When the Kaiser was freed. They tell a story in Berlin about the Kaiser when he became a grandfather. He was in the yacht Hohenzollern off Sorway at the time and only heard the news indirectly. Angry at not receiving a wire from home, he went ashore and there found a big pile of telegrams conveying congratulations.

The first one opened was from the betrothed sultan of Turkey, Abdul Hamid, and he immediately wired to his heir apparent, "I learn from the sultan that your wife has had a son."

The Constinations. It would seem that the ancients, who are responsible for the beneficent names the constinations are burdened with, went far afield in their efforts. While the marvelous beauty of these jewels of sidereal space is apparent to all, it is difficult to find appropriate reasons for such monstrous names as the Dragon, Scorpio the Great Bear, the Great Lion and the Fishes.

BEWARE OF THE TELEPHONE.

Listeners at Other End Hear More Than Speakers Realize.

Not every woman realizes how careful she should be when talking near a telephone in operation. The listener at the other end hears more than the voice of the speaker at the mouthpiece. If one is hastily drying her request she may hear not only the civil words into which the person telephoning translates the denials; she may hear the original words too.

One day a girl having the loan of a motorcar for the afternoon joyfully telephoned to ask if the invalid member of a friend's family would enjoy a spin. As she waited receiver to her ear, she distinctly caught these words in the rate tone of the invalid:

"Who is it—Jane?"

Followed her own name.

"Oh, bother take her!" greeted her astonished ears, as did an ungracious "Well, what do you want?" The tone of the person at the telephone changed suddenly, however, when the tempo of the message was understood, and though the invalid could not go, her representative actually forced herself on the girl in the former's place.

"Why did you take her?" demanded the owner of the car after listening to the recital.

"I did it to have a chance to warn her of the danger of talking near a telephone," replied the girl, "but she was so happy that I didn't like to spoil her enjoyment."

Pictureque Neckwear. This new collar is very picturesque. It reaches to the base of the hair at the back and opens in a deep V in front.

A frill of plaited lace falls away from the front opening, which effect softens the rather severe line of the collar.

Washing Woolen Scarfs. It is an easy matter to cleanse at home white woolen scarfs and shawls. Prepare sponges by boiling pure white soap in rainwater. Soak the article first in warm, clear water. Dig it in the sponges and gently knead with the hands until it appears clean.

Press between the hands without wringing. Wash through fresh soap suds and place in cold water.

Rinse through several waters and dry it between cloths.

Never hang woolen articles upon the line. To stretch the full length upon a towel and cover with another absorb the water without stretching the article out of shape.

Cleaning Carpets. A simple method of cleaning carpets is to get a box of carpet soap and wash a small piece of carpet with lukewarm water. Then rub the way of the grain with the soap, again moisten grain and rub thoroughly. Rinse with a dry cloth. The colors of the carpet will be almost as good as new.

Maryland's New State Librarian. Miss Nellie Webster Dorsey has been appointed by Governor Goodenough to the office of state librarian of Maryland. She is the first woman to be appointed to the office.

Unwitting Police. Civilian policemen were the only ones possessed by Glasgow at one time. In the eighteenth century, according to H. G. Graham, "the whole safety and order of Glasgow were intrusted to the unpaid and reluctant burghers. Every citizen who was between the years of eighteen and sixty and paid a yearly rent amounting to £3 had to take his turn at guarding the city. On touch of drum the gentlemen was at his post by 10 at night and strolled with weary tread and yawning gait along the Trognate and High street and up the pitch dark lanes of winter nights till 4 in the morning. After that hour the city was without a police."

Little Acts. As daylight can be seen through very small holes, so little things will illustrate a person's character. Indeed, character consists in little acts well and honorably performed, daily life being the quarry from which we build it up and round hew the habits which form it.

Woman's World

Appointment of Miss Lathrop Gladens Uolift Leader.

MISS JULIA LATHROP

Women of the nation who are interested in the improvement of conditions under which children and women labor are unanimous in their approval of President Taft's selection of Miss Julia Lathrop of Chicago as the head of the recently created child bureau of the department of commerce and labor.

The Rev. Anna H. Shaw of New York says:

"The appointment by President Taft of Miss Lathrop is highly gratifying to all women who are working in the cause of greater justice, the final purpose of which is to bring to bear upon social problems, and especially those affecting the child and the home, the special gifts and experience of women in appointing in this office one so extraordinarily well fitted by temperament and training for its peculiar duties."

President Taft once earned the distinction of a "sissy" remark of the restrictions that now shut them out from full participation in all the duties of citizenship.

Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis, president of the general Federation of Women's Clubs, says:

"President Taft is to be congratulated on his appointment of Miss Lathrop. This woman by education, training and experience, is the right woman to the right place. With man or woman at the head the bureau deserves the best qualified person that could be found and we believe the best has been obtained. We extend our approval and congratulations."

Mrs. John Miller Horton of Buffalo, vice president of the U. A. K., says:

"The appointment by President Taft of Miss Julia Lathrop is most gratifying to all of the many women and men of the nation who are interested in the welfare of the children. I am deeply interested in the work and with all others personally approve of the wise selection by President Taft."

Mrs. Margaret Lee Mills, secretary of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union, says:

"The appointment of Miss Lathrop is just right. We have been trying for years to bring about this legislation. We believe the greatest asset of the nation is the greatest asset of the nation. The appointment of Miss Julia Lathrop we herald with great satisfaction. Her service in philanthropic work in Chicago, under the leadership of Miss Jane Addams, is, we feel sure, a safe guarantee of her efficiency for this responsible position. We are glad President Taft is broad enough to recognize ability rather than sex."

