W. L. MULVEY AND MISS SHANNON WED

REV. HILLEBRAND OFFICIATES AT IMPRESSIVE CHURCH CEREMONY.

EDIFICE IS BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED

Breakfast Served at Home of Bride's Mother After Which Young Couple Leave For San Francisco.

A very pretty wedding ceremony was performed at St. John's Catholic church Wednesday morning at 11:30 o'clock when Miss Alice Mary Shannon, daughter of Mrs. Kate Shannon, of this city, and of the late L. I. Shannon, was married to Mr. William Lloyd Mulvey, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. A. Hillebrand in the presence of about 100 relatives and friends of the young couple.
To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered by Miss Lou Draper, the bride and bridesmaid, Miss C. Barclay Pratt, entered the church, and the groomsmen and his best man, Mr. Harry Draper, the bride and her bridesmaid passing up the left aisle, while the bridegroom and his best man walked up the right aisle, and stood at the altar. After the ceremony the choir of about twenty rendered beautifully High Mass in honor of St. Louis, Miss Clementine Compton, of Portland, rendering impressively Faura's Sancta Maria. At the close of the company relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple repaired to the Shannon home on Seventh and Water streets, where a wedding breakfast was served.
The decorations of the church were in charge of the young ladies of the Catholic church, friends of Mr. and Mrs. Mulvey, and were very pretty, being in white chrysanthemums, ferns, Oregon grape and trailing vines, while the decorations of the Shannon home were simple and they showed artistic taste. They were of white chrysanthemums, and white roses and asparagus ferns.
The bride looked very pretty in her Grecian gown of white marquisette over white messaline, and wore a wreath of Japanese orange blossoms and Japanese maidenhair fern. The only jewels worn by her was a handsome lavalier of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried an arm bouquet of brides' roses, from which was suspended clusters of Japanese orange blossoms. The bridesmaid, Miss Pratt, wore a becoming gown of pink marquisette over yellow messaline, and carried an arm bouquet of bridesmaid roses.
Those attending the reception at the Shannon home were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shannon, of St. Johns; Mr. and Mrs. Moneey, of Clackamas; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Kuppenbender, Mrs. Margaret L. Mulvey, Mrs. Kate Shannon, Mrs. Callahan, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McLean and daughter, Jeanette, Lee Shannon, Miss Margaret Mulvey, Rev. A. Hillebrand, Miss C. Barclay Pratt, Miss Dolly Pratt, Dr. Clyde Mount, Lily Stupp, Harry Draper, James Cary, Miss Compton.
Mr. and Mrs. Mulvey received many handsome wedding gifts, including cutglass, china, silver and brassware and linen.
The bride and bridegroom left by automobile about 3 o'clock for Portland, and from that city went to San Francisco by the Shasta Limited. Upon their return to this city in about two weeks Mr. and Mrs. Mulvey will occupy their handsome bungalow on Fifth and Madison street, which they have purchased from Frank Andrews.
The bride is well and favorably known in this city, where she has spent most of her life. For some time she was an instructor in the Oregon City public schools, but for the past several years she has been a teacher of the Portland schools.
The bridegroom has been a resident of Clackamas county all his life, having spent his boyhood days near Meadowbrook, where the family owned a farm. After moving to this city he accepted a position in the office of the county clerk, and was elected to the office of County Clerk last November by a large majority. He is well known throughout Clackamas county, and he and his bride have a host of friends here.

MRS. TAYLOR IS DENIED ALIMONY

WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE MINER ALLOWED ONLY $500 SUIT MONEY.

$2,500 MONTHLY WAS ASKED BY HER

Plaintiff Appeals To Supreme Court For Reversal of Decision Getting Aside Annualment Verdict.

Circuit Judge Eakin Thursday denied the defendant alimony in the case for annulment of marriage of Charles D. Taylor, the millionaire miner, against Minnie N. Taylor. Mrs. Taylor asked $2,500 alimony monthly and $7,000 suit money. She was allowed $500 suit money. George C. Brownell and William Stone, attorneys for the plaintiff, have appealed the case to the Supreme Court.
The plaintiff was granted an annulment of marriage last September, but about two months later Mrs. Taylor and her attorneys appeared before Judge Eakin and declared she had not been served with summons. Mr. Taylor, however, proved that he had published the summons in a newspaper, a copy of which was mailed to the defendant. The former decree was set aside and Mrs. Taylor was given an opportunity to make her defense. The plaintiff, in his appeal asks for a reversal of this decision.
Mrs. Taylor alleged that her husband sold a mine in Goldfields for about $2,000,000, which money he still possesses. She said that he deserted her while they were traveling in Europe, leaving her with only forty-seven cents.

The will of Mrs. Emma Alina Freytag, wife of Oscar E. Freytag, Mayor of Gladstone, who owned valuable real estate in Portland, was filed for probate Monday. She bequeathed in trust to her children, Clayton and Orva, the buildings at the corner of East Ninth and Caruthers streets and at the corner of Milwaukee and Beacon streets, Portland, and her life insurance. The executors, her husband, and E. G. Canfield, are named trustees. It is directed that the property be sold before the oldest child becomes thirty years of age and the proceeds be divided equally between the children. The trustees also are directed to give the children $1,000 each when they marry.
The testatrix directed that care be taken of David, an Indian, who worked for Peter M. Rinearson, father of Mrs. Freytag, many years, and that he be given a Christian burial. The will was signed September 29, 1911.

TOWN STIRRED BY MAN SHOOTING COW

Just as the kicking of a cow caused the biggest conflagration Chicago has ever known, the shooting of a cow caused more consternation in the vicinity of Beutleville a few days ago than was ever known before in that ordinarily quiet town. V. V. Southall and Joseph Roberts are neighbors, and, according to a complaint made in Justice of the Peace Samson's court, Southall, who is an elderly man, shot Robert's cow. Other neighbors, however, assure to Southall's rescue by paying the court costs and Roberts being assured by a veterinarian that his cow would recover decided he did not care to prosecute Southall, and, as a result, the case was dismissed.

