About one o'clock last Sunday afternoon fire was discovered in the residence occupied by S. A. Thomas and family. An alarm was given and in a few very moments a number of good willing workers were on the scene, who saved the greater part of the household goods. The greatest loss is in the rule in the children's toys, books and some of their childhood days that have been treasured by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. The building, which belonged to Mr. Tripp, of Brownville, was totally destroyed. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas feel very grateful to those who so willingly rendered assistance and made it possible for them to save as much as they did.

It is to be hoped the school proposition will be carried out as voted by the people at the time Mr. Streib made a motion to leave it in the hands of the directors to select a suitable site centrally located. Mr. Fish, Mr. Graale and Mrs. Reid are directors of experience and are not selfish in their ideas, of course those who desire to pull everything to the northern extremity of our little city are disposed to create a dissatisfaction as to the Schneider property selected by the board, but anyone who is familiar with the location used to remove the central location to the present one to satisfy their own selfish interest understand fully this reason for opposing the sight selected by our erstwhile competent board of directors. The people are getting wise as the December election will show.

John R. Townley, our efficient carrier on Route One, is contemplating a trip east to Lafayette, Virginia; rumor says he has started to build a home of his own on the Heights, and the average person can guess the rest. Methinks I hear the sound of wedding bells.

Liss, Assistant in Agricultural Education, United States Department of Agriculture, made a fine impression in an address in the Commercial Club Monday night.
