Oregon City, Oregon

LOCAL BRIEFS

Born, Sunday morning, January 7, to the wife of J. E. Stagle, of Sunny-side, Clackamas county, an eight-pound daughter.

Information was received in this city by Mr. and Mrs. George Young from their daughter, Mrs. Herman Rowland, formerly of this city, but now of Couer d'Alene City, Idaho, that the snow there was eighteen inches deep, and was the coldest winter they have experienced for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bradley, of Klamath Falls, are in this city for a few days and also at Portland. At the latter place Mr. Bradley is purchasing a large stock for his harness shop. While in this city they are guests of the former's brother, W. W. Bradley and family. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley formerly resided in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McAlpin and son, formerly of this city, but who have been making their home for the past two years at Estacada, are in this city, and will visit for several days with Mrs. McAlpin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, of Medford, before leaving for Tennessee, where they will make their home for about a year. Mr. McAlpin has been holding a position as draftsman at Estacada, and has accepted a position similar to that in Tennessee, where a large concrete dam is being constructed.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING.

Teachers, Parents and Children to Hear Program at Boring, Jan. 13.

An educational meeting will be held in Boring on Saturday, January 13, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Teachers, parents, children, all who are interested, are urged to attend, especially those from districts under the supervision of County Superintendent T. J. Gary, Emily C. Shaw and C. F. Anderson.

Discussions will deal with the immediate interests of the public school and will be open to all. It is the aim of the meeting to help build up true education by bringing together those who deal most directly with the young.

Some entertaining features will be presented and at noon all will lunch together. Each is requested to bring his own lunch. Among topics for consideration will be "Discipline," "Rural Supervision," "Signs of Progress," "Rights of Children," "Sanitary Conditions," "Materials for Teaching," "The High School."

APPLE GROWERS 'PLAN BIG COMBINE'

A combination of the best apple growing sections in the world is likely as a result of the preliminary meeting held at Hood River. The meeting was attended by representatives of the Hood River Apple Growers' union and representatives of the Yamhill, Rogue River and Wenatchee organizations. The representatives included P. S. Davidson of the Davidson Fruit Company; C. H. Sprout, president of the Hood River Apple Growers' union; A. I. Mason, O. L. Walter and H. E. Ferguson, prominent fruit growers, as a committee to investigate the Northwestern Fruit exchange.

Plans are being made to combine the four fruit growers' organizations with the Northwestern Fruit exchange for marketing the crop of the various districts.

If the plans carry it will mean that the leading fruit growing districts of the world will combine to market their crops instead of trying to compete with one another at present. The amalgamation of the selling interests is expected to do away with the so-called "Walla Walla plan," which has for its object the combination of the leading fruit organizations of the Pacific Northwest. This plan is said to be too heavy to carry forward.

INSECT BITE COSTS LEG.

A Boston man lost his leg from the bite of an insect two years before. To avert such calamities from stings and bites of insects use Bucklen's Arnica Salve promptly to kill the poison and pain. Heals burns, boils, ulcers, pits, eczema, cuts, bruises. Only 25 cents at all druggists.

COLD WEATHER STARTS BIG CABBAGE DEMAND

For the first time during the present season a demand has appeared for cabbage. With the colder weather and a lack of offerings the trade has begun to inquire for cabbage and sales are being made at a sharp advance.

There seems to be no doubt that most of the cabbage remaining in this section was ruined by the late freeze. That some of this stock will be offered to the trade temporarily is now likely, but everyone expects a severe shortage of good stock.

The freeze has caused local handlers to order supplies of California cabbage to fill the wants of their trade, but this is not expected to give satisfaction, as the offerings from that state seldom do.

For months cabbage supplies have gone abegging. In instances sales have been made at less than cost to create the stock; therefore, the market as a whole has been entirely unsatisfactory.

ARIZONA'S DEMAND FOR SPUDS INCREASES

According to McKinley Mitchell, who controls the Arizona potato trade from Oregon, shipments from this state during December were the greatest known by far.

No additional business is coming from the southwest, but back orders are still being filled and some recent purchases have been made in the country at 90c and 91 per cental, f. o. b. country shipping points.

Demand for table stock outside of the Arizona call is at a standstill. Southern California continues to take on limited offerings of American Wonders around $1.50 per cental f. o. b. Willamette Valley points, but this seems to be the extent of the business for that account.

The few shipments of fancy table stock that have been sent from here to San Francisco have not netted shipper any profits and for that reason little stock is being sent in that direction. On the basis of the prices ruling in the Bay City, the prices here are higher for fancy goods than they are in the south.

Locally the potato trade is showing an improvement owing to the decrease in offerings due to the unfavorable weather. While prices are firmer, no change is noted.

OUTSIDE DEMAND FOR POTATOES IS NIL

Beyond supplying the local trade there is no business passing in the potato market. The weather for the time makes the movement of stock from pits and cellars hazardous but even if conditions in this regard were more favorable the chances are that trade would be little if at all more active, for there is said to be practically no demand in the South now for Oregon potatoes.

The few shipments that were sent to California and Arizona late in the year just past appear to have satisfied demand there for the present. Some revival of trade with the South is expected later, but when and to what extent it will develop remains to be seen. Just now the outside call for Oregon potatoes according to local dealers, amounts to little.

In the fall, as a result of short crops in many of the Eastern and Middle Western States, high prices for the Oregon crop were predicted. Since then the situation seems to have changed somewhat. The yield in this state now is believed to be a good deal above the estimates made before the crop was gathered and the California output also was an unusually large one. To date California has been able to supply the bulk of the trade in the Southwest, and leave also a liberal surplus for home consumption. As a result the Southern demand for Oregon for the season to date has not come up to expectations.

GROWERS HOLD SPUDS FOR HIGHER PRICES

While weather conditions have been such that a fractional advance has recently been forced in the jobbing price of potatoes the market in general is showing practically no improvement.

While plenty of business is available for the Oregon product, still the prices asked are out of line with what buyers are willing to offer. The result is that Oregon potatoes are scarcely showing any movement while competitive markets have been selling potatoes right along.

With its greatest crop available for market, Idaho is now supplying the potato demand that was recently coming to Willamette Valley producers. This change of buying base is due to the willingness of Gem state growers to sell the product at whatever price buyers can be induced to offer. Oregon growers continue to hold and even though a better price was available, it is not likely that any material increase in the marketing would be shown here.

As a rule those who retain best quality potatoes in this section are holding out for 2c a pound flat. According to dealers, there is always the possibility that an extreme value will be received, but the probabilities seem to be that the market will ease off after general marketing starts. Only severe damage to the potatoes being held in store is considered as a factor toward a higher range than at present.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows:

OREGON TO DEBATE UTAH.
 Judiciary Recall is Subject at Eugene, February 23.
UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Jan. 10.
 The annual debate with the University of Utah will take place at Eugene on February 23. The question to be debated is the "Judiciary Recall" with P. J. Crockett, of Pendleton, and E. J. Jones, of Newberg, of Oregon, on the affirmative side. As debating so far has been a financial loss at Oregon and as this is leap year the coeds have proposed that the debate take place early in the evening with a leap year dance afterwards. It is likely that only those attending the debate will be allowed admission to the dance. It is also strongly urged that the young men attending the debate shall bring young ladies with them and with this end in view the two will be admitted at a charge slightly above the admission for a single person.