MOTHER GOES TO DAUGHTER'S FUNERAL

Mrs. Catherine Britton, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Trembath, left Tuesday evening for Seattle to attend the funeral of Mrs. Britton's daughter, Mrs. S. Howard Ewing, who was a sister of Mrs. Trembath. Mrs. Ewing died at Seattle, Wednesday, after an illness of only eighteen hours of absence of the brain and complications. She was on her way to this city from Juneau, Alaska, to spend Christmas with her mother, when she was stricken.
The remains will be taken to San Francisco to Mr. Ewing's former home, and will be interred in the family lot in that city. They will be accompanied to San Francisco by Mr. Ewing, who arrived in Seattle Monday, having been summoned by telegraph, and also Mrs. Britton, Mrs. Trembath and Martin Sumner, the latter of whom is a brother of the deceased.
Mrs. Ewing was formerly Miss Dora Sumner of this city, having been married to Howard Ewing about eight years ago. Mr. Ewing was formerly passenger agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company with headquarters at San Francisco, but recently was promoted to the position of agent of the company at Juneau. He is one of the best known shipping men along the Pacific Coast, and has been in its service for the past sixteen years.

57 OREGON CITY HOMES BUILT PAST YEAR

REPORT OF SCHOOL CENSUS ENUMERATOR SHOWS REMARKABLE GROWTH—100 RESIDENCES ARE REMODELED.
That Oregon City had the most remarkable growth the past year in its history is shown by a report made by Miss Anita McCarver, who has completed taking the city school census. Miss McCarver reports that fifty-seven residences have been erected in the city since the census was taken one year ago and 100 homes have been remodeled since then. About twenty-five homes have heretofore been the average number erected annually.
The increase in the attendance at the Oregon City High School this season was 100 per cent and in the grades the attendance has been at least 20 per cent greater than in 1911. Several additional teachers have been employed, and it is believed more will be needed next year.

J. C. COOK BUILDING HANDSOME BUNGALOW

What will be one of the most attractive homes in this city is that of J. C. Cook on Tenth and Madison streets, which is being built by Mr. Cook and his brother, T. F. Cook. The house is on a lot overlooking the northern part of the city. The plans were drawn by T. F. Cook. There are seven rooms, pantry and bath on the first floor while on the second floor are four large sleeping apartments.
The reception hall will be the only one of its kind in this city, having the stiplle ceiling with stalactites and beautiful electroliters. The tinting of the walls is of red, while the living room, which adjoins, is tinted in tan, beam ceiling in mission coloring, and the dining room, which opens from the reception hall and living room by archways is of the same coloring as the reception hall. At the rear of the dining room is the kitchen tinted in pea green, tiled walls, the pantry adjoining being tinted in a darker shade of green. A hall leading from the living room through the lower floor to the rear of the house is about twenty feet in length, and has tiled walls tinted in the same color as the living room and the woodwork being of mission. To the right of the two sleeping apartments open, one of which will be used as a den. The colorings of these rooms are attractive, one being pale blue, while the other is of a light shade of green.

The rooms are large and airy, the ceiling hall being 8x9 feet, living room 15x16 feet, dining room 13x15 feet, den 11x11 feet, sleeping rooms 15x11 feet, while the rooms on the second floor are of various dimensions, each one having dormers with swinging windows. On the south side of the house will be a screened porch, and adjoining this running the length of the building will be an open terrace, with cement flooring and cement pillars. Close to the front of the house at the main entrance is the porch with an artistic cover with four drop-corners. The grounds are to be beautified as soon as the house is completed, which will be about January 1.
J. C. Cook came to this city about two years ago from Wisconsin. He is a maker and repairer of screen plates used by the paper mills of this city. His brother, who drew the plans for the house, came to this city from San Francisco. He formerly lived in Wisconsin.
W. H. Harris, of Forest Grove, was in this city Tuesday on business.

Z. T. WOOD IS DEAD AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Z. T. Wood, one of the well known residents of Oregon City, who had been ill for two years, of heart disease, died at his home at Twelfth and Water streets, Monday afternoon. Mr. Wood was born in Indiana, December 19, 1848, and would have been sixty-three years of age next Saturday. He came to Oregon about thirty years ago, and settled in Portland, where he worked as a mechanic. He came to Oregon City when the suspension bridge was being built and after its completion returned to Portland, where he lived until about fifteen years ago, when he returned to Oregon City. He married Miss Clementina Marrs, of this city, and she with their nineteen-year-old son survive.
Mr. Wood was a member of Multnomah Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M. and the Knights and Ladies of Security. Mr. Wood was employed by the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company for several years.

Z. T. WOOD IS DEAD AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Hoehn Britton, received information Friday morning of the death of her daughter Mrs. Howard Ewing, formerly Miss Dora Sumner, of this city. Mrs. Ewing recently arrived in Seattle from Alaska, and was in her way to Oregon City where she was to visit relatives, when she was stricken. Mrs. Thomas Trembath and Martin Sumner of this city, sister and brother of the deceased, left Friday evening for Seattle, Mrs. Britton, being unable to go on account of illness. The body will be taken to California for burial.
Mrs. Ewing was born in Indiana, November 2, 1878, and lived in this city for some time, having come here with her mother. She was married to Howard Ewing about eight years ago. Mrs. Ewing is survived by her husband, who is in Alaska, her mother, sisters Mrs. Thomas Trembath and Miss Edna Sumner, of Portland, and one brother, Martin Sumner, of Oregon City.