Women at a Card Party. Kathleen Norris, the author of "Moth and Servant," in the first chapter of her new serial, "The Rich Mrs. Burgoyne," in the Woman's Home Companion, makes one of her characters say:

"Women are funny at a card party. It takes them an hour to settle down and how every one else looks and whether there happens to be a streak of dust under the piano, and then when the game is just well started a maid is ordering you in the elbow to take a plate of hot chicken and another on the other side is holding out sandwiches, and all the women are running to look at the prizes. Now, when men play cards—"

Hot nobody would listen to an account of our own play cards.

Then rub the way of the grain with the soap, again moisten grain and rub thoroughly. Rinse with a dry cloth. The colors of the carpet will be almost as good as new.

HITTING ALONE WON'T WIN FLAG

Heavy Batting Will Not Capture Pennants in Big Leagues.

LOOK AT BOSTON LAST YEAR.

Braves Were Second Best in Stick Work, but Finished Eighth—Good Pitching and Defensive Work Necessary in Order to Win the Gonnaion.

By TOMMY CLARK.

Several critics have come forth recently with the statement that a ball club able to wallop, whale or massage the pill will always be a factor in the fight—that batting is over 50 per cent of the battle. Not yet. The Boston Nationals last season outdid Pittsburgh, Chicago or Philadelphia, ranking second in the league. The same club stole more bases than Philadelphia or Pittsburgh, and scored more runs than Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis or Brooklyn.

But as a vital factor in the race Boston's percentage was .281 against .427 for the club next above.

Boston was last in club fielding, with the poorest pitching staff in the circuit. It means just as much to prevent the other squad from amassing runs as it does to gather in the precious tallies on your own book. As between the two, furnish us with a weak hitting club that has a set of high grade slammers against a hard hitting club minus the right pitching. A poor batting club can hit poor pitching, but the best hitting club in the business has its troubles when Walsh, Johnson, Marquard, Rucker or Bender walks to the crest of the mound and begins firing. Weak hitting ball clubs have won more pennants than one, but no one has seen a baseball club reach the top and stick with a set of second division slammers.

A man forty-one years old, who has been near death three times from consumption of the brain and who shouds, dizziness, whistles and pulls grass on the coaching line, is a wonder.

You guessed him—Hutchy Jennings. It isn't much for a man who has youth and health to show ginger on the ball field. Jennings outdiggers all the young players and the old ones too.

Jennings' path of misfortune began when one of Amos Rusie's fast curves hit him on the head and sent him to a sanitarium for a month with concussion of the brain.

Union Stock Yards, Portland, June 8. (Special.)—The week in the livestock market closes with cattle steady to strong, hogs holding in a steady way at the quotations of the past few days, and mutton generally easy at prices fully a quarter under those prevailing at the opening. The easing of the mutton market was brought about mainly by the unduly heavy offerings during the week of poor to medium grade stock. There was nothing surprising, however, in the latest developments in the sheep market, for the trade always looks for a heavy movement of off-grade mutton stuff at this time of the year.

Cattle values at the finish were about a quarter above those ruling the first of the week. Best grade steers have within the past few days sold at $7.50 and prime cows at $6.50 and for the best in the two lines these figures were believed to be obtainable today. There was no trade today, however, in beef or in any other line, practically all the stock unloaded at the yards being contract deliveries.

Prevalving Oregon City prices are as follows: DRIED FRUITS—(Buying)—Prunes on basis of 6 to 8 cents.

How Caviar is Cured.

The finest caviar is the sturgeon prepared from the roe of the white sturgeon. Little less fine is the serving prepared from the sturgeon, Russia. According to our consul at Odessa, the roe is rubbed through a sieve with care not to break the grain. It falls into brine, where it remains for three or four hours, after which it is packed in sacks and allowed to drain. This is the only preparation given to the best caviar. The cheaper varieties are more strongly salted. Caviar is digested with each and is one of the finest forms of nourishment, especially for the sick.

Where Romance Failed.

"I saw a curious item about that famous author of fairy tales, who died a few days ago."

"Yes; I saw that he was dead—a man of extraordinary powers of invention."

"What was the item?"

"Why, it stated that when he happened to be out late with the boys he would go home and stammer and falter and get confused and mixed up and end by telling his wife the whole story just as it happened!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

EUROPEAN BUYERS SEEK OREGON HOPS

Developments of the past 24 hours in the hop trade would indicate that the chief reason that leading selling interests of Europe are visiting the Pacific coast at this time is to cover their reported short sales at low prices.

Upon the visit of the foreigners here various growers, large and small were called to the office of a broker connected with the outside buyers and were introduced to the interests with the hope that contracts could be secured immediately.

So far as known but few growers took the bait, the majority of them holding the game and are therefore holding out for better prices than 25c a pound.

Just how short the English trade is on the 1912 crop of hops none but the sellers themselves can say positively, but it is generally understood among local interests that the selling has been severe and that the sellers have become scared and the present visit to the Pacific coast to induce growers to let go was the result.

The fact that better prices for the 1912 crop are being offered California growers than here is an indication that the bear forces are better organized here and feel that they can make the growers sell at whatever price they are willing to offer.
