In the death of Thomas Shute at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, son-in-law and daughter, in Maple Lane, there was the passing of more than an ordinary man. He was born in New Hampshire nearly 100 years ago, and came West through the Ohio and Mississippi valleys. California and from California he came to Oregon and settled in Clackamas county.

He was a citizen of high standing wherever he lived and was always active in promoting the best interests of society. He served his native state in the Legislature and in the judiciary, and in all the positions he was called upon to fill he justified the confidence and expectations of the people. Frank T. Shute, of Highland, this county, is his son.

E. D. KELLY DIES SITTING IN CHAIR

OREGON CITY PIONEER SUCCESSORS AFTER VISIT TO SON'S HOME.

HEALTH HAD BEEN UNUSUALLY GOOD

Former Postmaster, Councilman and County Treasurer, Crossed Plains With Family Twice.

Everington DeArmond Kelly, former postmaster and member of the City Council of Oregon City, died suddenly Friday evening at the home of his son-in-law, Charles E. Burns. Mr. Kelly had been in apparently good health and took dinner yesterday at the home of his son, Charles W. Kelly. Upon returning to the home of his son-in-law he said he felt sleepy. He sat in an arm chair for more than an hour and finally got up and got a drink of water. He returned to the chair and sometime later his daughter, Mrs. Burns, was attracted by his breathing. She sent for her brother, Charles W. Kelly, but before he and a physician arrived, Mr. Kelly was dead. He died peacefully and without suffering.

Mr. Kelly is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Burns and two sons, John W. and Charles W. Kelly. The arrangements for the funeral will be made today.

The deceased was born in Lodi, Seneca county, N. Y., May 20, 1833, and at the age of eleven years accompanied his family to Michigan, settling on a farm near Penton. In February, 1852, he and Miss Lucy Waterous of Avon, Livingston county, N. Y., were married at Grand Blanc, Mich. In the spring of 1853 they crossed the plains in an ox team, via Council Bluffs, arriving in Oregon City in September, 1853. In the fall of 1856 he and his family returned East via Panama, and from New York went to Michigan. His second trip across the plains was in 1859 with horse teams, during which time the Indians proved troublesome. Owing to the uprising of the Indians on the old Oregon trail he took the California trail and went from San Francisco to Portland by boat. He engaged in the hotel business in this city at which he remained until 1864. During that time he opened a general mercantile business on Main street, which he conducted until a fire caused a total loss and left him $2,000 in debt.

When he was appointed postmaster in 1885 Mr. Kelly sold his store, which had been rebuilt, and when a change of administration caused him to resign he was soon after elected county treasurer, which office he held for two years. He later represented the First Ward in the City Council for three terms. Mr. Kelly was a staunch Democrat and a devout Roman Catholic. His wife died March 11, 1908, and since then he has lived with his daughter, Mrs. Burns. Mr. Kelly was fond of children and one of his greatest pleasures during the last days of his life was to take little friends of his to the moving picture shows. He always took an active interest in civic affairs and while a member of the City Council did much to help build up the city.

Arrangements also have been made for entertaining the Elks who visit Oregon City during the convention to be held in Portland. The Western Stock Journal was endorsed by the committee.

Adams, who have been making their home at St. Johns for the past four years, were in this city Tuesday on their way to Maple Lane, where they have purchased a farm, consisting of 43 1/4 acres. Mr. and Mrs. Adams had with them a dove, which is of a pinkish white, with a darker shade of pink forming a collar around its neck. The bird has been in the possession of Mr. and Mrs. Adams for the past seventeen years, having made its appearance at their home at Austin, Minn. The bird had probably been sent with a message for a band was attached to its leg, but the message was missing. The bird had been wounded in some manner before coming to the Adams home. I feel confident that the bill will pass the Senate." The telegram was in response to a night letter sent by Mr. McBain, asking the status of the bill.

JURY RESTS AFTER PROBING HILL CASE

After considering the Hill murder case for nearly two weeks, and after hearing the testimony of more than forty witnesses, the Clackamas county grand jury rested from its labors and while its attitude relative to returning an indictment against Nathan B. Harvey, of Milwaukie, is not known, it is assumed that no indictment will be returned. District Attorney Toogre will not be here until next Saturday at the earliest and the grand jury will not reconvene during his absence from the city. Judge Campbell is holding court in Hillsboro. There is every reason to believe that if the evidence against Harvey as presented to the grand jury, had appeared, a verdict as to that body as it does to the Clackamas officers, that an indictment would have been returned forthwith.

Macksburg people are thoroughly aroused over the bad condition of the roads leading from that place to Oregon City and to their other trading points, and have organized a "Good Roads Club" to promote and foster sentiment in favor of road construction, and to secure immediate improvements. They have sent a delegation to the County Court to present their claim. The club's representatives were instructed to demand the full amount of the 8 mills allowed for roads as against the allowance of 4 mills, according to a rule of the County Court. The apportionment made calls for 4 mills for roads and 4 mills for bridges. Macksburg people want the whole amount in their district for their roads, but the County Court turned down their demand. The delegation to Oregon City was composed of the following representative citizens: R. A. Wright, Charles Keeling, George Scramlin, D. Harms and Franz Kraxberger.

ESTACADA COUNCIL AND MAYOR AT WAR

In emulation of its larger sister city, Oregon City, the city fathers of Estacada have had a falling out with the Mayor, J. W. Reed. It is not exactly known just what is the cause of the falling out, but the citizens appear to think the Mayor is in the right. The council has become so bellicose as to intimate that it might start recall petitions against the Mayor. It appears that the council forgot to levy the five mill tax allowed by law so that the citizens will have to forego the time honored pleasure of paying $1,500 into the city treasury for the purpose of constructing sewers, streets, etc. Over this, there is a weeping, and wailing and gnashing of teeth for the citizens do love to pay taxes.

The members of the anti-Reed council who had a recall attempted against them three years ago, are going about the town with a smile upon their countenances these days. And the town prospers. Three houses are being built in the new addition north of the old brick plant. Four hundred dollars was raised to assist in building a wagon-road across Eagle Creek to the German Burn, or George country, in a few minutes.

BOURNE SENDS COPY OF M'INDOE'S REPORT

M. D. Latourette secretary of the Commercial Club, received from Senator Bourne Monday a copy of the report of Major J. F. McIndoe, Corps of Engineers, with maps, on the preliminary examination and survey of the Willamette River between Portland and Oregon City. The report has been forwarded by H. L. Stimson, Secretary of War, to the lower branch of Congress and is now before the Rivers and Harbors Committee. The plan provides for a channel twelve feet deep at low water to Oswego eight miles above Portland, and a minimum depth of three and one-half feet from that point to Oregon City. The Oregon City Commercial Club, however, virtually has been assured of a six foot depth to Portland, and a promise of a twelve foot depth eventually.

Ford. WHAT IS A GUARANTEE? A Guarantee is a promise to make good. A Promise is worth exactly as much as the promiser. A Promiser who hasn't already made good can't promise to make good. This is a plain proposition. Recall it to mind the next time you read the catch-phrase: "Our car is guaranteed for one year," or, "Our car is guaranteed for a lifetime." Remember—the lifetime of that car stops just at the point where the guarantee begins. There is one guarantee that always holds good. It is THE GUARANTEE OF ACCOMPLISHMENT. That is the guarantee Henry Ford puts on his cars. That is why more than a hundred thousand Ford cars are in use today. That is why your car will be a Ford, if you believe in efficiency, economy, endurance and service.
