THE ROAD TO MOLALLA

Latest reports from the Clackamas Southern Railway offices show a large portion of the new stock subscribed, and that at a very early date work will be commenced again in earnest, the road to be finished and operating before winter as far as Molalla.

Knockers are continually working against the company—missionaries of evil have been operating along the line of the survey and some of them are our own fellow citizens, a fact hardly conceivable, but still a fact.

With such men as the road has at its head, business and professional men all above reproach, the Enterprise feels it unnecessary to print and deny the falsehoods which are being circulated.

ELEVATOR FOR BLUFF

The rising generation continues to take up subjects either unthought of or considered impossible by our forefathers. Like many other items of interest to the general public, an elevator is a necessity, it is a possibility and when installed, we will all ask each other and ourselves, "why didn't we do that long ago?"

As in all matters, however, difficulties of one nature or another are encountered and an important one now seems possible to retard immediate work. When our fathers laid out the town, Seventh street down town was not platted immediately opposite Seventh street on the Hill.

There is no doubt about property values increasing with the elevator service and the property immediately adjoining would be given a boost such as no other civic improvement could give.

Mandate is Received

County Clerk Mulvey has received the mandate of the State Supreme Court affirming the judgment of the Circuit Court in the suit of Wilton L. Freeman vs. J. T. Alexander and Frank L. Berry.

COUNTY CLERK MULVEY MAKES FINE RECORD

W. L. MULVEY

W. L. Mulvey, county clerk, who is a candidate for re-election, has made one of the most faithful and efficient officers in the history of the county. He will have served two years when his term expires, having been in office since July 1, 1910, and not a complaint regarding his conduct of the affairs of the county has been made.

Poultry Notes

This is the time of the year when country women are thinking of gardens and chickens and it is hard to tell which holds their attention more; with myself it is the chickens, as this year we have netted considerable more than $300 from our small flock, having 173 hens at the beginning of the year, but many of these were sold off during the summer and fall.

We sold many dozens of high priced eggs through the winter. I wonder how many people understand the best way to feed milk to chickens. As we have quite a quantity of milk we buy cheese tablets at the drug store and curd the sweet milk, pouring off the whey. The hens are very fond of this curd. Sometimes I mix it with shorts. Kale also is valuable as green feed for the chickens.

Two much care cannot be taken at this season of the year to keep the hens and chicks free from lice and mites, and right here I want to sound a warning against the use of antiseptic (so-called) nest eggs, reputed to keep chickens free from mites and lice. Hearing that an acquaintance had used them and recommended them highly we bought a lot of them. The directions say to use them in the nests of the laying hens, under your hatching hens (and the man who sold them to us said the same) also to put them under the hens two nights a week, when brooding the little chicks.

When we got the eggs I had some hens about to hatch so put one of the eggs under each hen as well as the other setting hens. The results were simply disastrous. A lot of the chicks were killed while still under the hens and some of those that survived have since died—five today. I expect to find more dead in the morning. As for the eggs killing lice I know they did not kill some on a couple of brood hens that sat on those eggs in their coop. We have no further use for "lice killing nest eggs."

A POULTRY WOMAN.

My neighbor who got some of the "Antiseptic Nest Eggs" the same day I did, tells me they drove her setting hens off the nest, and even killed a fine blooded setting hen for her. She too has been losing her little chicks that were hatched with an egg in their coop. We have no further use for "lice killing nest eggs."

MILTON A. MILLER OUT OF RACE FOR SENATOR
ALBANY, Or., April 5.—Milton A. Miller, of Lebanon, State Senator from Linn County, today withdrew from the race for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator from Oregon. In announcing his withdrawal, Senator Miller said he did so in the interest of the party.

LAFOLLETTE SAYS HE'LL WIN OREGON

WISCONSIN SENATOR MAKES REMARKABLE SPEAKING RECORD IN DAY

15,000 HEAR HIM IN NEBRASKA

Progressive Candidate Will Leave For Tour Of Pacific States Next Wednesday

LINCOLN, Neb., April 6.—Traveling 200 miles and making twenty-two speeches to 15,000 persons is the remarkable record which Senator Robert M. La Follette is credited to today after his twenty-four hours of campaigning in Nebraska.

He said he would carry Oregon in one of his speeches. Beginning at Plattsmouth early yesterday La Follette journeyed through the farming sections between that city and Lincoln, being heartily greeted at each stop. He closed the day with a meeting at the Auditorium here.

The section around Omaha was the Senator's field today and Omaha tonight. Monday and Tuesday will be spent in Western Nebraska and the La Follette party will depart for the Pacific coast Wednesday evening. During all his speeches on his first day's trip, Senator La Follette laid particular stress on his demand for tariff reduction, direct legislation, the recall, the initiative and referendum and trust control.

In the course of his speech here La Follette declared that "Roosevelt does a great good as a teacher of morality, political and civil, but he is not a constructive statesman."

La Follette predicted that he will carry Nebraska, Utah, Oregon and California.

