river between the great gray files of battleships, from every porthole of which belched their cannon. River craft sounded their sirens, and from far down the stream echoed added salutes of vessels that could not approach.

The Mayflower tumbled alongside the flagship Connecticut, aboard which was Admiral Osterhaus, commander of the fleet. Osterhaus preceded by his flag-leutenant, then boarded the Mayflower and paid his respects to the chief executive.

President Taft complimented Admiral Osterhaus on the splendid presentation made by the fleet, and as the commander took his leave an admiral salute of 13 guns was fired by the gunners of the Mayflower. Similar salutes followed for each of the other division commanders.

President Taft then boarded the flagship Connecticut, and remained for a short visit, finally returning to the Mayflower. The Mayflower then began its reviewing trip along the line of warships while each vessel super-dreadnaught or tiny destroyer, fired 21 guns as the President's yacht passed.

At Washington ferry the Mayflower turned and steamed toward the Manhattan side, then speeding down stream again amid a repetition of the thunderous salutes.

As the Mayflower passed between the lines of warships the President stood on the bridge, bareheaded, bowing. "It is a wonderful sight!" he exclaimed, and it means much to all of us.

At 12:45 o'clock the Mayflower had completed the circuit about the armadas and had passed the flagship Connecticut on her way down the river.

At Bedloe's Island she waited until warships coming down the river passed. But it was not until 2:15 that the changing tide permitted the armada to start seaward, and the fleet was dissolved.

Some of the warships go to the Brooklyn navy yard for repairs and the others return to their stations.

ENGINEER WINS BRIDE IN 4-HOUR WOOING

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—It took Miss Gladys Rose, of Narragansett Pier, just four hours—from 8 o'clock in the evening until midnight—to decide to marry Ralph Fuller Nye, a member of the engineering corps attached to the Panama Canal, whom she had never met before, and only until 3:20 o'clock the next afternoon to marry him. For speed and romantic features, the match holds the record for this season, at least.

Friends learned today of the unusual wedding, which took place at Jersey City, October 11, for the first time, when cards were sent out by Mrs. Ethel Rodman Rose, the bride's mother, announcing the wedding.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

OREGON BEATS WHITMAN IN NERVE-RACKING GAME. UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, Or., Nov. 4.—Though clearly outplayed in every department, the University of Oregon had the bulk at critical stages today, and outpointed the lighter Whitman College eleven, 8 to 5, in one of the most nerve-racking football battles ever seen in this part of the state.

EVARS BLAMES BANK OFFICERS

FORMER CASHIER FROM CELL, DECLARES HE IS VICTIM OF CONSPIRACY.

ADMITS THAT HE CHANGED HIS NAME

Other Directors As Much To Blame As Himself, He Declares—Loans To Creamery Not Explained.

CORVALLIS, Or., Nov. 3.—Confronted with two criminal charges, making and publishing false reports as to the bank's condition, and accepting deposits when he knew the institution was insolvent, James Evans, cashier of the suspended First States Bank of Philomath, from his cell in the county jail today declared that his arrest and impending prosecution are the result of a conspiracy on the part of the other officers of the bank and to which he ascribes the bank's failure.

He admitted that he had changed his name from that of Charles James Evans and said that it was owing to the ill temper of his former wife and her harassing methods after he had separated from her that led him to the institution. He declared that the other bank directors were as much to blame as himself for the tottering condition of the institution, but he did not explain the large loans to the Philomath Creamery Company.

M'CREIDIE PUTS TABOO ON BENNY HENDERSON

PORTLAND, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—It is not very likely that Benny Henderson, star pitcher, will be seen again in a Beaver uniform, if Manager Walt McCredie means what he says. Walt said today that he didn't think he would ever use Benny again, even if the national commission should forgive him (Henderson) for playing while under suspension. Toward the latter part of this season, when Henderson was needed most, McCredie declared that he loafed on the job and didn't pay strict attention to his work, and in several cases failed to show up at the game. He was suspended for playing ball with other teams, thereby outlawing himself. "I have fooled with Henderson a long time and took him in with me after he was forgiven the last time for running away from the rules of organized baseball, but if he can't behave I don't want him," said McCredie.

FIRST AGRICULTURAL SECRETARY DEAD AT EIGHTY-FOUR.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Stricken by apoplexy, Norman J. Coleman, first secretary of agriculture, aged eighty-four, is dead today after an attack which seized him on a train en route to Lexington Junction, Mo., from St. Louis. He had just completed an extended tour of the state. Coleman organized the department of agriculture under President Cleveland. He was at one time lieutenant governor of Missouri. At the time of his death he was editor of Coleman's Rural World. He was a noted horse breeder. The funeral will be held Monday.

OSWEGO MAN PRAISES COURSE AT AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, CORVALLIS, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Intensive agriculture as applied to all phases of farming and orchard work will be given much attention during the short course at the Oregon Agricultural College this winter.

The value of the course to the farmer in the Northwest, from the farmer's own viewpoint, is shown in an appreciative letter just received by

Dean A. B. Cordley from C.W. West, of Oswego. He says:

"I can not find words to express my appreciation of the work that the college is doing for us farmers in the Northwest. It is one of the grandest opportunities for any man, young or old, who intends to follow agricultural pursuits for a livelihood. It puts new thoughts into one's brain to think of the possibilities that are hidden away in mother earth. My advice to every man, especially to young men, is to grasp this opportunity of gaining knowledge by attending the short course that is offered so freely."
