(OREGON CITY PUBLICITY)

The above picture shows a part of the Grand Automobile parade on Oregon City's Big Booster Day, held on the 27th of April, of this year. This is the one BIG day of the year in Oregon City and this year the day was a grander success than ever before. The people of Clackamas County like fun and they can well afford to have a big day occasionally, as they live in a prosperous county. So the farmers for miles around Oregon City came in and filled the town so full of people that no one could see the streets, but everyone was happy. The horse show was held in the morning and it was the unanimous opinion of the thousands that saw the horses that they were the finest they ever saw. One class in particular was great. This class certainly puzzled the judge, Professor E. L. Potter of the Oregon Agricultural College, there being nineteen big draft teams lined up for comparison, none of these weighed less than 2800 pounds and some of the individual horses weighed 1900 pounds. The Oregon Engineering & Construction Co., of Oregon City, had four fine teams entered that would make any horseman's heart glad to have the privilege of seeing them. The horse parade was a mile long, and when those beautiful steeds came prancing down the streets to the ragtime of the numerous bands, no one would have thought that horses were becoming unpopular on account of the motor wagons. The automobile parade was in the afternoon and was certainly a revelation to the thousands of on-lookers on the sidewalks. Handsomely decorated cars, floats, automobile bands and all manner of motor vehicles passed the grandstand for more than an hour. The music, the attractions and red lemonade kept everyone in good humor all day. Plans are now being made for the big event for next year and no doubt there will not be a single person who attended this year but what will come again. This is another notch in the long stick of successes of the Oregon City Commercial Club.

The year's work of each pupil was shown by tacking their composition books on the wall so that they could be examined and compared by all who felt interested enough to do so, giving the parents a good idea of what their children have been doing during the term. Tears were in the eyes of many of the pupils and the teachers when the parting time came, showing there was much affection on both sides. RICH MINER'S WIFE SEEKING ALIMONY

MRS. MINNIE TAYLOR ASKS $2,500 MONTHLY AND $5,000 LAWYER'S FEES

MOTION IS TO BE ARGUED FRIDAY

Plaintiff Avers That Defendant is Worth More Than Million Dollars—Suit Pending in California

Mrs. Minnie Taylor, wife of Charles Davenport Taylor, millionaire mine owner, through her attorneys Tuesday made a motion for $2,500 monthly alimony, counsel fees and court costs during the pendency of the suit instituted by her husband for the annulment of their marriage. Notice was served on Brownell & Stone, attorneys for the plaintiff, that the motion would be argued at 10 o'clock next Friday morning. The defendant will further ask that the plaintiff be required to deposit $7,000 with the county clerk to pay the costs of the litigation. She also will ask that the monthly alimony be deposited with the clerk.

About a year ago an order was issued annulling the marriage, but Mrs. Taylor subsequently asserted that she had not been served with the summons, although it was published in a paper sent to her address, and Judge Eakin reopened the case. An appeal was taken but the Supreme Court sustained the ruling of the lower court, and the case now will be tried on its merits. The defendant in an affidavit accompanying the motion alleges that her husband is worth more than $1,000,000, and that after their marriage he sold a mine in Nevada for $1,200,000. She further avers that when they lived together her living expenses were about $3,000 a month, and that $2,500 monthly is necessary for her to live in the style she lived then. She avers that the witnesses to refute the charges made against her by her husband will have to be brought a long distance, and that from $200 to $300 will be necessary to pay the expenses of each of them. She also asks $2,000 counsel fees. Mrs. Taylor alleges that she began to feel support in California, in which she asked $2,500 monthly alimony, but the plaintiff transferred all his property in that state to defeat the judgment. She declares that she is wholly without means of support, and as a result of worry is ill and under the care of a physician. Affidavits also were filed by R. Y. Williams, a lawyer of California, who represented the plaintiff when election proceedings were issued against her to oust her from the home in which she and her husband had lived at Santa Ana, Cal. She avers the property was turned over to Russell T. Joy and later to Edith Warburton Joy. A. J. Crookshank was appointed receiver of the property which is still in litigation.