LAFOLLETTE STARTS FOR OREGON TODAY

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., April 10.—Senator Robert M. La Follette will start early tomorrow for Oregon to continue his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

At North Platte last evening, after a day's automobile trip through the richest sections of Nebraska, the Wisconsin candidate finished his campaign for the support of the Nebraska delegation, advocating the progressive principles of the initiative and referendum and recall, scoring Colonel Roosevelt for his alleged failure to crack the trusts with his big stick, and declaring that Roosevelt's attempt to regain the presidency is virtually an attempt at a fourth term, President Taft having been Roosevelt's choice to carry on his work.

La Follette spoke at Lexington, Kearney, Kensington, Kenesaw and Overton. He covered 160 miles by automobile and dozens of other cars from the towns he visited accompanied him. At Kearney the women of the town tendered a reception to Mrs. La Follette, who accompanied her husband.

La Follette at North Platte reiterated his determination to be a candidate in 1912 if he is defeated for the nomination at the coming Chicago convention and to continue as a candidate until he is assured that he people have been given an opportunity to express their true wishes as to how the government shall be conducted.

OREGON CITY BOY IN COLLEGE PLAY

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, CORVALLIS, April 6.—Representatives of nine cities took part in the junior play of the Oregon Agricultural college tonight, and the opera house was sold out for the event, which was the precursor of the Junior "Prom," the biggest dance of the season.

The principal parts in the play, "The Lady From Brazil," were taken by Helen Allworth, Forest Grove; Della Purves, Seattle, Wash.; Walter Dutton, Lakeview; G. G. Godfrey, Oregon City; June Gray, Eugene; O. G. Reeves, Pendleton; E. Gillett and J. D. Carosie, Albany; Dorothy Stetson, Salem; and Louis Sawyer, Corvallis.

HAWLEY WORKING FOR PARCELS POST BILL

Friends of Congressman Hawley call attention to the following letter received by Dr. J. W. Thomas, of Molalla, as a refutation of a report that Mr. Hawley is not actively supporting the plan for a parcels post: "I thank you for your letter of the 22nd instant, favoring the parcels post. I am giving the various bills now pending before Congress my careful consideration, and will support the one that appears to be for the best interests of our people. I have previously voted in favor of the parcels post."

MISSISSIPPI FLOOD CRISIS IS NEAR

HOMES AND VILLAGES DESERTED AND DAMAGE MORE THAN $10,000,000

MANY THRILLING RESCUES MADE

1,000 Persons Marooned in Arkansas Saved By Citizens Committee—Refugees Found in Church

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—The crisis in the Mississippi valley flood is imminent. Chief anxiety centers in the situation south of Memphis. If the dykes of Arkansas, Mississippi and Northern Louisiana hold for another 26 hours then the valleys of the delta and the Yazoo south of Memphis will be spared.

State and Government officials say the dykes on the eastern bank of the Mississippi will withstand the tremendous pressure that will be exerted by the flood's crest.

Nevertheless they are apprehensive, and fear of breaks along the western dykes is shown by the abandonment of homes and villages in the lowlands from Helena south.

Stirring stories of the rescue of the refugees in Upper Arkansas have reached Memphis. One thousand or more persons marooned in Wynoke, Ark., were brought to Memphis by this afternoon, rescued through the initiative of a Memphis citizens' committee which made the trip to Wynoke to investigate stories of suffering. Reports were verified amply.

In a church were found scores of refugees. As the water rose, the refugees built scaffolding with poles and thus kept their heads above the surface. On high ground and in the attics of houses near Wynoke hundreds were found. All were taken to Memphis.

GOVERNOR WEST TO GIVE CONVICTS WORK

SALEM, Or., April 10.—Governor West is considerably aroused over attacks on his policy of using the income from the state prison brickyard to make improvements at the penitentiary not specifically authorized by law, and he now says he is going to open a machine shop, a tinshop, a blacksmith shop and a furniture factory at the penitentiary for the employment of convicts, or get into jail in the attempt.

There is now need of brick for the building of the supreme court and library building and other state institutions. If the convicts make the brick, the cost to the state will be about $3.50 per thousand, while if the state buys them in the open market the cost will be three times as much. The other members of the state board, State Treasurer Kay and Secretary of State O'Leary, are willing to use the funds to operate the brickyard, but it is understood they oppose using the funds for any other purposes.

"Either we will use the funds for all the prison enterprise or we won't use them for any," said Governor West today. "I can't see that there would be any longer jail sentences for the violating the law so as to run the prison shop and factories to permit convicts to be profitably employed than there would be for buying material to run the brick yard when the statutes makes no provision for doing so."

As Governor West has absolute control of the state penitentiary, he is intimated that if the other members of the state board would not agree with him he would relieve them of all responsibility in the matter by simply not turning the funds derived as income from the brickyard over to the state treasurer at all, thus making it unnecessary to pay it out on warrants issued by the secretary of state.

For tetter, ringworm, eczema, running sores and all skin diseases Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve is guaranteed to give satisfaction if you get your money back. 25c everywhere. For sale by Harding's Drug Store.

F. M. Gill

Republican candidate for nomination for representative, only candidate from east end of the County.

