Bridges, of Portland, are moving into the property they recently purchased from Mrs. Lansing Stout, known as the Walden home on Ninth and Center streets. Mr. Bigger's property was sold through the C. T. Toole Real Estate Company but Mr. Bigger reserved two lots upon which he will build two handsome bungalows to cost about $1500, the contracts for building these being awarded to John Lowry. Mr. Bigger before coming to Oregon City from Woodburn owned three pieces of land, which were bequeathed and brought a good price. The land he sold at Greenpoint brought him $1500 cash, he having paid $2500, but made many improvements. Mr. Bridges expects to make his summer home here. The building of the bungalows will commence immediately.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO OBSERVE ARBOR DAY

The public school children of this city and county will observe Arbor Day, which is the second Friday in April. The state superintendent of public instruction will prescribe a course of exercises. An extract from the school law regarding the observance of Arbor Day follows:
 "In order that the children of our public schools shall assist in the work of adorning the school grounds with trees and to stimulate the minds of children toward the benefits of the preservation and perpetuation of our forests and the growing of timber, it shall be the duty of the authorities of every public school district in the state to assemble the pupils in their charge on the above day in the school building, or elsewhere, as they may deem proper, and to provide for and conduct, under the general supervision of city superintendents, county superintendents, teachers and directors, or other school authorities having the general charge and oversight of the public schools in each city or district, to have and hold such exercises as shall tend to encourage the planting, protection, and preservation of trees and shrubs, and an acquaintance with the best methods to be adopted to accomplish such results."

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO HAVE TRACK MEET

Arrangements are being made for the big interscholastic track meet to be held at the fair grounds at Canby during the latter part of April. F. G. Buchanan, president, and A. O. Freel, secretary of the Clackamas County School League, expect to complete the arrangements next week. The contests will consist of running, jumping, pole vaulting, putting the shot, etc. The entries will be announced five days before the meet, and no additional ones will be allowed. Meets were held for several years prior to last year, and the pupils are delighted that the league has decided to have them in the future.

VIOLA TEACHER IS GIVEN DISCHARGE

Thomas Lovelace, teacher of the Viola school, who was attacked by F. E. Cokerline, one of the directors a few days ago, was notified Thursday that he had been dismissed. The directors held a meeting at the school house, and decided that another teacher should be engaged. Lovelace was given five days' notice as provided by law. Although he has been dismissed the teacher was informed that he could make a defense at a meeting which will be held next Tuesday evening. Lovelace, who was severely punished by Cokerline, declares that the attack was unprovoked. Witnesses, however, say the director was provoked into making the assault.

The city council Wednesday night by unanimous vote decided upon a location for the Carnegie Library in Seventh Street Park. The building will face Seventh street, and must not be more than 30 feet or less than 20 feet from curb. A site in McLoughlin Park was favored originally, but owing to objection by the Woman's Club, which had beautified the park, and had the McLoughlin homestead moved there, Seventh Street Park was decided upon.
 B. T. McBain, chairman of the Library committee, which obtained the $12,500 donation from Andrew Carnegie, entered the council chamber soon after the vote was taken, and was informed of the result. He will communicate the information to Mr. Carnegie at once, and the building probably will be erected this summer.
 A petition of J. A. Butler, recently convicted of selling liquor to minors, that he be allowed to transfer his license to Carl Hodas was refused. The council held that the infraction of the law cancelled automatically the license, and therefore it could not be transferred. The vote was unanimous, all members being present.
 This action reduces the number of saloons in the city to fourteen, and cuts off $1,000 of the annual revenue of the city. Attention was called to the fact that a saloon owner, recently convicted of the same charge, and given a jail sentence, was allowed to transfer his license. Mr. Hodas having paid $250 to the city treasury a motion was passed that the money be refunded.
 Upon petition of the residents of Falls View that another light be installed in that section, the council decided to make an investigation.
 City Engineer Montgomery reported that the proposed sewer on Fourteenth street would cost $27,000 if built of concrete. Mayor Dimick said the property assessment for the work would be about $50 a lot. The report was referred to the committee on streets to report at the next meeting. The sewer will drain a large part of the city.
 E. L. Shaw, as chief of police, reported that 11 dogs had been placed in the pound during the last quarter. Five were sold and six were killed. Eight cows were placed in the pound, being redeemed and one sold. Four horses were redeemed. Shaw reported that 209 tramps had been cared for during the night in March, and the amount of money collected as fines was $40.

Justice of the Peace Samson Tuesday afternoon held Tony Norwich, who eloped from this city with Mrs. Annie Patch in $500 bonds to answer to the grand jury and the woman in $200 bonds. She was allowed to go on her own recognizance so she could care for her three children properly. She said that she frequently had to steal coal in order to keep the house warm. Patch who traced the erring pair to this city denied the charges made by his wife. He intimated that he would be willing to take her back to Illinois, but she declared she did not care whether she returned home, but insisted upon being allowed to keep the children. Norwich was unable to furnish bail, and will have to stay in jail until the grand jury passes on the case. Norwich and Mrs. Patch were arrested by Police-men Frost and Green.

BOYLES ESTATE FILED

The estate of Mrs. Cornelia J. Boyles valued at $1,000, was filed for probate Wednesday. County Judge Beattie named P. M. Boyles administrator.

$10,000 TO BE ASKED FOR ARMORY FUND

The County Court of Clackamas County will be asked next Friday to make an appropriation of $10,000 to cover a portion of the cost of a new armory for Oregon City for the use of the Oregon National Guard, and a joint committee from the Commercial Club and the National Guard Company will approach the Court at 9 o'clock Friday morning and urge the appropriation.
 For many years the local company has struggled along under great odds, with wholly inadequate drill hall facilities while the smaller towns of Woodburn and cities of Southern and Eastern Oregon and of the Willamette Valley have taken advantage of the standing offer made by the State to duplicate any amount that might be raised within any municipality, providing the total sum would be sufficient to erect an armory building.
 The joint committee has tact assurances from the City Council of a site for a building and with this assurance the committee is making its campaign for funds.
 While the action of the County Court cannot be correctly forecasted, it is expected that the activity of the various commercial organizations of the city, coupled with the recognized need for a new armory, will have its weight when the matter is presented.

DANIEL WILLIAMS SEES BATTLE'S RUINS

Daniel Williams, who is well known in this city, where he has property interests, and who has been spending the winter in California, with his son-in-law and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ireland, returned to Oregon City Friday morning. Mrs. Ireland went to California for the benefit of her health and will remain there for some time, but Mr. Ireland accompanied Mr. Williams to this city and will remain in Portland for the present. Mr. Williams will stay here during the summer. They visited San Diego, Los Angeles, Long Beach, and many of the other cities of California and went to New Mexico by automobile. They saw ruins near the border caused by a recent battle. Mr. Williams is glad to be back in Oregon, and said that one day in New Mexico was enough for him. Many of the Americans who have been making their homes there are leaving.