GENTLEMEN:—It will not be possible for me to meet each voter in the county. I am a farmer and have my spring work to do. Hence I have taken a page in the State Voter's Pamphlet to place before you my record of service in the last House of Representatives. PLEASE READ IT. It will probably be the last page of the pamphlet. Let me remind you that I voted against more than $1,000,000 one million dollars of appropriations, that I voted against useless commissions; and against every effort to weaken the initiative and referendum. I voted for Dimick's 8-hour bill and for the rights of the Clackamas County's fishermen. I was the recognized leader of the farmers' fight against cross state roads and Portland road bills. The farmers won. I believe their victory was at least partly due to my efforts in organizing the House against those bills. I am one of the authors of the grange road bill. If people living along the Pacific Highway or Capital City Highway desire to use their tax money on these roads, well and good. It is their own business. But people in the east end of this county should not be taxed for such purposes.

A large majority of the people desiring the repeal of the school superintendency law, I will work for the repeal. I will vote against needless appropriations, useless commissions, and offices and all attempts to weaken the initiative and referendum and recall.

TAFT IS INDORSED BY EMPIRE STATE

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 10.—The Republican State Convention adopted today a platform urging New York's delegation to the Chicago National Convention to favor the re-nomination of President Taft, elected four delegates-at-large and alternates to that convention, and adjourned sine die.

The delegates chosen are United States Senator Elihu Root, State Chairman William Barnes, J. William Berri, of Brooklyn and Edwin A. Merritt, Jr., Speaker of the Assembly.

Temporary chairman Butler was made permanent chairman when the convention was called to order. State Chairman Barnes read the platform, which was made public last night and which endorsed President Taft. One plank of the Sherman anti-trust law was not made public until today. It reads:

"We believe in adequate laws to prevent monopoly in trade. We favor the retention of the Sherman anti-trust act; but that it should be supplemented by further legislation to give the same certainty to the law controlling combinations and monopolies that characterize other provisions of our commercial law, to the end that the field of business opportunity shall not be restricted by monopoly or combination; that business success be honestly achieved, may not be converted into crime, and that the right of all men to acquire any commodity, and particularly the necessities of life in an open market, uninfluenced by the manipulation of trusts or combinations, may be preserved.

"There should be provision for an administrative board for the better enforcement of the law against monopoly. There should be further legislation to define as criminal offenses specific acts which mark attempts to restrain and monopolize the trade; so that those who honestly intend to obey the law may have a guide for action and those who violate the law may more surely be punished."

The endorsement of President Taft brought general applause. Senator Root then seconded the resolution in a speech in which he confined himself to a single subject of the platform—the interference with the independence of the judiciary.

"We can change the tariff laws on questions of general public moment," he said, "but the eternal principles of justice can never be changed without degradation of the people."

ANTHRACITE STRIKE SOON TO BE SETTLED

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—Prospects of an early resumption of anthracite mining grew brighter today, after the miners and the operatives decided to talk over their differences.

When the negotiations broke off on March 25 were resumed here this afternoon, George F. Baer, president of the Reading Company, proposed, on behalf of the operators, to arbitrate their differences—that is, to let the anthracite strike commission, which settled the strike of 1902, investigate present conditions and decide whether and modification of the commission's award is necessary at this time.

In the discussion that followed the miners practically threw this offer aside and the conference agreed fully to appoint subcommittees to take up the demands of the miners, with the power to make recommendations for adjustments.

LLOYD WILLIAMS STRANGELY GONE

he said he intended to fish. He was dressed in clothing usually worn by him when on a fishing or hunting trip.

The morning of the day Mr. Williams disappeared he, his wife and their two little boys, fished in the Clackamas River near Oregon City. They returned to their home about noon, and after lunch, Mr. Williams bade his wife and children an affectionate goodbye. He hurried from his home declaring that he wished to board the 3 o'clock interurban car for the Golf Links in order to transfer to the next Estacada car. Upon reaching Main street he entered a drug store and waited there until the car for the Golf Links arrived. So far as is known he has not been seen by anyone who knew him since. The conductors of the various interurban cars have been questioned but not one remembers seeing him on a car, and, of course, do not know whether he made the transfer at the Golf Links as he had planned.

Mr. Williams is one of the best known and most popular young men in Clackamas County. His father, Eli Williams, was a pioneer and lived in Estacada for many years. He subsequently moved to Oregon City and was the County Assessor for two terms. The son was educated here, and several years ago he became a deputy in the County Recorder's office. He was elected recorder two years ago, and has made a capable official.

The day before his disappearance Mr. Williams filed his petition as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Recorder and informed his friends that he expected to be re-elected. He had only one opponent for the nomination and so convinced were the Democrats that he would be elected there was no candidate for the Democratic nomination. The fact that he was so confident of his re-election, in connection with his fondness for his family and his freedom from trouble of any kind, is considered strong argument in favor of the theory that he has been drowned or slain. His friends scout the idea that he has deserted his family because of his intense interest in his wife and children.

Besides being an Elk, Mr. Williams is a Mason, a Knight of Pythias, and is a member of several other organizations. He is a member of the Commercial Club, and always took a deep interest in the welfare of the city and county.
